BODY OF AN INFANT

Found Between Mattresses in a House in Elm Street

The police this morning issued a warrant for the arrest of Maria Lima, aged 25 years, of 50 Elm street, it being alleged that she concealed the birth of a child. As soon as the woman's condition warrants she will be placed under arrest and after the police have made a careful investigation a more serious charge may be preferred against her.

The warrant was issued as a result of the police finding the body of an infant between two mattresses in the bed in the room occupied by the woman in Elm street.

People residing in the house knowing the woman's delicate condition notified a physician and the latter after making an investigation became suspicious and notified the police. When the police reached the house yesterday a search resulted in the finding of the body.

By Knights of Columbus --- Parade, Banquet and Speeches

Columbus Day was given its first general formal observance in Lowell yesterday, and if its successors come up to the standard set by the initial celebration there can be no adverse criticism, for no big affair ever went off more smoothly nor gave more general satisfaction. It was a holiday in fact, for the mills and stores of the city entered into the spirit of the occasion and suspended business while many decorated their places of business, and all classes entered heartily into the celebration. In the parade were to be seen no less than seven nationalities while many more than that number were represented in the grand chorus of 1000 school children which sang patriotic airs from the steps of City Hall at the conclusion of the parade. It is estimated that there were fully 3000 men in line.

The celebration opened with religious services even as history tells us the first act of Columbus and his men upon landing on these shores was to fall on their knees and thank the Almighty who had guided them over the pathless deep. Then followed the general civic celebration in which all Americans participated, while in the evening the day was closed by the organization that takes its name from the great discoverer with a grand banquet at which his fame was extolled in song and eloquence.

Nature smiled on the celebration while the autumn winds were tempered to the marching bodies, and a more desirable day could not be selected. The city took on a holiday appearance from early morning until late at night with thousands on the streets in gala attire and on pleasure bent. It was a great and memorable first observance of Columbus Day.

The Parade

A more favorable day for an outdoor celebration never gladdened the heart of enthusiastic mankind and hence the appearance of nearly 3000 young and old in the big parade of the day. While the Knights and Holy Name societies were in attendance at mass the other marching bodies assembled in the vicinity of the South common preparatory to starting in the parade. Meanwhile thousands lined the streets to witness the pageant. The crowd at city hall, where the school children's demonstration took place after the review of the parade was particularly dense, but the police report that throughout the city they never experienced an easier crowd to handle. The street railroad cleared the route of parade of street cars and hence everything went off without a hitch.

Shortly after 10 o'clock all was in readiness and at the sound of the fire bell, Chief Marshal Thomas J. Delaney started the parade on its way, over the following route: Gorham street thence to Central, to Merrimack, to Bridge, countermarch at West Sixth, to Merrimack, to Moody, to Allen, to Merrimack, where the paraders were reviewed at city hall steps by Mayor

John F. Meehan and the members of the city government. At the junction of Moody and Merrimack streets the chief marshal and his staff lined up and reviewed the participants and then the line was dismissed.

The different marching bodies presented a fine appearance and received the plaudits of appreciative on-lookers all along the line. St. Peter's Holy Name society, headed by its zealous spiritual director, Rev. John J. Burns, presented the largest number, pagant. The crowd at city hall, where the school children's demonstration took place after the review of the parade was particularly dense, but the police report that throughout the city they never experienced an easier crowd to handle. The street railroad cleared the route of parade of street cars and hence everything went off without a hitch.

GREAT MASSACRE

MANY FAMILIES WIPED OUT IN MANCHU, CHINA

HANKOW, Oct. 13.—This city was a scene of desolation today. All night long incendiary fires burned throughout the native quarters and it was a night of terror for the populace. There was a massacre of Manchu families which left large numbers of dead and to add to the danger all the prisons were opened and the inmates released to wander about the town. The revolutionary organization is making every effort to restore order and it is announced that rioters, wherever caught would be severely dealt with. The revolutionary army is strongly entrenched in Wu Chang and Han Yang, with guns mounted in commanding positions. Since the capture of the Han Yang arsenal there has been no solicitude regarding the supply of ammunition and the leaders declare confidently that they are in condition to cope with any opposition. Parties of government troops which are arriving here from time to time are met promptly by revolutionists who endeavor to persuade them to join the movement. If they refuse they are allowed to withdraw beyond the limits of the city.

The American consul general, Roger S. Greene, crossed the Yang Tse river to Wu Chang today, accompanied by the American gunboat Helena, the Associated Press correspondent and two Chinese interpreters. The party went unarmed and entered the gates of the city after they had been opened for a squad of rebel artillery to pass out. The party interviewed Colonel Li, the rebel commander, who treated them with every courtesy and assured them of their safety while in the city.

The consul general gathered up 44 foreigners who had not yet left the city, including Americans, Englishmen and Italians, and took them back to Hankow. The missionaries were accompanied by 200 of their Chinese proteges. The party was unmolested on its way through Wu Chang, being escorted by a squad of rebel troops.

This house was built by the late Mr. Wiggin for his own occupancy, and it was thoroughly built in every respect. There are 15 rooms in the house, those on the first floor consisting of parlor, sitting room, kitchen, dining room, two bedrooms, bathroom, pantry and small shed. There are eight sleeping rooms on the second floor, two finished rooms on the third floor, and a large unfinished attic. The front hall is large and roomy, with plenty of space necessary if purchaser desires to turn the property into a two apartment house. There are large bay windows on front and side extending through the two stories. The roof is slated and the entire building is provided with lightning rods. The house was painted on the outside a short time ago, and is in good condition in this respect. Blinds are in good condition, and the front part of the house, both up stairs and down is provided with inside shutters. The underpinning is of solid, upsplit granite, seldom used today in house foundation work because of the great expense. The lot is marked off from the street by granite bounds. There is a good sized side piazza with floor of hard wood.

The entire house is piped for gas, and a nearly new furnace in good condition. There are two marble fireplaces, one in parlor and the other in sitting room, and black walnut doors. In the kitchen are wash trays of the best material, and also a wash stand in addition to large sink. With the exception of a little paper and paint on the inside, the house is in perfect condition. The present owner says to sell, and sold it will be for the high dollar.

This property is well situated for a boarding or lodging house, or might be turned into a two apartment house and by extending the rear towards Franklin street on Willie street, a four apartment block with but slight additional expense.

Within a stone's throw are situated shoe shops and factories, foundries and other places of employment. It is nearly opposite the plant of the Whittall Mfg. Co., and Foster's shoe shop, where several hundred men and women are employed. There are 6000 square feet of land, more or less, and handsome shade trees line the street. Sixty per cent, or better can remain on mortgage. Purchaser must deposit or secure to the auctioneer $300 as soon as the property is struck off. The property must be seen to be appreciated. MILITARY AERO MEET

The military aero exhibition at Rockingham park yesterday afternoon gave 10,000 persons opportunity to see actual maneuvers by officers of the regular army assigned to aviation work by the war department, Capt. Paul W. Beck, Lieut. T. D. Milling and Lieut. H. H. Arnold made flights.

The day was agreeably warm, but a strong, westerly wind greatly bothered the birdmen, although it in no way detracted from the spectacular features.

Among the maneuvers were quick starting, soaring from the ground at sharp angles, skidding in the air, the back-swing glide, riding down an invisible roller coaster, cutting figure eights, gentle alighting and other stunts. On account of the wind no attempt was made for an altitude record. Lieut. Arnold made the greatest height, about 300 feet. He said that the wind was in layers. Sometimes his machine could barely make way against it and with the propellers whirling at top speed the biplane would advance no faster than a person walking.

Lieut. Arnold made test of accuracy in landing and stopped his machine within 18 feet of a mark. Lieut. Milling repeatedly turned his machine in a complete circle of a diameter of less than 100 yards. On his last flight Lieut. Arnold raced an auto owned and driven by Frederick S. Krag of Boston. The biplane easily defeated the 74-horsepower racing car, although the land vehicle was handicapped by the fact that the race course is covered by a heavy turf not designed for auto speeding.

The last event was the work of Capt. Beck in locating a detachment of troops made up of Co. 3, 8th Infantry, M. V. M., of Lawrence, Capt. Donovan, Co. F, 6th Infantry of Haverhill, Capt. Campbell and Battery C, 1st Battalion, of Lawrence, Lieut. Howe.

Capt. Beck, in looking for the soldiers, whom he found in the woods toward Salem village, made the longest flight of the day and showed what his high powered machine could do. Capt. Beck did not get his biplane ready to start until late in the afternoon and made only one flight. His two mechanics went by mistake last night from Haverhill to Salem, N. H., and he worked all day assembling the machine, aided by A. W. Devo and F. N. Ferraro, who have a monoplane at the park.

A large bulletin in which C. C. Bonnette was to make an ascent at 5 o'clock as the closing event was overthrown as it was nearly filled by a small gate and the ascent did not take place.

THE MITE BOXES WERE OPENED AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH LAST NIGHT

A banquet was held last night at St. Paul's church, and the guests were the 200 or more holders of mite boxes that were distributed by the men of the church about five months ago. The little banks served as tickets of admission, and were opened and their contents counted.

The committee in charge of the banquet was as follows: Charles C. Drew, W. D. Brown, W. W. Cleworth, V. H. Meister, and Walter Boynton. There were brief after-dinner speeches by the pastor, Rev. H. W. Hook, Dr. Wood of the Worthen Street church, and Rev. J. T. Carleton of the Central-ville church. The music was by an orchestra, consisting of Miss Katherine Glicker, piano; Mr. Peter Picken, flute, and Messrs. Harry Esley and

MILITARY AERO MEET

10,000 Persons Saw U. S. Army Officers at Work

The military aero exhibition at Rockingham park yesterday afternoon gave 10,000 persons opportunity to see actual maneuvers by officers of the war department, Capt. Paul W.

Beck, Lieut. T. D. Milling and Lieut. H. H. Arnold made flights. The day was agreeably warm, but a strong, unsteady wind greatly bothered the birdmen, although it in no way detracted from the spectacular features. Among the maneuvers were quick starting, soaring from the ground at sharp angles, skidding in the air, the cork-screw glide, riding down an invisible roller coaster, cutting figure eights, gentle alighting and other stunts. On account of the wind no attempt was made for an altitude record. Lieut. Arnold made the greatest height, about 600 feet. He said that the wind was in layers. Sometimes his machine could barely make way against it and with the propellers whirling at top speed the biplane would advance no faster than a person walking.

Lieut. Arnold made test of accuracy in landing and stopped his machine within 16 feet of a mark. Lieut. Milling repeatedly turned his machine in a complete circle of a diameter of less than 100 yards. On his last flight Lieut. Arnold raced an auto owned and driven by Frederick S. Krag of Boston. The biplane easily defeated the 44-horsepower racing car, although the land vehicle was handicapped by the fact that the race course is covered by a heavy turf not designed for auto speeding.

The last event was the work of Capt. Beck in locating a detachment of troops made up of Co. F, 9th Infantry, M. V. M., of Lawrence, Capt. Donovan, Co. F, 5th Infantry of Haverhill, Capt. Campbell and Battery C, 1st Battalion, of Lawrence, Lieut. Howe. Capt. Beck, in looking for the soldiers, whom he found in the woods toward Salem village, made the longest flight of the day and showed what his light powered machine could do. Capt. Beck did not get his biplane ready to start until late in the afternoon and made only one flight. His two mechanicians went by mistake last night from Hammondsport, N. Y., to Salem, Vt., instead of Salem, N. H., and he worked all day assembling the machine, aided by A. W. Dovel and F. N. Ferrone, who have a monoplane at the park.

A large balloon in which C. C. Bonnette was to make an ascent at 5 o'clock as the closing event was overthrown as it was nearly filled by a small gale and the ascent did not take place. An extra train of 15 cars came from Boston and an extra train from Manchester, while electric car traffic from Haverhill, Lowell, Lawrence and Nashua was so congested that it was late in the night before the people from those cities all reached home.

Frederick Rolfe, mandolin. Mr. Picken also sang a humorous selection and there was general singing of the popular patriotic songs.

GUILTY OF PERJURY

Young Man Sentenced to Jail for Ten Months

Arthur L. Murphy, a young man, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with forgery. Through his counsel he entered a plea of guilty. This is the first forgery case that has ever been tried in the local court, but recently the jurisdiction of police courts was enlarged and therefore

Judge Hadley disposed of the case instead of holding the defendant for the grand jury as has been the rule heretofore. Murphy was found guilty and a sentence of ten months in jail imposed. He will be given until Monday to consider if he desires to appeal and if he does not do so at that time the order of the court will be carried out.

The alleged forgery was committed last May and a warrant was sworn out on May 29 by Henry Englestein, who keeps a cleansing and tailoring shop at 33 Branch street. Murphy was in the employ of the tailor at the time, and when Fred C. Tedford, who owed Englestein $14.50, presented a check it is said that Murphy endorsed it and cashed it at the Lowell Trust Co.

The police were notified but Murphy had made good his escape. Yesterday the police of Worcester telephoned to Lowell that a man answering Murphy's description had been arrested in that city. Inspector McCaughy went to Worcester and returned with Murphy last night.

Stole a Watch

Fred C. Tedford's desire to own a

gold watch led him to commit a larceny which resulted in his being arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning, having been arrested in Lynn yesterday after he had pawned the watch which he stole in this city. The watch was the property of Russell Skidmore. Tedford pleaded guilty to the complaint and after the testimony had been heard the young man was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $15 and the costs of court.

Tedford and Skidmore were members of the Y. M. C. A., and last July went to the association rooms for the purpose of taking a shower bath. Skidmore disposed of and leaving his clothing in a bench entered the bath. When he finished the bath and donned his clothes he found that his gold watch and $5 in money were missing.

He reported the matter to the police but nothing was learned of the thief until the night before last when Tedford was arrested in Lynn after he had pawned the watch, his arrest having been brought about as a result of the lost watch card system which is used in several cities in this vicinity.

He admitted his guilt and yesterday Lieut. Maher went to Lynn and brought the young man back to Lowell.

Stole Cloth From Mill

Kyrle Gordon, a woman, through her counsel, Lawyer A. O. Hamel, entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging her with the larceny of 24 yards of cloth, the property of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. It is explained that the young woman came to this country from Greece about a year and a half ago and after securing employment in the Lawrence section of the Tremont & Suffolk she took the cloth and it has been hidden in a trunk in her room ever since. He asked the court to be as lenient as possible inasmuch as the defendant was not familiar with the ways in this country when she committed the larceny. The court found the defendant guilty and ordered her to pay a fine of $20 in three days or else go to jail.

Neglected His Wife

Denis A. Bloom pleaded guilty to having failed to provide support for his wife. He promised to do better in the future and on condition that he contribute $5 a week to his wife he was placed in the custody of the probation officer.

Stole Some Clothing

Arthur Johnson pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk and not guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of a sweater, coat and cap, the property of Louis Delore. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $15.

Delore belongs in Manchester, N. H., and came to this city last Monday in search of work. While passing through Middlesex street he visited several saloons in one of which he met Johnson. Delore proved to be a good spender and just to show his appreciation to his newly formed acquaintance Johnson took Delore to his room in Middlesex street. Delore was tired and lying on the bed went to sleep. When he awoke he found that his sweater, coat and hat were missing, as was Johnson. He reported the matter to the police and Lieut. Martin Maher succeeded in locating the sweater at a second hand clothing store in Middlesex street and subsequently arrested Johnson, but the latter said he had been drinking and did not know what he had done. All efforts to locate the coat and cap proved fruitless.

Drunken Offenders

Philip Drin, charged with being drunk, was sentenced to five months in jail. Alice Murtha was under a suspended sentence of five months in jail for being drunk, but she failed to abide by the provisions of her probation and was surrendered by Probation Officer Silvers and the suspension revoked. John D. O'Donnell was sentenced to three months in jail, James O'Neil and Thomas E. Clark were fined $5 each and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

LAWYER DISBARRED

ALFRED, Me., Oct. 13.—Ruggles Hughes, a Suffolk lawyer, was disbarred by a decree given by Judge Whitcomb in the supreme court today at the conclusion of a hearing on charges brought by the York Bar association.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 13.—With the close of the Ecumenical Methodist conference but four days away many delegates already are leaving the city.

Two subjects assigned for today's meeting are:

"The larger use of lay agencies" and "Woman's claim and responsibilities." The speakers include Prof. F. S. Atkins of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church on the "Laymen's movement," Norman Sargent of London, England, on "Laymen and home evangelization," Richard Lee of Wigan, England, on "The priesthood of the people," and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of London, England, on "Methodist and the woman's movement."

PLEASANT SURPRISE

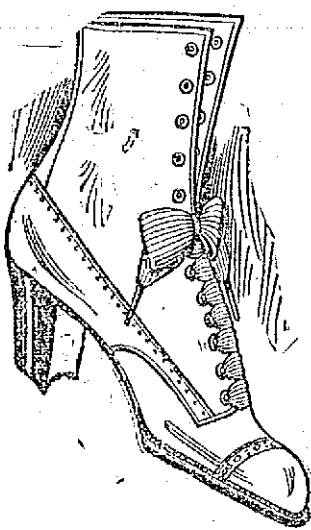

PRESENTATION OF A LOVING CUP TO MR. ALBION TAYLOR

Wednesday evening after the day's work at the Cook, Taylor & Co's dry goods stores on Merrimack and Central streets the clerks assembled at the Central street store, about sixty in number, for the purpose of presenting Mr. Albion Taylor with a loving cup. At the time Mr. Taylor was busy in his office on the second floor, and after all had arrived he was informed that he was wanted down stairs. Without any formal ceremony Mr. John McKinley, manager of the Merrimack street store, stepped forward and in behalf of all the clerks of both stores, including the cash boys, presented Mr. Taylor a beautiful mammoth sterling silver loving cup. Mr. McKinley said they wished at some time or other to get together and publicly express their appreciation of the many kindnesses received at Mr. Taylor's hands from time to time, and particularly to show their appreciation for the pleasant outings and beautiful sails down the harbor for the past several seasons given by Mr. Taylor who always assembled clerks that there were many, be found in any establishment. After inches high, on an ebony base and 14 there that she had known for years, a few remarks by other clerks, three inscribed "Presented to Albion Taylor, dating back almost to her son's childhood, were given for Mr. and Mrs. October 11, 1911, by the employees of the Merrimack and Central street stores." The loving cup is about eighteen inches high.

He explained that the young woman came to this country from Greece about a year and a half ago and after securing employment in the Lawrence section of the Tremont & Suffolk she took the cloth and it has been hidden in a trunk in her room ever since. He asked the court to be as lenient as possible inasmuch as the defendant was not familiar with the ways in this country when she committed the larceny. The court found the defendant guilty and ordered her to pay a fine of $20 in three days or else go to jail.

Neglected His Wife

Denis A. Bloom pleaded guilty to having failed to provide support for his wife. He promised to do better in the future and on condition that he contribute $8 a week to his wife he was placed in the custody of the probation officer.

Stole Some Clothing

Arthur Johnson pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk and not guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of a sweater, coat and cap, the property of Louis Delare. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $15.

Delare belongs in Manchester, N. H., and came to this city last Monday in search of work. While passing through Middlesex street he visited several saloons in one of which he met Johnson. Delare proved to be a good spender and just to show his appreciation to his newly formed acquaintance Johnson took Delare to his room in Middlesex street. Delare was tired and lying on the bed, went to sleep. When he awoke he found that his sweater, coat and hat were missing, as was Johnson. He reported the matter to the police and Lieut. Martin Maher succeeded in locating the sweater in a second hand clothing store in Middlesex street and subsequently arrested Johnson, but the latter said he had been drinking and did not know what he had done. All efforts to locate the coat and cap proved fruitless.

Drunken Offenders

Philip Drin, charged with being drunk, was sentenced to five months in jail. Alice Murtha was under a suspended sentence of five months in jail for being drunk, but she failed to abide by the provisions of her probation and was surrendered by Probation Officer Stattery and the suspension revoked.

John O. O'Donnell was sentenced to three months in jail, James O'Neill and Thomas E. Clark were fined $6 each and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

LAWYER DISBARRED

ALFRED, No. Oct. 13.—Ruggies Higgins, a Sandford lawyer, was disbarred by a decree given by Judge Whitehouse in the supreme court today at the conclusion of a hearing on charges brought by the York Bar association.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 13.—With the close of the Ecumenical Methodist conference but four days away many delegates already are leaving the city.

Two subjects assigned for today's meeting are:

"The larger use of lay agencies" and "Woman's claim and responsibilities." The speakers include Prof. F. S. Atkins of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church on the "Laymen's movement"; Norman Sargent of London, England, on "Laymen and home evangelization"; Richard Lee of Wigan, England, on "The priesthood of the people"; and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of London, England, on "Methodist and the woman's movement."

PLEASANT SURPRISE

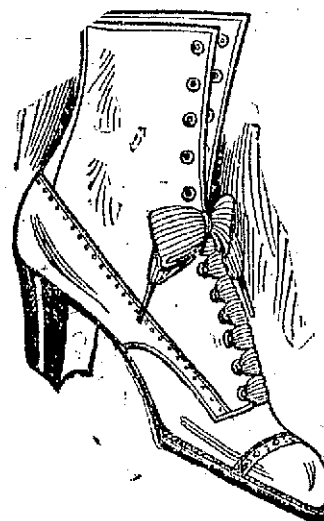

PRESENTATION OF A LOVING CUP TO MR. ALBION TAYLOR

Wednesday evening after the day's work at the Cook, Taylor & Co.'s dry goods stores on Merrimack and Central streets the clerks assembled at the Central street store, about sixty in number, for the purpose of presenting Mr. Albion Taylor with a loving cup. At the time Mr. Taylor was busy in his office on the second floor, and after all had arrived he was informed that he was wanted down stairs. Without any formal ceremony Mr. John McKelvey, manager of the Merrimack street store, stepped forward and in behalf of all the clerks of both stores, including the cash boys, presented Mr. Taylor a beautiful mammoth sterling silver loving cup. Mr. McKelvey said they wished at some time or other to get together and publicly express their appreciation of the many kindnesses received at Mr. Taylor's hands; from time to time, and particularly to show their appreciation for the pleasant outings and beautiful sails down the harbor for the past several seasons given by Mr. Taylor who always assembled clerks that there were many there that she had known for years, dating back almost to her son's childhood, and among them she felt that no more trustworthy or loyal clerks could be found in any establishment. After inches high, on an ebony base and is a few remarks by other clerks, three inscribed "Presented to Albion Taylor, October 11, 1911, by the employees of the Merrimack and Central street stores."

LOWELL HIGH'S GAME

Rindge School Defeated by Score of 12 to 0

The Lowell High school football team defeated Rindge Technical school of Cambridge yesterday by a score of 12 to 0 before a crowd of about 700 football enthusiasts. The spectators were well satisfied with the exhibition put up by the local eleven and those who have witnessed the different games so far this season noticed the players are improving in each succeeding contest. Lowell was exceptionally strong in the back field, though in fact each member of the team did his share of the work and the combined team work was responsible for the victory. The Rindge players put up a good game but their work was less effective at critical stages than that of Lowell.

The touchdowns both came from forward passes. Carter on a play to the left of the field ran up to Capt. Leggat as though he was a substitute reporting and the captain carried out the bluff and waved to him as if he was sending him out. Carter ran away to the left of the field whereupon Leggat signalled for the ball to be tossed. The ball was thrown to Carter who ran 50 yards before he was tackled. A few minutes later Lowell fooled Rindge again, faking a line plunge and Leg-

THE RUSSIAN NOTE

Says Cargoes of Corn Cannot be Seized

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—The text of the Russian note to Turkey regarding the free export of Russian corn was made public today. In reply to a verbal remonstrance Turkey had said that she intended to act according to the declaration of London of 1909. As this was considered unsatisfactory to Russia this government presented a written demand, wherein it was pointed out that Russia, basing her position upon the declaration of Paris of 1856 and articles 24 and 33 of the declaration of London considered that cargoes of corn were subject neither to arrest nor confiscation when addressed to Russian ports in the Black sea or to Italian ports so long as the cargoes were not destined for the Italian field forces or Italian consignees.

Articles 24 of the declaration of London describes articles including foodstuffs and grain which may be treated as contraband of war. Article 33 explains "conditional contraband" as articles liable to capture if shown to be destined to be used for the purpose of a war in progress. Article 34 sets forth that the destination referred to in the preceding article is presumed to exist if the shipments are consigned to an enemy or the contractor of an enemy but where the conditions do not arise the destination is presumed to be innocent.

GIVES HIMSELF UP

Man Held in Connection With Girl's Death

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—Samuel A. Morrison, 24, residing at 24 Salem street, Reading, was arrested early yesterday morning by Patrolman Robert Powers of the Reading police force in connection with the death of Edna M. Bancroft of 15 Linden street, Reading, who expired in the office of Dr. Catherine W. Castle at 43 Florence street, Malden, Tuesday evening.

According to the police blotter at Malden, Morrison was booked on exactly the same charge that hangs over Dr. Castle, which alleges that he attempted an operation of an illegal nature, thereby causing the death of the young woman.

According to the police, Morrison met Patrolman Powers in Reading, discussed the Bancroft case and said if the police wanted him he would give himself up. He was taken to the station and the Malden police were notified. Lieut. Powers and Sergt. Gray brought the man to Malden, where he was booked up. Bail was set at $3000.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

During the six months' run at the New York theatre and the Manhattan Opera house, New York, the new comic opera entitled "Naughty Marietta," which will be seen at the Opera house tomorrow, matinee and night, was noted for its artistic scenery, beautiful light effects and appropriate costumes. The locale of the opera is New Orleans in the year 1789 and the warmth and coloring of the southern atmosphere pervade the music and story.

The score by Victor Herbert is considered to be the most masterful and pretentious of his many former compositions. Rida Johnson Young, who wrote the book, is said to have taken advantage of the different nationalities which thronged New Orleans in Colonial times, and has evolved a story of romance and adventure that is replete with interesting and numerous episodes.

The case includes such well known artists as Miss Carrie R. Sopinsky, Miss Blanche Latell, Miss Cleo Gascogne, Miss Florence Weber, Mr. Garlick Major, Mr. John Carlo, Mr. Sid Brahm, Mr. Warren B. Lombard, Mr. George Scott, and others.

A special orchestra assembled from the Manhattan Opera house is said to bring out the beauty of the score with fidelity and precision.

RAINEY-FOLLETT PICTURES

A most delightful, novel and instructive entertainment will be seen at the Opera House on Sunday night, Oct. 15, "The Life-like motion pictures taken by Paul J. Rainey, the famous sportsman and explorer, will be presented by Richard E. Follett, Mr. Rainey's companion in travel during his exploration of the Arctic regions. Every man, woman and child who has heard of this unknown portion of the earth, will have an opportunity of sitting in a comfortable seat in a cosy theatre and seeing a land that men have lost their lives in exploring, fighting battles with ferocious animals and sea-monsters, and spending millions of dollars to obtain information so that their fellow beings might profit.

"THE SPENDTHRIFT"

"The Spendthrift," which comes here next week is a play worth seeing, and one worth thinking about. It has a cogent lesson and paints a vital picture of the domestic tragedies which have made Reno a by-word and marriage a contract broken at convenience. It has a drama intense in situation and its whole is a vivid moral, well blown by vigorous action, but its atmosphere is boiled down to a snappy, concise and clever form. The characters are splendidly drawn and the development of the plot, a wasted life caused by the extravagance of an unthinking wife, has been carried out in a vivid and true-to-life manner.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

Manager Stevens since opening Keith's theatre has been making a close study of theatrical conditions in Lowell with a view to meeting them and making Keith's the most popular playhouse of its kind north of Boston. He now announces a change in prices to go into effect next week which undoubtedly will be appreciated by the public. The capacity of the 25 cent seats on the main floor will increase admitting of many more seats at that price to the orchestra. At all matinees the balcony will be 10 cents to ladies and children. At the Sunday concert, the second balcony henceforth will be five cents only, while the 10 and 20 cent seats on balcony and floor will be reserved and may be ordered in advance by telephone. The offering by Our Stock company is considered the very best play presented by Kendall Weston and his assistants. Billy Ray, the musical chink, plays several

OPEN EVENINGS

ELOQUENT SERMON

By Rev. Fr. Quinn, O. M. I., to the
K. of C. and Holy Name

The celebration of Columbus day in this city opened with services at St. Peter's church which undoubtedly were among the most impressive ever held in that church. The Knights of Columbus and Holy Name societies marched from Monument square to the church where seats were reserved for them. The large edifice was packed to the doors. Solemn high mass was sung at 8.45 by Rev. W. George Mullin, chaplain of Lowell, assisted by Rev. Francis J. Mullin of St. Michael's church, deacon Rev. James McElmerritt, O. M. I., sub-deacon, and Rev. Owen McGuire, O. M. I., master of ceremonies. Within the sanctuary were Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher and Rev. John D. Flynn, O. M. I.

The responses of the mass were given by the sanctuary choir under the direction of Rev. Fr. Burns, and the regular church choir, directed by Mr. James E. Donnelly, sang Turner's St. Cecilia's mass. Mrs. J. W. McKeeney was organist.

The solos of the mass were sung by Miss May E. Whiteley, Miss Keleher and Mr. Donnelly.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. James Quinn, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Texas, formerly of Lowell, an impressive pulpit orator who delivered a fervidly eloquent sermon appropriate to the day. The abbreviated report below, necessitated by lack of space, hardly does justice to Fr. Quinn's masterly effort.

Rev. Fr. Quinn's Sermon
Dearly Beloved Brethren:
Why is this holiday? What means this holiday? The "Household of the Faith" hath come forth in battle array. Wherefore? To honor the discoverer of America—and today from the pine forests of Maine to the golden sands of California—from the realm of His Majesty's Dominion of Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and the Rio Grande the illustrious name of Christopher Columbus, intrepid discoverer of America and "good soldier of Jesus Christ," is revered and honored. Fifty thousand men are marching through the streets of Boston today recognizing Almighty God as their commander-in-chief, fifty thousand good soldiers of Jesus Christ. Lowell also hath her imperial guard and her legion of honor and I congratulate you, members of the Holy Name society and Knights of Columbus for this magnificent display of loyalty to the King of Kings, Christ, Jesus, the Lord.

You are come forth in battle array, clothed with the armor of God—loins girt about with truth, having on the breastplate of justice, feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace—your shield the shield of faith, your helmet the helmet of salvation—your sword the sword of the spirit which is the word of God. You are come forth to listen to the duly accredited ambassador of the God of Battles and His first messenger to you is: "The battle is now on—waging fast, fierce and furious and what your commander-in-chief stands for you must stand for or prove traitor to your God." Mark you well, Dearly Beloved Brethren—"Our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against principalities and powers, against the rulers of the world of darkness, against the spirits of wickedness in high places."

The age of knighthood has returned and it is now in flower once more. Let us listen to what the illustrious Burke says of knighthood. Burke describes chivalry as:

"The unbought grace of life, the cheap defense of nations, the nurse of manly sentiment and heroic enterprise."

Burke characterized knighthood as that sensibility of principle, that chastity of honor which felt a stain like a wound, which inspired courage while it mitigated ferocity; which ennobled whatever it touched and under which vice itself lost half its evil by losing all its grossness."

In the ceremony of knighthood is strikingly illustrated the duty of the hour. Before knighthood was conferred the candidate was obliged to make a vow to defend religion. It was the first vow and included all the minor ones, for the man who keeps the commandments of God is a great defender of the faith. Knighthood was then conferred by these words, "In the name of God, of Saint Michael and Saint George, I dub thee knight. Be brave, bold and loyal."

Loyalty must be the dominant note in the life of every good soldier: loyalty to self, loyalty to country, loyalty to God and his church.

"First to thine own self be true and it follows as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man." To be loyal to oneself one must win the great battle of life, self-conquest. Alexander went for another world to conquer. He forgot that there was a little hellish world within him which he did not conquer and the result was at the age of thirty-two he died from over-indulgence in the luxuries of life.

REV. W. GEORGE MULLIN,
Chaplain.

REV. JAMES H. QUINN, O. M. I.

"Be virtuous and you shall be free," spoke Plato to the people, but nowadays the world is free and you shall be virtuous. We cannot be true to self without being true to God. To be true to God means self-denial, mortification.

We must be loyal to our country. In the congress of nations today our country stands alone as the successful experiment of a government "by the people, of the people and for the people." For a century and a quarter our country has stood the test and has astonished the world. Manhood is recognized and the people rule.

Now virtue is the mainstay of a republic, not standing armies and immense navies. There is no virtue lasting and fruitful without religion. Therefore, to be loyal to our country, we must be religious. We must reverence authority and obey the law and as our church teaches, if needs be shed our blood in defence of the flag that protects us.

We must be loyal to our God and His church. The laws of the land take cognizance of our exterior actions only. But the laws of God reach the mind and heart. Here in the full sense of the term we must show ourselves the good soldier of Christ. We must stand for what God stands for if we wish our lives to spell honorable success. We hear much about the rights of man and justly so, but let us not forget the rights of God. In this age of strenuousness, frenzied finance, quiet results and pronounced commercialism, let us not forget there is one Almighty, and His name is God. Donby taught his son that money could procure everything. Donby lived and died and got very little out of life. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." Loyalty to the grand old Catholic church must be the dominant note in life. With the sword of the spirit which is the word of God she calls unto integration of the family, the family the unit of the state. She stands against the traffic in wives which is doing more harm than the selling of marriages in the temple in Utah.

When that lone traveler from New Zealand shall have finished his sketch of the ruins of St. Paul from that broken arch of London bridge he may come to Boston and from a seat on Bunker hill, sketch the ruins of Mrs. Todd's church and the grand old Catholic church which will still be in existence with undiminished vigor, because it is not of human origin but Divine, and the hand that preserves it from decay is the hand of Him who said: "I have conquered the world. The gates of hell shall not prevail against My church and I shall be with you all days, even unto the consummation of the world." It will be in a sense the survival of the fittest.

I am a Roman citizen, was the proud boast of those who lived where the yellow ether flows. We, as citizens of the greatest and best republic the sun has ever shone upon, are proud to say, "I am an American citizen." But there is a hand that is father than this; we are heirs to heaven, our home, our sweetest home beyond the sea, and we are brothers and followers of that King whose term of office never ends and we are proud to say, "I am a Christian and a Catholic." He is our King, our Saviour and Judge. He is the way, the truth and the life. In baptism we took the oath to be disciples of the faith. Christianity has sanctified us and we must be "bold, brave, and loyal."

The soldier is trained to service and loyalty, we, the soldiers of Christ, are trained to loyalty, loyalty to self, to country and to God. The Catholic school is the nursery of loyalty, the treasure-house of lofty ideals, the teacher of unselfishness that is ever ready to make any sacrifice for humanity, for country and God.

Let us then be loyal to self, to country and to God. Let us live for eternity and not for time. Let us remember that it is the things of the soul that bring true happiness in life. Let us remember that we are immortal, our souls made to the image and likeness of God. Let us remember that we are partakers of divine nature and temples of the Holy Ghost, the indwelling of the spirit, not only as an effect of the immensity of God, but also as a token of friendship. To be disloyal means to banish God from the soul and outthrust the world or the flesh or the devil and become what Christ calls a "rotten apple," a goodly apple, rotten at the core. The heathen exhausted themselves in the pursuit of the shadows of life, for you dearly beloved brethren, seek first the kingdom of God and his justice and all things shall be added unto you, and you will be crowned with eternal life.

Lowell, the city of magnificent churches! Lowell, the home of happiness and virtue! Your lives are, dearly beloved brethren, in pleasant places and today you do honor to your country, to your city, to your church and to your God. These magnificent churches which cap the hills of this fair city are monuments of your generosity and your saving faith. Your magnificent schools and academies speak volumes of your strenuous exertion as good soldiers of Christ. Remember that it is not the hand that holds the sceptre but the heart that breathes the prayer that rules the world. Remember that there are sweeter songs than those of trees and fountains—the songs of Zion. And there is a Teacher whose principles rest on the everlasting hills and whose heights overlook the eternal day. 'Tis the Master's voice crying out from all the watch towers of Israel: "Show to the world that you are My disciples, by loving one another."

The life of Columbus, Dear Knights of Columbus and Knights of the Holy Name, is a noble example for us all. The difficulties which beset his path here discouraged many a one. But his life was eloquent of the good, the beautiful and the true, of the ethical, the aesthetic and the scientific.

In a word, he labored to be a good soldier of Christ, and his life was a success, honorable and lasting.

Let us then—
In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
Be not like dumb driven cattle,
Be a hero in the strife.

Lives of great men all remind us,
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing, leave behind us,
Footprints on the sands of time.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound healthy condition and enriches the blood, nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, cloth-bound, sent for 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CLEAR COMPLEXION OF ALL AGE MARKS

Writing for the Denver Call, Mac Martyn says: "The woman who desires using face powder will find splendid relief from her complexion ills by using instead a lotion made by dissolving 4 ounces of spumax in 1/2-pint hot water, adding 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Use in cool weather, to make the lotion dry more quickly, use 1/2-pint witch hazel instead of the water."

"This simple, inexpensive lotion far surpasses face powder, as it gives lasting beauty to the skin. It stays on better and does not show on the skin like powder. For whitening and refining a coarse, muddy or sallow skin, this lotion is unequalled. It takes away that shiny look and makes the skin satiny and youthful looking. No beauty-seeker should be without this wonderful complexion beautifier, as a few applications will make any face look years younger."

AD AFTER PARADE

Grand Banquet at Associate Hall

The evening event of the day was the banquet held in Associate hall by the Knights of Columbus at which 300 set around the festive board and listened to distinguished and eloquent speakers. The greater number of the knights present were accompanied by their ladies, and the banquet hall in dainty decorations enhanced by the beautiful gowns of the ladies presented a spectacle most pleasing to the eye. The guests assembled in the rooms of the Knights of Columbus and although 7 o'clock was set as the hour for the banquet a delay was occasioned by the non-arrival of Governor Foss, who was expected. Word was received shortly after that hour that he could not attend, but would be represented later in the evening.

PAYS TO SHAMPOO YOUR OWN HAIR

In a very interesting article in the Los Angeles News, Mac Martyn, noted authority on beauty topics, says: "Since shampoo, as found in soaps and most shampoos, has been found responsible for most hair and scalp troubles, too great care cannot be taken in the matter of shampooing. To those desiring a beautiful head of hair and a perfectly healthy scalp, I recommend the use of plain castor oil for shampooing. A teaspoonful dissolved in a cup of hot water makes the most beneficial, safe, easy and least expensive shampoo known to science."

Among the gentlemen at the guests table were Grand Knight Henry J. Hoops, Toastmaster John H. Murphy, Chaplain Rev. W. George Mullin, Mayor Meehan, Joseph Smith, Matthias McDonough, Jr., of Noble, Ala., supreme director of the Knights of Columbus; District Deputy William P. Thornton; Rev. H., Joseph L. Bourke, Geo. M. Harrigan, P. Gilbride and several others. Scattered among the guests were most of the local Catholic clergy and several from out of town. There was present a delegation of about 30 Nashua Knights of Columbus and their ladies, headed by ex-Mayor Doyle of that city, while Cambridge, Lawrence, Manchester and Boston were also represented.

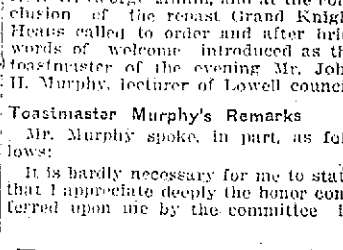

The setting of the guests and the general direction of the feast was ably attended to by James E. O'Donnell, chairman of the reception committee for the day.

The divine blessing was invoked by Rev. W. George Mullin, and at the conclusion of the feast Grand Knight Hoops called to order and after brief words of welcome, introduced as the toastmaster of the evening Mr. John H. Murphy, lecturer of Lowell council.

Toastmaster Murphy's Remarks

Mr. Murphy spoke, in part, as follows:

It is hardly necessary for me to state that I appreciate deeply the honor conferred upon me by the committee in charge of the Columbus day celebration in selecting me to act as toastmaster on this auspicious occasion.

This banquet brings to a close our celebration of Columbus day, which was of high order and dignified in every respect. This commemoration of Columbus day may be referred to with pride and redounds to the credit and the ability of Lowell council.

The event marks the second anniversary of Columbus day as a legal holiday in Massachusetts and the 419th anniversary of the discovery of America.

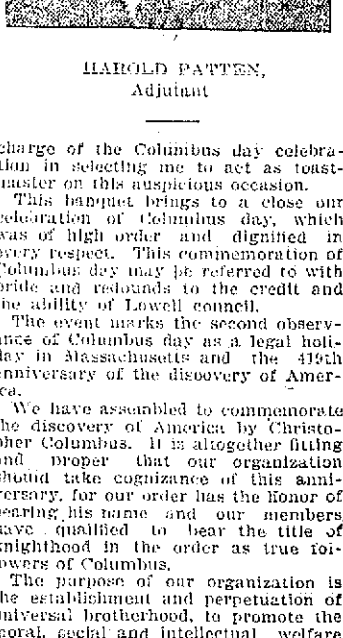

We have assembled to commemorate the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus. It is altogether fitting and proper that our organization should take cognizance of this anniversary, for our order has the honor of bearing his name and our members have qualified to bear the title of knighthood in the order as true followers of Columbus.

The purpose of our organization is the establishment and perpetuation of universal brotherhood, to promote the moral, social and intellectual welfare of our members, to protect and assist the families and dependents of deceased brothers, to teach our members to live in reverence of the Supreme Being and in obedience to his precepts.

The richest banquet which any organization can have for the benefit of posterity is that of a good character.

The richest banquet which any organization can have for the benefit of posterity is that of a spotless and shining example.

We strive to accomplish both and by

this character and example we endeavor to subdue pilgrim mankind to higher levels of existence and by devotion and patience we succeed.

History records nothing more beautiful or inspiring than the organized efforts of men and women throughout the recurring centuries, to lift mankind to a nobler plane and no fact stands out more boldly from its pages than the influence wielded for good by men and women linked together in fraternal unity.

We honor this event and with pride point to the hero of the occasion.

The personality and achievements of Christopher Columbus are of eternal interest to the world.

Volume after volume have been published about him and yet the story of his remarkable life, the descriptions of his strange personality and of his great discovery must ever be new.

It is impossible to lay too much stress upon the importance of the work of Columbus in the discovery of the new world. America. It is the greatest event in the annals of history.

Columbus possessed a grand idea and remained true to it.

Can you picture in your own minds this sturdy son of Genoa begging his way from court to court and vainly offering to kings and princes the gift of a new world?

He had those sterling qualities which ever prompted him on in his work, in order that he might give new land and bring greater glory to his sovereign and to crown his life of toil and hardship with laurels long withheld.

Columbus discovered a new world, we the men assembled are a part of it, and while our blessings are a part of it, and while we are grateful above all things that we can worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience.

Mayor Meehan's Remarks

After explaining the unavoidable absence of Governor Foss, Toastmaster Murphy proposed the toast: "The City of Lowell" and introduced His Honor, Mayor Meehan. Before the latter arose, the band played "Home Sweet Home," and the guests arising sang a Well Known Woman Tells Peculiar Story.

Among the many interesting and remarkable statements made in connection with the introduction of a new tonic, Tona Vita, now being introduced in Lowell for the first time, by specialists who are sent here at that purpose and who are located at Lechl & Lyon's drug store, none is of greater interest than the one made yesterday by Mrs. M. E. Faulkner, who is temporarily in this city visiting friends, and whose permanent home is Glendale, Ariz., Detroit, Mich.

"Last winter I spent three months in Florida visiting my daughter-in-law," said Mrs. Faulkner. "While there I contracted a typical case of southern chills and fever, the effects of which left me in a terrible, run-down condition. I was unable to even digest the lightest food, and for months I lived entirely on milk and raw eggs. I was so nervous that I could not sleep at night and always thought I saw things before me during the night. I felt as if every drop of energy I ever had, had left me, and I found it an effort to even dress and undress. I saw four different doctors who treated me for four different diseases, but I seemed to get worse instead of better."

"About four weeks ago, after seeing how dreadfully I looked, suggested that I try this new tonic, 'Tona Vita.' I have now taken about two and a half bottles and I can hardly realize that I am as well again as I ever was. I have gained weight and I can now eat so much that I am positively ashamed of myself. My nights are now a solid round of sleep and when I get up in the morning I feel fine. I believe it to be the solemn duty of the newspapers to say all they can about this new medicine, for the more people read of it, the more will be benefited by it."

One of the specialists who is here introducing this remarkable tonic said: "The public does not realize what a tremendous number of people among those who live in cities such as Lowell are afflicted with nervous debility in a more or less aggravated form, nor does the public realize the symptoms of this modern plague when they see them. Many of the so-called kidney trouble, nearly all indigestion and fully half of the headaches in Lowell can be attributed solely to nervous debility."

"Those of the public, whether man or woman, who are debilitated and run-down, can see us between 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. at Hall & Lyon's drug store, and we will be glad to explain to them the nature of this preparation."

SHE HAD CONSTANT PAIN

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dewittville, N. Y. — "Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered nearly all the time with headaches, backache, and bearing down pains, and had continuous pain in my left side. I made me sick if I tried to walk much, and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear corsets all the time. But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. A. D. GILES, Route 44, Dewittville, N. Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company, which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure those obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation or giving up hope of recovery.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that is been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

HOW TO TREAT ECZEMA

The old method of treating eczema and similar skin diseases as blood disorders is being rapidly superseded by the new remedy, Cadum. This remarkable compound is applied direct to the affected parts. It destroys the disease-producing germs and begins healing at once. The itching is relieved the moment Cadum is applied, and stubborn cases frequently yield to its curative powers in a short time. Cadum contains an extract from the two Juniperus Oxycedrus, which has a soothing and healing effect when the skin is irritated, inflamed or diseased. It is good for tetter, ringworm, itching piles, pimples, sores, eruptions, etc. 10c and 25c. Sold by all druggists.

CURED BABY'S ECZEMA

Mothers who have watched their babies suffering from eczema will be delighted to know that Comfort Powder which is recommended by so many physicians and nurses has cured many cases of eczema. It stops the itching in a moment and lets the little one sleep, yet is entirely harmless. All skin irritations, mild rashes and chafings disappear when Comfort Powder is used. Dr. A. B. Chapin, Aurora, N. C., says: "It cured a child of a very bad case of eczema on the face." E. S. Sykes

Continued

Lowell is not what she ought to be. The city of Lowell is in splendid financial condition, despite what may be said by some in the higher life or by the newspapers. Lowell is $600,000 better off financially than she was 10 years ago. It is a shame to trail the fair name of Lowell in the dust in order to bring about a change in the form of government. There may be need for some slight changes in our present form of government but not to the radical extent that some people desire it. I will tell you what is wrong with Lowell. Our people are crushed down and are working for starvation wages. Men in the Lowell Machine shop are working for 35 cents per day and in the Merrimack mills are laboring with their feet in water for $6 per week. If the board of trade would endeavor to get to the hearts of the directors of these corporations and get living wages for our working people it will accomplish something for the city. Lowell is proud of the Knights of Columbus. An influence for good goes forth from their council chamber which is felt in the city.

Toward the close of his remarks I to return to Boston, he was forced to curtail his remarks but after the assemblage had heard him for a moment they would have been content to listen to him for hours. Mr. Mahoner is a typical southern gentleman, both in dialect and manners, and his dialect made a great hit with his audience.

he had witnessed in Boston and said that such a demonstration reflected the greatest credit on the state. In the south he said where the cities were fewer and farther apart such big demonstrations were impossible, but the spirit was there. Mr. Mahoner interspersed his remarks with many hu-

in the 15th century, somewhere between the years 1485 and 1495—Irving accepting the former date, and John Boyd Thatcher, the latter, Irving the most sympathetic and accurate and discriminating of the biographers of Columbus.

Columbus was born in the splendid city of Genoa, of humble origin, and learned the trade of weaving; little is known of his parents; and the exact location of his birth is disputed, yet in the day of his glory and wealth and power, relations by the hundred came forward to claim kinship with him.

Columbus received the rudiments of his education probably in the school of his trade guild; but his education in a broader sense came from experience and observation, and such knowledge of letters and science as he possessed in later years must have been acquired from some churchman among his friends, for he showed a familiarity with patristic writings that could only have been derived from ecclesiastically trained men. We know that in his correspondence, Columbus used the Spanish language as his medium of communication; he had little familiarity with Italian and none with the official language of the age, Latin. It is enough to say that Columbus was a man of deeply religious nature, zealous in purpose, persistent in action, gifted with imagination and inspired by an unquestioning faith in God and his mercies.

Envy, malice, jealousy and intolerance have exhausted all their forces to misrepresent the man and belittle his work, yet he stands forth today as incomparably the greatest man of his age, if men and their work are to be measured by their results, for the benefits they confer upon humanity. I have no hesitation in giving it as my deliberate judgment that Christopher Columbus was one of the greatest figures in human history in all the days that had elapsed between that great tragedy on Calvary and his own death, for the discovery of America has most profoundly affected the history of the world; it was the seed from which grew that human liberty and free government we enjoy today. He gave a new world to the old, he brought to the oppressed people of Europe—and few there were who were not oppressed—a new and virgin land where homes might be made for the homeless, where far from the heavy hands of kings and persecutors, a man might

Supreme Director Mahoner
The next speaker was Supreme Director Matthias Mahoner, Jr., of Mobile, Ala., who has been attending a meeting of the supreme directors in Boston. Mr. Mahoner was introduced to speak to the toast "Our Order." Owing to the fact that he was obliged

It was only 10 years ago that our order came to Mobile and yet in that short time we of Mobile have raised a council of 100 members and have our own building. The Knights of Columbus have done more to show that Catholics can be good, honest citizens than any others. Such fraternal organizations make us know each other better, know that we have the same blood, the same ideals. Wherever the great American flag flies, there the Knights of Columbus go. The spirit is there. We of the south are benefited by knowing the New England Yankee spirit. The men of the north and south for many years had considered themselves very different but now through the agency of such organizations as the Knights of Columbus they know better, and the establishment of the Knights of Columbus in the southland has done much to cement the friendship of north and south. Mr. Mahoner then referred to the great parade morous references, particularly to his southern dialect, of which he said he was proud as it was the only one he ever had. He told of an attempt which he made to imitate the northern dialect on an old colored man in Boston when after talking about 20 words the old colored man remarked: "I reckon you're from the south, ain't you?" In conclusion he said I am particularly interested in Lowell because Lowell is the center of the cotton industry and I was born and raised on a cotton plantation which I now have the misfortune to own and I am going to sell you cotton at 35 cents instead of 15 cents although I don't expect to get my clothing any cheaper for doing it. On Face and Scalp. Dry, Scaly, Itching and Burning. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and After a Few Days, Eczema Was Cured.

"I suffered from the early part of December with nearly the beginning of March with severe skin eruptions on my face and scalp. At first I treated it as a trivial matter. But after having used castle soap, cold cream, vanishing cream, etc., I found no relief whatever. After that, I diagnosed my case as eczema, because of its dry, scaly appearance. The itching and burning of my scalp became so intense that I thought I should go mad, having not slept regularly for months past only at intervals, making up now and then because of the burning and itching of my skin. Having read different testimonials of cures by the Cuticura Remedies, I decided to purchase a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. After using them for a few days I recognized a marked change in my condition. I used about two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and five cakes of Cuticura Soap and, after a few days I was entirely free from the itching and burning. My eczema was entirely cured. All due to using Cuticura Soap and Ointment daily. Hereafter I will never be without a cake of Cuticura Soap on my washstand. I hope you will publish my letter so that others may learn of Cuticura Remedies and be cured." (Signed) David M. Shaw, 10 Page Street, Pier 55, N. E., New York City, June 2, 1910.

EUGENE C. QUEENAN

Appointed City Messenger by Mayor Meehan

Mayor Meehan today appointed Eugene Queenan, employed at the Smart Clothing shop and a former member of the school board, as city messenger, and his appointment qualified him to begin his duties tomorrow.

The common council will meet this evening and in all probability will take some action on the matter, but there will be no opportunity for a concurrent vote as the aldermen will not meet despite the popular impression that both branches would meet this evening.

The council will hold an adjourned meeting and the aldermen cannot meet unless called specially by the mayor. The call has not gone forth, and hence there can be no legal meeting.

As has been stated in The Sun previously, the late city messenger was not re-elected this year but was holding over while the name of Owen Monahan lies on the table for the position. Mr. Monahan's name having been sent down in nonconcurrence. Should the council tonight accept Mr. Monahan's name he would become city messenger for the remainder of the year and Mr. Queenan would have to step out after one day's experience.

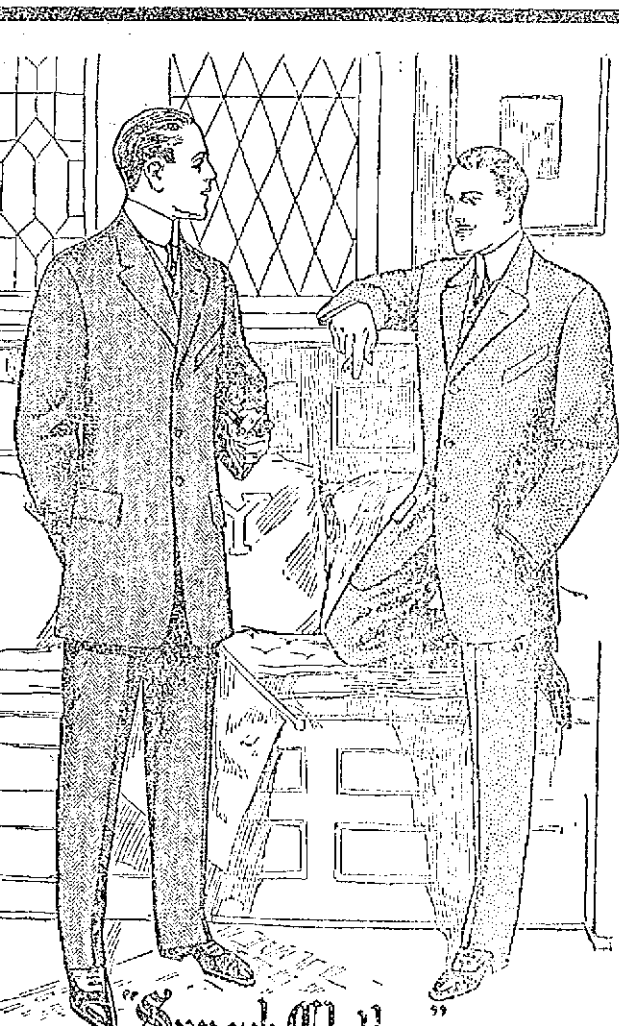

But as the mayor has named Mr. Queenan it is assumed by the latter's friends that the democratic members will stand by His Honor's appointment in which event 14 republican votes would be necessary to elect Mr. Monahan. But the fact that Mr. Monahan received the democratic strength in the early part of the year convinces some of his friends that there is no reason why the ten democratic councilmen should not vote for him again, in which event only four republican votes would be necessary to elect him. Mr. John McCullough is also a democratic candidate for the position. On the republican end the contest has narrowed down to Homer L. P. Turcotte, assistant city messenger, who has held a position under the city messenger for several years. In the event of Mr. Turcotte getting the common council he has a solid phalanx of nine democrats and no republicans to meet in the upper branch, with five necessary for a choice. As the year is nearing its close it is doubtful if an election will be brought about and in that event Mr. Queenan will hold the office until the new year.

City Physician Contest

The contest for city physician will come up tonight in the council the aldermen having sent down the name of Dr. Tiche. The present incumbent, Dr. Foster H. Smith, is also a candidate. Dr. Smith is also prominently mentioned for another position.

$20,000 Sewer Loan

The sewer committee tonight will recommend a loan of $20,000 for the completion of sewer construction this year. The sewer department at present is engaged in Webster and Prince streets.

SULLIVAN LOST BOUT

Knocked Out by Klaus in Second Round

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Frank Klaus, the star out from the Smoky City, who is one of the contenders for the middleweight title, made Tommy Sullivan of Lawrence stop in the second round of their 12-round bout at the Armory last night.

Sullivan was substituted for Bob Nolan, who had injured his hand. Sullivan was in pretty good shape, while Klaus looked a bit fat. Klaus went after Sullivan from the start and as soon as he got in close would land his right on Sullivan's kidneys.

In both rounds Klaus handled Sullivan that kind of blow a number of times and the early return he got was a new left jab and a couple of right counters that landed on Klaus' cheeks.

Half way through the second round, while Klaus was doing some close-quarter work, he sent a right uppercut to Sullivan's stomach. The latter went to the floor, claiming he had been hit low. He refused to take a different view and when Sullivan made no effort to get to his feet Klaus was declared the winner.

The semi-final bout between Joe White and Ed Ryan was fast and warm and at the end of the eighth round it was called a draw.

The final of South Boston made Dr. Sparke of the U. S. S. Battle Island stop in the fifth round of their bout.

The opening bout between D. Clancy of Somerville was another hot bout replete with some hard hitting. Clancy was declared the winner at the end of the six rounds.

The program for the meeting next Tuesday night includes a 12-round bout between Rutledge Nelson and Pat Moore. The six-round "profits" will be between Joe Walcott and Bob Lee, Kid Lee of Chelsea and Tommy Flanagan and Billy Shea and Tommy O'Connor.

BOUT SNAPPY AND CLOSE

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 12.—There was a very lively bout of six rounds at the Forest City A. C. last evening between "Money" McElroy of Chelsea and Terry Martin of Manchester.

McElroy got the best blow and to the end of the sixth round intended never lagged. McElroy had a good lead at the end of the first three rounds and for that time was the aggressor.

Martin then suddenly changed his method of meeting the Chelsea man, and in the fourth round sent McElroy to his knees and in the sixth round landed him through the ropes. McElroy took Martin with him, however, by a clinch.

Both hit hard and landed freely, and while Martin seemed to have an advantage on points and because of his leading and landing in the last half, the margin was not great.

The bout ended as it began, with both in the center of the ring.

A Goodyear Welt Shoe contains more value for the money than any other article of daily use you buy.

The masses of the people are wearing better shoes today than ever before.

The United Shoe Machinery Company by steadily reducing the machinery cost of making shoes, improving the machines on which shoes are manufactured, placing them in factories on reasonable terms and giving manufacturers an efficient service has made this possible.

The Boot and Shoe Recorder says: "One day's work will buy a better pair of shoes in the United States than it will anywhere else in the world by more than 30 per cent."

The item of machinery is the only item of cost in the manufacture of shoes which is lower today than in 1899, when the United Shoe Machinery Company was formed.

The products of the shoe factories of Massachusetts have greatly increased in value since the Company was formed in 1899. In 1900 they were valued at $117,000,000; in 1908 (the latest year for which statistics are at hand) at $170,000,000; and that was the year after a panic.

The operatives on the Company's machines in shoe factories are much more regularly employed and receive higher wages than operatives received under the conditions which prevailed before the formation of the Company.

At the New England Fair in the Mechanics Building, Boston, you will see a complete shoe-making plant, with the machines of the Company in actual operation making Goodyear Welt Shoes.

Sixty different machines out of the 300 manufactured by the Company are shown at work there, each needed in the manufacture of a high-grade Goodyear Welt Shoe.

Some of these machines are sold; some are leased; some are sold or leased as the shoe manufacturer may prefer. Most shoe manufacturers had rather lease than buy.

Visit the fair and learn for yourself the terms upon which the shoe manufacturer enjoys the use of each machine.

Lowell is not what she ought to be. The city of Lowell in its splendid financial condition, despite what may be said by some in the higher life or by the newspapers. Lowell is $600,000 better off financially than she was 10 years ago. It is a shame to trail the fair name of Lowell in the dust in order to bring about a change in the form of government. There may be need for some slight changes in our present form of government but not to the radical extent that some people desire it. I will tell you what is wrong with Lowell. Our people are crushed down and are working for starvation wages. Men in the Lowell Machine shop are working for 95 cents per day and in the Merrimack mills are laboring with their feet in water for $6 per week. If the board of trade would endeavor to get to the hearts of the directors of these corporations and get living wages for our working people it will accomplish something for the city. Lowell is proud of the Knights of Columbus. An influence for good goes forth from their council chamber which is felt in the city.

Toward the close of his remarks Mr. Mahoner was forced to return to Boston, he was forced to curtail his remarks but after the assemblage had heard him for a moment they would have been content to listen to him for hours. Mr. Mahoner is a typical southern gentleman, both in dialect and manners, and his dialect made a great hit with his audience.

he had witnessed in Boston and said that such a demonstration reflected the greatest credit on the state. In the south he said where the cities were fewer and farther apart such big demonstrations were impossible, but the spirit was there. Mr. Mahoner interspersed his remarks with many hu-manous references, particularly to his southern dialect, of which he said he was proud as it was the only one he ever had. He told of an attempt which he made to imitate the northern dialect on an old colored man in Boston when after talking about 20 words the old colored man remarked: "I reckon you run do south, ahnt you?" In conclusion he said I am particularly interested in Lowell because Lowell is the center of the cotton industry and I was born and raised on a cotton plantation which I now have the misfortune to own and I am going to sell you cotton at 8 1/2 cents instead of 15 cents although I don't expect to get my clothing any cheaper for doing it. His part-

correspondence, Columbus used the Spanish language as his medium of communication; he had little familiarity with Italian and none with the official language of the age, Latin. It is enough to say that Columbus was a man of deeply religious nature, tenacious in purpose, persistent in action, gifted with imagination and inspired by an unquestioning faith in God and his mercies.

Envy, malice, jealousy and intolerance have exhausted all their forces to misrepresent the man and belittle his work, yet he stands forth today as incomparably the greatest man of his age. If men and their work are to be measured by their results, by the benefits they confer upon humanity, I have no hesitation in giving it as my deliberate judgment that Christopher Columbus was one of the greatest figures in human history in all the days that had elapsed between that great tragedy on Calvary and his own death, for the discovery of America has most profoundly affected the history of the world. It was the seed from which grew that human liberty and free government we enjoy today. He gave a new world to the old; he brought to the oppressed people of Europe—and few there were who were not oppressed—a new and virgin land where homes might be made for the homeless, where, far from the heavy hands of kings and persecutors, a man might

The next speaker was Supreme Director Matthias Mahoner, Jr., of Mobile, Ala., who has been attending a meeting of the supreme directors in Boston. Mr. Mahoner was introduced to speak to the least "Our Order." Owing to the fact that he was obliged to return to Boston, he was forced to curtail his remarks but after the assemblage had heard him for a moment they would have been content to listen to him for hours. Mr. Mahoner is a typical southern gentleman, both in dialect and manners, and his dialect made a great hit with his audience.

He was the man delegated by the supreme grand knight to institute the first council of Knights of Columbus in Cuba, and is well known in the order throughout the country. He spoke, in part, as follows:
It was only 16 years ago that our order came to Mobile and yet in that short time we of Mobile have raised a council of 400 members and have our own building. The Knights of Columbus have done more to show that Catholics can be good, honest citizens than any others. Such fraternal organizations make us know each other better, know that we have the same blood, the same ideals. Wherever the great American flag flies, there the Knights of Columbus go. The spirit is there. We of the south are benefited by knowing the New England Yankee spirit. The men of the north and south for many years had considered themselves very different but now through the agency of such organizations as the Knights of Columbus they know better and the establishment of the Knights of Columbus in the southland has done much to cement the friendship of north and south. Mr. Mahoner then referred to the great parade marous references, particularly to his southern dialect, of which he said he was proud as it was the only one he ever had. He told of an attempt which he made to imitate the northern dialect on an old colored man in Boston when after talking about 20 words the old colored man remarked: "I reckon you run do south, ahnt you?" In conclusion he said I am particularly interested in Lowell because Lowell is the center of the cotton industry and I was born and raised on a cotton plantation which I now have the misfortune to own and I am going to sell you cotton at 8 1/2 cents instead of 15 cents although I don't expect to get my clothing any cheaper for doing it. THOUGHT HE SHOULD GO MAD WITH ECZEMA

On Face and Scalp. Dry, Scaly, Itching and Burning. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and After a Few Days, Eczema Was Cured.

"I suffered from the early part of December until nearly the beginning of March with severe skin eruptions on my face and scalp. At first I treated it as a trivial matter. But after having used castile soap, medicated washings, cold cream, vanishing cream, etc., I found no relief whatever. After that, I diagnosed my case as eczema, because of its dry, scaly appearance. The itching and burning of my scalp became so intense that I thought I should go mad. I tried to keep my head covered with a towel, but only at intervals, waking up now and then because of the burning and itching of my skin. Having read different testimonials of cures by the Cuticura Remedies, I decided to purchase a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. After using them for a few days I recognized a marked change in my condition. I bought another two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and five cakes of Cuticura Soap in all, and after a few days I was entirely free from the itching and burning. My eczema was entirely cured, all due to using Cuticura Soap and Ointment daily. I will never be without a cake of Cuticura Soap on my washstand. I hope you will publish my letter so that others may learn of Cuticura Remedies and be cured. (Signed) David Shaw, c/o Paymaster, Pier 55, N. E., New York City, June 2, 1910.

ing words were to eliminate all prejudices, ever hearing in mind that we are all Americans. As Mr. Mahoner took his departure the band struck up the familiar strains of "Dixie" while the audience arose and sang the song, following it with cheers for the departing guest.

Mr. Smith's Address
The next speaker introduced was Joseph Smith to respond to the toast "Columbus and his Age." Before proceeding with subject Mr. Smith said, "I was glad to see city hall without a flag in honor of the day, but some misguided person might believe that Columbus was a member of the Lowell city government." Mr. Smith also remarked that although most of his address would deal with the contemporary events of Columbus' time he would make some reference to the discovered in view of the fact that the previous speakers had said nothing about Columbus. Mr. Smith then said:
I am warranted in believing that a society which was founded to commemorate the name and work of Christopher Columbus must be more or less familiar with his life and achievements, and I assume that your friends and guests gathered here tonight are not without knowledge of the career of this heroic character. It is for this reason that during the brief time allotted to me I would prefer to deal with the times of Columbus rather than the man, and try to visualize for you the age and world into which he was born. Columbus was born about midway

Appointed City Messenger by Mayor Meehan

Mayor Meehan today appointed Eugene Queenan, employed at the Smart Clothes shop and a former member of the school board, as acting city messenger, and he immediately qualified and began his duties.

The common council will meet this evening and in all probability will take some action on the matter but there will be no opportunity for a concurrent vote as the aldermen will not meet despite the popular impression that both branches would meet this evening. The council will hold an adjourned meeting and the aldermen cannot meet unless called specially by the mayor. The call has not gone forth, and hence there can be no legal meeting.

As has been stated in The Sun previously, the late city messenger was not re-elected this year but was holding over while the name of Owen Monahan was on the table for the position. Mr. Monahan's name having been sent down in nonconsequence, should the council tonight accept Mr. Monahan's name he would become city messenger for the remainder of the year and Mr. Queenan would have to step out after one day's experience.

But as the mayor has named Mr. Queenan it is assumed by the latter's friends that the democratic members will stand by the mayor's appointment in which event 14 republican votes would be necessary to elect Mr. Monahan. But the fact that Mr. Monahan received the democratic strength in the early part of the year convinces some of his friends that there is no reason why the democratic count should not vote for him again, in which event only four republican votes would be necessary to elect him. Mr. John McCullough is also a democratic candidate for the position.

As the year is nearing its close it is doubtful if an election will be brought about and in that event Mr. Queenan will hold the office until the new year.

City Physician Contest
The contest for city physician will come up tonight in the council. The aldermen having sent down the name of Dr. Tighe. The present incumbent Dr. Forster H. Smith, is also a candidate. Dr. Smith is also prominently mentioned for another position.

$20,000 Sewer Loan
The sewer committee tonight will recommend a loan of $20,000 for the completion of sewer construction this year. The sewer department at present is engaged in Webster and Princeton streets. The street department is working in Dutton and East Merrimack streets. The former job will be completed within a few days and the latter as far as North Howe street before the intensely cold weather arrives.

On Monday the sewer department will resume work on the Lawrence street sewer and will lay a 36-inch brick sewer from South Whipple street to Moore, a distance of 145 feet, at a cost of $15,000. The old sewer, which was laid in 1891, was of 18 and 15-inch pipe.

Public Hall Order
Councilman Chapman has two orders to go into the city council tonight. The first provides for the placing on the ballot at city election by the aldermen the questions as to whether the public wants a public hall in the vicinity of Tower's corner, the vicinity of Merrimack square or the vicinity of city hall. The second order provides for the repeal of the old ordinance calling for the appointment of a public hall commission.

Want a Job?
H. R. Pearce, representing the department of the interior at Washington, D. C., has written Superintendent Whitcomb of the school department informing him that there are several good jobs open in the Federal service in the department of Indian schools due to a lack of eligibles. The positions and their pay are as follows: Teacher, $540 to $840 per annum; principal, $840 to $1400; physician, $1800 to $1400; carpenter, $600 to $900; disciplinarian, $600 to $1200; farmer, $600 to $1000; expert farmer, $1000 to $1200; gardener, $600 to $900; engineer, $720 to $1200; matron, $500 to $800; seamstress, $500 to $720. The parents of Lowell need not be unduly alarmed as Superintendent Whitcomb has given his word that he will not accept any of them. Owing to the short time that the industrial school has been under way in Lowell he has not yet become proficient in dreammaking or the work of a seamstress, while he has been away from the farm so long that he will hardly do for farm work not to speak of qualifying as an expert and the jobs on the list to which he is eligible do not appeal to him.

SULLIVAN LOST BOUT

Knocked Out by Klaus in Second Round

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Frank Klaus, the bear cat from the Smoky City, who is one of the contenders for the middle-weight title, made Tommy Sullivan of Lawrence stop in the second round of their 12-round bout at the Army A. A. last night.

Sullivan was substituted for Bob Mohr, who had injured his hand. Sullivan was in pretty good shape, while Klaus looked a bit fat. Klaus went after Sullivan from the start and as soon as he got in close would bang his right on Sullivan's kidneys.

In both rounds Klaus handled Sullivan that brand of blows a number of times and the only return he got was a few left jabs and a couple of right counters that landed on Klaus' cheeks.

Half way through the second round, while Klaus was doing some close quarter work, he sent a right uppercut to Sullivan's stomach. The latter went to the floor, claiming he had been hit low. The referee took a different view and when Sullivan made no effort to get to his feet Klaus was declared the winner.

The semi-final bout between Joe White and Ed Flynn was fast and warm and at the end of the eighth round it was called a draw.

Joe Egan of South Boston made D. Sparta of the U. S. S. Rhode Island stop in the fifth round of their bout.

The opening bout between D. Clancy of Somerville and another hot bout replete with some hard hitting. Clancy was declared the winner at the end of the six rounds.

The program for the meeting next Tuesday night includes a 12-round bout between Matt Nelson and Pat Moore. The six-round "prelims" will feature Joe Walcott and Bob Lee, Kid Lee of Chelsea and Tommy Flanagan and Billy Shea and Tommy O'Connor.

BOUT SNAPPY AND CLOSE
PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 12.—There was a very lively bout of six rounds at the Forest City A. C. last evening between "Honey" Melody of Chelsea and Terry Martin of Manchester.

Melody got in the first blow and to the end of the sixth round interest never lessened. Melody had a good lead at the end of the first three rounds and for that time was the aggressor.

Martin then suddenly changed his method of meeting the Chelsea man, and in the fourth round sent Melody to his knees and in the sixth round knocked him through the ropes. Melody took Martin with him, however, by a clinch.

Both hit hard and landed freely, and while Martin seemed to have an advantage on points and because of his leading and landing in the last half, the margin was not great.

The bout ended as it began, with both in the center of the ring.

A Goodyear Welt Shoe contains more value for the money than any other article of daily use you buy.

The masses of the people are wearing better shoes today than ever before.

The United Shoe Machinery Company by steadily reducing the machinery cost of making shoes, improving the machines on which shoes are manufactured, placing them in factories on reasonable terms and giving manufacturers an efficient service has made this possible.

The Boot and Shoe Recorder says: "One day's work will buy a better pair of shoes in the United States than it will anywhere else in the world by more than 30 per cent."

The item of machinery is the only item of cost in the manufacture of shoes which is lower today than in 1899, when the United Shoe Machinery Company was formed.

The products of the shoe factories of Massachusetts have greatly increased in value since the Company was formed in 1899. In 1900 they were valued at $117,000,000; in 1908 (the latest year for which statistics are at hand) at $170,000,000; and that was the year after a panic.

The operatives on the Company's machines in shoe factories are much more regularly employed and receive higher wages than operatives received under the conditions which prevailed before the formation of the Company.

At the New England Fair in the Mechanics Building, Boston, you will see a complete shoe-making plant, with the machines of the Company in actual operation making Goodyear Welt Shoes.

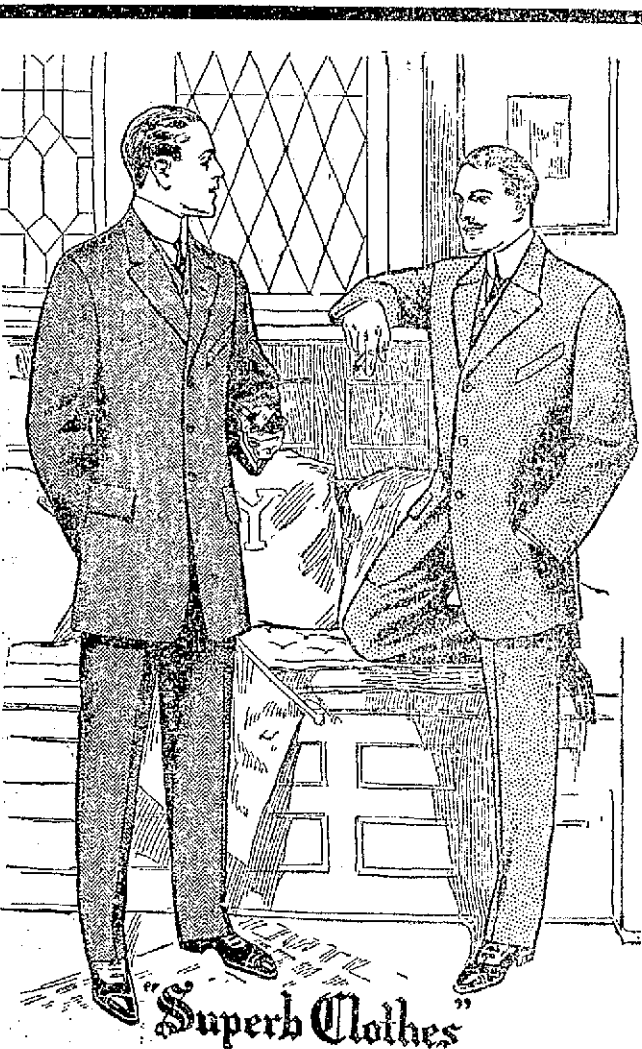

Sixty different machines out of the 300 manufactured by the Company are shown at work there, each needed in the manufacture of a high-grade Goodyear Welt Shoe.

Some of these machines are sold; some are leased; some are sold or leased as the shoe manufacturer may prefer. Most shoe manufacturers had rather lease than buy.

Visit the fair and learn for yourself the terms upon which the shoe manufacturer enjoys the use of each machine.

THE WORLD'S SERIES

Some Interesting Facts About the Rival Teams

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The world's championship baseball series about to begin marks the climax of interest in the great American game of baseball. The championship contest comes every year, but is ever new in the intense excitement over the crucial series. Last year Philadelphia and Chicago were the centers of this championship storm, the Philadelphia Athletics of the American league winning the coveted title.

With the world's pennant still flying over their magnificent baseball home at Shibe park at Philadelphia, and with another American league flag freshly won, Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics now meet John J. McGraw and his Giants of the National league. It is the second time that these two generals have clashed over the same great issue. In the war of 1905 McGraw won four of the five battles, and thereby brought to New York a world's pennant. Seasoned by six years more experience in the generalship of their formidable baseball forces, these two great ball leaders now meet again for the championship struggle. Two more divergent types than McGraw and Mack cannot be picked in the baseball world. The contest between the two chiefs may be summed up briefly as follows:

MACK

Aged forty-nine.
Born in New England.
Tall and lanky.
Calm and deliberative.
Leads from the bench.
Plans battle before game.
Never dons a uniform.
Known as a tactician.

McGRAW

Aged thirty-eight.

Anty Drudge on Mending.

Mrs. Housewife—"I seem to do nothing but mend and darn all the time. Half the clothes are full of holes after a few washings."

Anty Drudge—"It's the boiling of your clothes in the wash that causes you all this work, Dearie. Boiling weakens them and makes them soft just as it does meat or vegetables. Use Fels-Naptha soap in cold or lukewarm water and the clothes will wear much longer."

Did you ever wear homespun? Probably not, but your parents did. Old-time clothes were coarse and tough, able to stand the boiling and rubbing and pounding of the old-fashioned way of washing.

The delicate fabrics of to-day won't stand it. Perhaps your clothes are boiled and rubbed hard, and that is why they get frayed edges, tear easily, and wear out before their time.

Fels-Naptha soap is the modern way of washing. It cleanses clothes thoroughly in cold or lukewarm water—no boiling, no hard-rubbing, little time.

Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

Born in New York state.
Short and impulsive.
Quick and energetic.
Always on coaching lines.
Resorts to quick judgment.
Always in ball togs.
Distinctly a strategist.

And so on, with finer distinctions the divergence might be traced and when the problem was finally worked out it would be found that about the only point of intersection in their methods is success.

Cornelius McGillicuddy, so named at birth, but rechristened by the fans as "Connie Mack," has been called the "wizard of baseball" because of his skill in developing seemingly inferior talent into the superior player. Since only the Philadelphia Athletics club seven years ago has turned out four champion teams in the American league and has led his men close to the front ranks in the league every season but one. His career has been, perhaps, the most successful of any of the so-called bench managers. Stricken back away from the dust of battle, the cool and crafty chief with pencil and score book in hand plots out the progress of the engagement and only occasionally attends the orders he gives his men before he sent them into the field.

McGraw, known to fandom as the Napoleonic leader of the "Giants," has won three league pennants for New York and one world series. Since 1913 his team has never finished below third place in the National league. As a big league player he is a famous product of the old Baltimore Orioles of the National league. When the club broke up after the season of 1902 he came to the metropolis as manager of the Giants. He is, and always has been, a typical player and leader of the old fighting school whose slogan is "Resist in and win."

Whether McGraw can bring his men back to the world-beating class or must let the Mackmen possess the big flag for a second successive season, depends in some part upon some of the veterans who won for him the war of 1905.

By the rules governing the world series each of the leaders is allowed to enlist 21 men eligible as participants in the struggle. The choice this year has fallen to the following men:

New York	Philadelphia
Ames, p.	Baker, 3b.
Becker, utility.	Barry, ss.
Crandall, p.	Bender, p.
Doyle, 2b.	Collins, 2b.
Devore, 1c.	Coombs, p.
Devlin, utility.	Davis, utility.
Drucke, p.	Danforth, p.
Fletcher, ss.	Derrick, utility.
Horner, 3b.	Hartzel, utility.
Hartley, c.	Krause, p.
Latham, utility.	Lapp, c.
McGraw, mgr.	Livingston, c.
Moyers, c.	Lord, 1c.
Mathewson, p.	Martin, utility.
Marquard, p.	Morgan, p.
Murray, 1b.	McInnis, 1b.
Merkle, 1b.	Murphy, rf.
Paulette, utility.	Oldring, cf.
Snodgrass, cf.	Plank, c.
Whites, cf.	Strunk, utility.
Wilson, c.	Thomas, c.

These 42 men and none other are eligible to play in the present series. It is not until the next day that a dozen from each list will be picked to figure in the crucial games. Of the "Giants" there are three who fought and won in the 1905 series with Philadelphia—Ames, Devlin and Christy Mathewson. Of this veteran trio the last named has been the "Giants" pitching mainstay for many years. In three of the four games won from Philadelphia in 1905 he pitched a shutout and was acclaimed the hero of the club series. In the past six years he has grown in the confidence of the New York fans, and while his most ardent admirers can hardly expect him to repeat so remarkable an achievement, he is expected to render good account of himself.

Mathewson is a native Pennsylvanian, and for one brief period was a member of the team he now opposes. But for the better part of ten years he has been with the "Giants." He first attracted attention at Bucknell university and his first professional berth was on the Taunton club of the New England league. Twice the big fellow has pitched no-hit games. In 1908 he was credited with 37 of the "Giants" victories. He won more than two-thirds of the games he pitched this year. He is 31 years old.

Notwithstanding the confidence still placed in him it is likely that he will have less of a chance to figure as a hero in the present series as his big left-handed pitching mate, "Rube" Marquard, and Matty's junior by 8 years, has won championship distinction. The younger "Southpaw," whose services cost McGraw $12,000, proved a good investment for it is mainly due to his phenomenal pitching that the "Giants" are in a position to face the Athletics for the title. He has won 21 and lost only 6 games this season. Marquard's first professional play was with the Waterloo team of the

is a medicine for all mankind. It corrects the defective digestion of the food, increases the appetite, strengthens the heart, gives force to the circulation, cures throat and lung troubles, and insomnia, and brings restfulness to the brain and nervous forces. It is pleasant to the taste and can be retained by the most delicate stomach. It has to its credit fifty years of well doing. This is truly a recommendation in itself. Our files contain thousands of letters from men and women in all walks of life testifying to the wonderful cures this great medicinal whiskey has brought about. It will help you—will keep you strong and vigorous.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey that was taxed by the government as a medicine during the Spanish-American war.

Iowa State league. Later he was with the Canton club of the Central league and was drafted by the Detroit club. He proved the sensation of the American association and it took the big prize named to bring him to New York in 1908. While he possessed all kinds of speed and a varied assortment of curves he was almost a complete failure in his first seasons, but McGraw stuck to him and has been well rewarded.

Leon Ames, who has been on the "Giants" pitching staff ever since he jumped the New York State league in 1904, and George R. Willse, another former State leaguer, are the most likely candidates for relief work in the box. Ole Crandall is the fifth member of the staff.

There are six of Connie Mack's men who were with him when he fought in vain for the 1905 flag. They are Bender, Plank, Lord, Hartzel, Murphy and Harry Davis. Head and shoulders above them all stands "Chief" Bender, a red-skin of the Chippewa tribe, who was sent to the Chicago school for his education and promptly evinced his fondness for the great white man's game. After leaving college he joined the Harrisburg, Pa. team, and in 1903 was brought into the big league by Connie Mack. He became one of a famous quintette of twirlers which brought Philadelphia into its second league championship in 1905. In the world series he was the pitching hero of the only game which the Athletics lost from the "Giants" that year. On the other hand, to him is charged the only defeat suffered by the Athletics in the series with Chicago last year, though this came after he had allowed but one hit for eight innings.

With the Indian in the box is, as was the case last year, Jack Coombs, the real hero of the last series. Coombs is 27 years old. He played at Colby college, in Maine, and graduated at once into his league company with the Athletics in 1906. He is exactly the same height as his pitching mate, "Chief" Bender, 5 feet 1 inch. He is a holder of records one of them being the famous 21-inning victory over Boston in 1907. During the 1910 season he won 63 innings at one stretch without letting an opposing club score on him.

Bender and Coombs will be called upon it is believed to do most of the pitching in the series at hand but as the Giants are said to be weaker before left-handers it is possible that the two "south paws" Plank and Krause, will be given a chance to distinguish themselves. Plank was one of a trio of twirlers who won for Philadelphia its first taste of league championship in Mack's second year. Veteran though he is, at the age of 36, he is still able to do effective work.

In cold figures, the records of the pitchers selected for the present series is as follows:

NEW YORK GIANTS.
G.	W.	L.	SO.
Marquard	43	24	627
Crandall	42	14	5
Mathewson	46	25	141
Whites	29	14	10
Ames	25	10	9
Totals	185	87	15

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS.
G.	W.	L.	SO.
Bender	31	18	5
Coombs	45	29	11
Plank	42	21	9
Morgan	38	16	7
Krause	27	10	7
Totals	183	94	39

The back-stopping for Philadelphia will be same as last year. In Thomas, who took the measure of the famous John Kling, of Chicago, in last year's series, will be first choice behind the bat, and Lapp, who caught one game last year, will be a close second. Lapp is young, and this season's play has improved him.

"Big Chief" Moyers, Wilson and Hartley will each for the "Giants." It is needless to give biographical sketches of all the newer stars of the forthcoming series. Experts agree that in no wise can the outcome of the series or of a single game be expected to rest with a single player unless it be the pitchers.

Team for team the opponents are as evenly matched as any two that ever fought for the world's title. Experts agree as to this, and reading their mistake in judgment, picking the Chicago Cubs as a favorite last year, they are prone to play safe and declare the outcome of the present series to be a matter of "delightfully doubtful uncertainty."

In the betting, odds have been given both ways. Local experts look back to the wonderful rush of the "Giants" through the closing stages of the league fight and pin their faith to McGraw's "rush them or their feet" slogan and the pitching of "Rube" and

ROBINSON MAY DIE

Brave Act May Cause
Man His Life

WALTHAM, Oct. 12.—John H. Robinson, aged 32, a motorman employed by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, was perhaps fatally injured yesterday noon in his efforts to stop a pair of runaway horses attached to a loaded furniture van.

Mr. Robinson was on his way to the car barn about 11:30. When on Main street, nearly opposite Rich street, he saw a pair of horses come dashing out of Rich street. He ran into the street and grabbed the bridle of one of the horses.

The animal's legs tripped Robinson and he fell. He was kicked in the face and the heavily loaded wagon passed over his legs, breaking both. Sold the horses were swerved just enough to throw them into a telephone pole and they were caught.

RECORD SHOOTING

Company A Made a
Score of 673

WAKEFIELD, Oct. 12.—It was record day at the Bay State rifle range yesterday, both in attendance and in scores attained. Co. A of Wakefield, which captured the state trophy in the regimental match with a score that at the time was a record for the range, added to its laurels yesterday in the competition of regimental team shooting by distancing all its rivals and setting a new high mark, not only for the range but for the state, if not the world, its total score being 673.

The remarkable nature of this attainment becomes apparent when it is remembered that under the conditions of this match, 30 men on a team, with five shots and one sighting shot, at 200, 300 and 500 yards, the possible is 150. Co. A's record thus is only 77 below possible.

At the different ranges its totals were: 200 yards 212, 300 yards 235, 500 yards 226. Private Reid of A Company, 6th, was high man with 72. The winning team by its victory yesterday receives a special trophy offered by the state.

The second meeting of the Y. M. C. A. "Campaign for 1000 Members" committee was held Wednesday night at the rooms of the association in Hurd street and the reports of the said committee were very gratifying, for 37 new members and $424 in cash payments were reported.

A supper was served at 8:30 o'clock and after the meal President Brown called the meeting to order and introduced Rev. Caleb E. Fisher, D. D., who spoke for a few minutes on the subject, "Enthusiasm." His remarks were listened to with great interest and they were followed by the reports from the captain of each team. Team 1, T. A. Brown captain, led in results Wednesday night, handing in 15 names and $71 in cash. Teams 5 and 10, with seven members and $35 in cash apiece, were tied for second place.

The meeting was closed with interesting remarks by James P. Ramsay, who spoke on "Enthusiasm."

FELL UNDER TRUCK

Man Met With Serious
Injury

WORCESTER, Oct. 12.—Joseph Archambeau, 2 Sutton lane, was run over and dangerously injured yesterday by a heavily loaded motor truck in Sutton while assisting his employer, Henry M. Masse, 31 South Gate street, in moving a load of furniture.

With another helper he jumped off the car as they were climbing a steep hill. At the top of the hill he tried to jump aboard while the auto was in motion and fell under the forward wheel, which passed over him.

The left leg was broken, painful bruises and cuts were inflicted about the face and he suffered severely from shock. Neither of the physicians in West Union could be reached and it was almost an hour before an auto could be brought to the scene.

Archambeau was brought to City hospital then in a weakened condition and his name was put on the dangerous list.

HEART TROUBLE

WOMAN A SUICIDE

She Was Despondent
Over Ill Health

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Despondent because of poor health, Jennie Sorota, aged 28, a lodger at 76 Lawrence avenue, committed suicide yesterday morning by inhaling illuminating gas in her room.

The young woman was a lodger in the flat of Harry Greenberg, where she had lived for seven months. Of late she had been brooding over her illness and complained to other occupants.

Yesterday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg arose they smelled gas and traced it to the woman's room. A physician was summoned, but it was found that the young woman had been dead some time. Medical Examiner Timothy Leary was summoned and after an investigation pronounced death due to suicide. The young woman came from Russia about nine years ago and was employed as a buttonhole maker.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

WINS IN CALIFORNIA BY MARGIN
OF 1678

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Woman suffrage has triumphed in California. Returns late yesterday voted out the majority previously recorded against the amendment and since the margin in favor of the amendment has increased steadily.

Totals last night were: For suffrage, 119,086; against 117,408. Majority for the amendment 1678.

These figures represent the returns from 277 precincts out of a total of 3121 in the state. Virtually all of the remaining precincts are in counties which have given suffrage majorities.

So overwhelming was the vote in favor of the other important amendments, the initiative and referendum and the recall, including the judiciary, that tabulation was suspended with nearly a third of the precincts remaining unreported. The final count taken showed the following results:

For the initiative and referendum 135,181; against 43,859.

For the recall 148,572; against 46,299.

Monster Columbus Day Parade
Was Held in Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Thirty-five thousand men marched past half a million spectators yesterday afternoon in Boston's second celebration of Columbus day. More than 200 organizations, forming five divisions of the civic parade, headed by a military escort and stepping to the strains of nearly 80 bands, participated in the demonstration to the discoverer of the western world.

At four reviewing stands leading executives of church, state and city, with Lieut. Col. John H. Dunn, chief marshal of the parade, stood while ranks of men filed past in salute for nearly four hours. The sidewalks along the route of the procession, from its beginning to its end, were packed, windows were crowded, and the very roofs were fringed with people who clapped and cheered as the ranks marched by. The weather was almost perfect for both marchers and spectators.

Many Special Features

Interesting features followed one another in quick succession. While the parade was essentially a civic one, the presence of the military escort and of uniformed semi-military bodies at frequent intervals prevented the succession of the thousands of dark clad men with their white gloves and Columbus day souvenir buttons on coat lapels from growing at any time monotonous.

A score of artistic floats, decked with flowers and ribbons and peopled by men, women and children in costumes of centuries that are past, were in line, illustrating for the most part historically familiar incidents connected with the adventures and discoveries of Columbus. Hundreds of large American flags and emblems waved in advance of the marching societies, and the ranks were brightened by small pennants or national flags carried by each man.

Marchers Show Rare Training

In their precision of movement the societies displayed the result of weeks of training. Praise for the alignment kept by most of the civilian bodies was voiced everywhere. The various civic divisions compared favorably with the first military division in this respect.

The parade started at the corner of Hereford and Beacon streets and took the following route: Beacon to Tremont, to Court, to Washington, to Temple place, to Tremont, to Boston, to Park square, the dismissal point. Gov. Foss and his staff occupied the first reviewing stand at the state house. At the next, on Tremont, opposite West, Archbishop O'Connell and Bishop Anderson, with 50 of the most signior and pastors of the archdiocese, greeted the paraders. Mayor Fitzgerald, members of the city council, the national officers of the Knights of Columbus and 1200 other people were in the third grandstand. Chief Marshal Dunn and his staff were at the final reviewing point.

THE LOSS IS $5000

Japanery at Mansfield
Badly Damaged

MANSFIELD, Oct. 12.—The Riverside Japanery, one of Mansfield's large plants, last night was damaged nearly $5000 by fire. About 10 o'clock Watchman Ledwick discovered flames pouring from the building containing oils and varnishes.

An alarm was sounded from box 45 and the entire fire department was soon on the scene. By excellent work the blaze was confined to the oil building, though there was a high wind.

Chief Engineer King put a squad of men on the main plant and protected that and other buildings from flying sparks.

The Riverside Japanery is owned by out-of-town parties with George W. Priest of Newell as manager. The plant has been closed down of late, preparatory to moving the business to Pennsylvania.

Chief King believes last night's fire was due to spontaneous combustion.

Some Interesting Facts About the Rival Teams

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The world's championship baseball series about to begin marks the climax of interest in the great American game of baseball. The championship contest comes every year, but is ever new in the intense excitement over the crucial series. Last year Philadelphia and Chicago were the centers of this championship storm, the Philadelphia Athletics of the American league winning the coveted title.

With the world's pennant still flying over their magnificent baseball home at Shibe park at Philadelphia, and with another American league flag freshly won, Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics now meet John J. McGraw and his Giants of the National league. It is the second time that these two generals have clashed over the same great issue. In the war of 1905 McGraw won four of the five battles, and thereby brought to New York a world's pennant.

Seasoned by six years more experience in the generalship of their formidable baseball forces, these two base ball leaders now meet again for the championship struggle. Two more divergent types than McGraw and Mack cannot be picked in the baseball world. The contest between the two chiefs may be summed up briefly as follows:

MACK

Aged forty-nine.
Born in New England.
Tall and lanky.
Calm and deliberate.
Leads from the bench.
Plans battle before game.
Never dons a uniform.
Known as a tactician.

McGRAW

Aged thirty-eight.

Anty Drudge on Mending.

Mrs. Housewife—"I seem to do nothing but mend and darn all the time. Half the clothes are full of holes after a few washings."

Anty Drudge—"It's the boiling of your clothes in the wash that causes you all this work, Dearie. Boiling weakens them and makes them soft just as it does meat or vegetables. Use Fels-Naptha soap in cold or lukewarm water and the clothes will wear much longer."

Did you ever wear homespun? Probably not, but your parents did. Old-time clothes were coarse and tough, able to stand the boiling and rubbing and pounding of the old-fashioned way of washing.

The delicate fabrics of to-day won't stand it. Perhaps your clothes are boiled and rubbed hard, and that is why they get frayed edges, tear easily, and wear out before their time.

Fels-Naptha soap is the modern way of washing. It cleanses clothes thoroughly in cold or lukewarm water—no boiling, no hard-rubbing, little time.

Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

Born in New York state.
Short and chubby.
Quick and impulsive.
Always on coaching lines.
Reverts to quick judgment.
Always in bad togs.
Distinctly a strategist.

And so on, with finer distinctions, the divergence might be traced and when the problem was finally worked out it would be found that about the only point of intersection in their methods is success.

Cornelius McGillicuddy, so named at birth, but rechristened by the fans as "Connie Mack," has been called the "wizard of baseball" because of his skill in developing seemingly inferior talent into the superior player. Since he organized the Philadelphia club eleven years ago he has turned out four champion teams in the American league and has led his men close to the front ranks in the league every season but one. His career has been, perhaps, the most successful of any of the so-called bench managers. Sitting back away from the dust of battle, the cool and crafty chief with pencil and score book in hand plots out the progress of the engagement and only occasionally amends the orders he gave his men before he sent them into the field. McGraw, known to fandom as the Napoleonic leader of the "Giants," has won three league pennants for New York and one world series. Since 1903 his team has never finished below third place in the National league. As a big league player he is a famous product of the old Baltimore Orioles of the National league. When the club broke up after the season of 1902 he came to the metropolis as manager of the Giants. He is, and always has been, a typical player and leader of the old fighting school whose slogan is "Rush in and win."

Whether McGraw can bring his men back to the world-beating class or must let the Mackmen possess the big flag for a second successive season depends in some part upon some of the veterans who won for him the war of 1905.

By the rules governing the world series each of the leaders is allowed to enlist 21 men capable as participants in the struggle. The choice this year has fallen to the following men:

New York	Philadelphia
Ames, p.	Baker, 3b.
Becker, utility.	Barry, ss.
Brandell, p.	Bender, p.
Cade, 2b.	Collins, 2b.

Merkle, 1b.	Murphy, rf.
Paulette, utility.	Oldring, cf.
Stodgers, cf.	Plank, p.
Witte, p.	Strunk, utility.
Wilson, c.	Thomas, c.

These 42 men and none other are eligible to play in the present series. It is probable that not more than a dozen from each list will be picked to figure in the crucial games. Of the "Giants" there are three who fought and won in the 1905 series with Philadelphia—Ames, Devlin and Christy Mathewson. Of this veteran trio the last named has been the "Giant" pitching mainstay for many years. In three of the four games won from Philadelphia in 1905 he pitched a shutout and was acclaimed the hero of the club series. In the past six years he has grown in the confidence of the New York fans, and while his most ardent admirers can hardly expect him to repeat so remarkable an achievement, he is expected to render good account of himself.

Mathewson is a native Pennsylvanian, and for one brief period was a member of the team he now opposes, but for the better part of ten years he has been with the "Giants." He first attracted attention at Bucknell university and his first professional berth was on the Taunton nine of the New England league. Twice the big fellow has pitched no-hit games. In 1908 he was credited with 37 of the "Giants" victories. He won more than two-thirds of the games he pitched this year. He is 31 years old.

Notwithstanding the confidence still placed in him it is likely that he will have less of a chance to figure as a hero in the present series as his big left-handed pitching mate, "Rube" Marquard, and Matty's junior by 8 years, has won championship distinction. The young "Southpaw," whose services cost McGraw $1,000, proved a good investment for it is mainly due to his phenomenal pitching that the "Giants" are in a position to face the Athletics for the title. He has won 21 and lost only 6 games this season. Marquard's first professional play was with the Waterloo team of the

Dyspepsia

Prominent merchant suffered for years nothing did him any good—till he took this wonderful medicine, which cured him in short order.

"I am glad to tell what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done for me and others. I suffered from dyspepsia for many years, and tried doctors, mineral waters and many drugs to no avail. I read one of your pamphlets which tells what this medicine has done and will do. So I ordered a case from my dealer and it did me so much good that I recommended it to all my friends who were feeling poorly and it has been of such benefit to them that they would not be without it."—M. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a medicine for all mankind. It corrects the defective digestion of the food, increases the appetite, strengthens the heart, gives tone to the circulation, cures throat and lung troubles, and insomnia, and brings restfulness to the brain and nervous forces. It is pleasant to the taste and can be retained by the most delicate stomach. It has in its credit fifty years of well doing. This is truly a recommendation in itself. Our files contain thousands of letters from men and women in all walks of life testifying to the wonderful cures this great medicinal whiskey has brought about. It will help you—will keep you strong and vigorous.

Iowa State league. Later he was with the Canton club of the Central league and was drafted by the Detroiters, who turned him over to Indianapolis. He proved the sensation of the American association and it took the big prize named to bring him to New York in 1908. While he possessed all kinds of speed and a varied assortment of curves he was almost a complete failure in his first seasons, but McGraw stuck to him and has been well rewarded.

Leon Ames, who has been on the "Giants" pitching staff ever since he jumped the New York State league in 1904, and George R. Willse, another former State leaguer, are the most likely candidates for relief work in the box. Otto Gramant is the fifth member of the staff.

There are six of Connie Mack's men who were with him when he fought in vain for the 1905 flag. They are Bender, Plank, Lord, Harisel, Murphy and Harry Davis. Head and shoulders above them all stands "Chief" Bender, a right-handed pitcher who was sent to the Carlisle school for his education and promptly evinced his fondness for the great white man's game. After leaving college he joined the Harrisburg, Pa. team, and in 1903 was brought into the big league by Connie Mack. He became one of a famous quintette of twirlers which brought Philadelphia into its second league championship in 1905. In the world series he was the pitching hero of the only game which the "Athletics" took from the "Giants" that year. On the other hand, to him is charged the only defeat suffered by the "Athletics" in the series with Chicago last year, though this came after he had allowed but one hit for eight innings.

With the Indian in the box is, as was the case last year, Jack Coombs, the real hero of the last series. Coombs, known as Mack's "man of iron," won three straight games in the 1910 series, a feat which the Giant Mathewson equaled in 1905.

Coombs is 27 years old. He played at Colby college in Maine, and graduated at once into big league company with the Athletics in 1906. He is exactly the same height as his pitching mate, "Chief" Bender, 6 feet 1 inch. He is a holder of records one of them being the famous 24-inning victory over Boston in 1907. During the 1910 season he went 33 innings at one stretch without letting an opposing club score on him.

Bender and Coombs will be called upon it is believed to do most of the pitching in the series at hand but as the Giants are said to be weaker before left-handers it is possible that the two "south paws" Plank and Krause will be given a chance to distinguish themselves. Plank was one of a trio of twirlers who won for Philadelphia its first taste of league championship in Mack's second year. Veteran though he is, at the age of 36, he is still able to do effective work.

In cold figures, the records of the pitchers selected for the present series is as follows:

NEW YORK GIANTS.
G.	W.	L.	SO.
Marquard	43	24	6
Brandell	42	14	5
Mathewson	46	25	15
Witte	44	14	10
Ames	25	10	9
Totals	185	87	45

G.	W.	L.	SO.
Bender	31	13	1
Coombs	45	23	11
Plank	43	21	9
Morgan	38	16	7
Krause	27	10	7
Totals	183	94	39

The back-stopping for Philadelphia will be same as last year. Ira Thomas, who took the measure of the famous John Kling, of Chicago, in last year's series, will be first choice behind the bat, and Lapp, who caught one game last year, will be a close second. Lapp is young, and this season's play has improved him.

"Big Chief" Meyers, Wilson and Hartley will catch for the Giants. But it is needless to give biographical sketches of all the newer stars of the forthcoming series. Experts agree that it is no wise to expect the outcome of the series or of a single game to be expected to rest with a single player unless it be the pitchers.

Team for team the opponents are as evenly matched as any two that ever fought for the world's title. Experts agree as to this, and recalling their mistaken judgment in picking the Chicago Cubs as a favorite last year, they are prone to play safe and do not favor the outcome of the present series to be a matter of "delightfully doubtful uncertainty."

In the betting, odds have been given on both ways. Local experts look back to the wonderful rush of the "Giants" through the closing stages of the league fight and pin their faith to McGraw's "rush them or their rest" slogan and the pitching of "Rube" and

Philadelphia supporters take account of the fact that their favorites are already world champions and that they won the title by trouncing the Chicago, National League club, which gave New York a close race for the year's league title. They believe that General Mack has plotted out a winning campaign and that his men with an average of 300 at the bat and with every ball forced quite evenly balanced in either league, will take world honors as handily as they captured the league pennant this year.

In battling the "Giants" lead the National League at 271, conceding 23 points to the Athletics who lead the American League with 281. In extra base hitting the margin of difference is smaller, but still slightly in favor of the Athletics. In the base running department the experts give advantage to McGraw's men, six of whom are leaders in fleet-footedness among the National League runners. Altogether the men have stolen 216 bases this season as compared with 223 to the credit of the Athletics.

So go comparisons, which made from any angle, see-saw from the "Giants" to the "Athletics" and back again, leaving both forces quite evenly balanced. If the weight of any one player can tip the scale it will be, experts agree, one of the pitching stars. In at least one respect the series will mark a record in baseball history, for it is estimated that more than twice as many enthusiasts will seek admission to the Polo grounds daily than can be accommodated, and the accommodation will be no greater than ever before provided in a baseball park in this country.

John T. Brush, owner of the New York club, has replaced the old wooden amphitheatre at the Polo grounds which burned early this season with a mammoth steel and concrete structure, which, when wholly finished, is expected to be the best of the several magnificent baseball parks in the country, and by the extension of outfield bleachers he has provided room, it is estimated, for nearly 60,000 spectators tomorrow.

The number is nearly a third greater than ever witnessed a ball game. Attendance records at the world series and receipts for the past six years compare as follows:

Year	Receipts	Av. Attend. Per Game
1905	$68,456.81	18,344
1906	$68,559.60	18,444
1907	$101,727.60	18,612
1908	$143,753.50	22,002
1909	$183,302.50	22,002
1910	$173,380.00	24,881

Benjamin F. Shibe, owner of the Philadelphia club, is also preparing to handle a record crowd when the playing of the big games alternates to his new park bearing the family name. The proximity of the two rival cities is expected to cause a daily flock of enthusiasts from one city to the other and by far overtax the capacity of either park.

An interesting lecture will be given this afternoon at the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. by Mrs. Charlotte Davenport, who will take as her text, "Maturity, but Not Decay."

ROBINSON MAY DIE

Man His Life

WALTHAM, Oct. 12.—John H. Robinson, aged 39, a motorman employed by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, was perhaps fatally injured yesterday noon in his efforts to stop a pair of runaway horses attached to a loaded furniture van.

Mr. Robinson was on his way to the car barn about 11:30. When on Main street, nearly opposite Rich street, he saw a pair of horses come dashing out of Rich street. He ran into the street and grabbed the bridle of one of the horses.

The animal's legs tripped Robinson as he fell. He was kicked in the face, and the heavily loaded wagon passed over his legs, breaking both.

The horses were swerved just enough to throw them into a telephone pole and they were caught.

Robinson was picked up unconscious and hurried to the Waltham hospital.

In addition to his broken legs his nose was fractured and he sustained multiple cuts and bruises. It is also feared that he is injured internally.

On a previous occasion Robinson caught a man who had assaulted a policeman and held him until other officers arrived.

RECORD SHOOTING

Company A Made a
Score of 673

WAKEFIELD, Oct. 12.—It was a record day at the Bay State rifle range yesterday, both in attendance of marksmen and in scores attained.

A of Wakefield, which captured the state trophy in the recent match with a score that at the time was a record for the range, added to its laurels yesterday in the competition of regimental team winners by distancing all its rivals and setting a new high mark, not only for the range but for the state, if not the world, its total score being 673.

The remarkable nature of this attainment becomes apparent when it is remembered that under the conditions of this match, 10 men on a team, with five shots and one sighting shot, at 200, 300 and 600 yards, the possible is 750. Co. A's record thus is only 77 below possible.

At the different ranges its totals were: 200 yards 212, 300 yards 235, 600 yards 226. Private Reid of A Company, 6th, was high man with 72. The winning team by its victory yesterday receives a special trophy offered by the state.

Meeting Great Success

The second meeting of the Y. M. C. A. "Campaign for 1000 Members" committee was held Wednesday night at the rooms of the association in Hurd street and the reports of the said committee were very gratifying, for 87 new members and $424 in cash payments were reported.

A supper was served at 6:30 o'clock and after the meal President Bowen called the meeting to order and introduced Rev. Caleb E. Fisher, D. D., who spoke for a few minutes on the subject, "Enthusiasm." His remarks were listened to with great interest and they were followed by the reports from the captain of each team. Team 1, E. A. Bowser, led in results Wednesday night, handing in 13 names and $71 in cash. Teams 2 and 4, with seven members and $25 in cash apiece, were tied for second place.

The meeting was closed with interesting remarks by James P. Ramsay, who spoke on "Environment."

Man Met With Serious
Injury

WORCESTER, Oct. 12.—Joseph Archambeau, 2 Sutton lane, was run over and dangerously injured yesterday by a heavily loaded motor truck in Sutton while assisting his employer, Henry M. Masse, 34 South Gate street, in moving a vanload of furniture.

With another helper he jumped off the car as they were climbing a steep hill. At the top of the hill he tried to jump aboard while the auto was in motion and fell under the forward wheel, which passed over him.

The left leg was broken, painful bruises and cuts were inflicted about the face and he suffered severely from shock. Neither of the physicians in West Union could be reached and it was almost an hour before an auto could be brought to the scene.

Archambeau was brought to City hospital then in a weakened condition and his name was put on the dangerous list.

FOUND BY SON

HEART TROUBLE

FREEMONT, Me., Oct. 12.—When Albert H. Woodman returned home to dinner yesterday he missed his mother, Mrs. Lucy Woodman, and after searching through the house looked around the yard.

He found her lying across the doorstep of the back house. She had apparently been dead for some time.

Mrs. Woodman had recently been a sufferer with heart trouble and, it is supposed, had an attack while feeding her hens. She was born in Freeport 57 years ago, the daughter of Nelson and Phoebe Curtis. Her husband is working in South Waltham.

She is also survived by two sons, Clarence A. Woodman of Boston and Alfred H. Woodman of Freeport; two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Cobb of Wakefield, Mass., and Mrs. James Mann of Freeport, and a brother, Owen Curtis of Freeport.

WOMAN A SUICIDE

She Was Despondent
Over Ill Health

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Despondent because of poor health, Jennie Sorota, aged 28, a lodger at 76 Lawrence avenue, committed suicide yesterday morning by inhaling illuminating gas in her room.

The young woman was a lodger in the flat of Harry Greenberg, where she had lived for seven months. Of late she had been brooding over her illness and complained to other occupants.

Yesterday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg arose they smelled gas and traced it to the woman's room. A physician was summoned, but it was found that the young woman had been dead some time. Medical Examiner Timothy Leary was summoned and after an investigation pronounced death due to suicide. The young woman came from Russia about nine years ago and was employed as a buttonhole maker.

WINS IN CALIFORNIA BY MARGIN
OF 1678

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Woman suffrage has triumphed in California. Returns late yesterday wiped out the majority previously recorded against the amendment and show this turn the margin in favor of the amendment has increased steadily.

Totals last night were: For suffrage, 119,096; against 117,418. Majority for the amendment 1678.

These figures represent the returns from 2717 precincts out of a total of 3121 in the state. Virtually all of the remaining precincts are in counties which have given suffrage majorities.

So overwhelming was the vote in favor of the other important amendments, the initiative and referendum, and the recall, including the judiciary, that tabulation was suspended with nearly a third of the precincts remaining unreported. The final count taken showed the following results:

For the initiative and referendum 128,181; against 44,850.

For the recall 148,572; against 46,299.

Monster Columbus Day Parade
Was Held in Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Thirty-five thousand men marched past half a million spectators yesterday afternoon in Boston's second celebration of Columbus day. More than 200 organizations, forming five divisions of the civic parade, headed by a military escort and stepping to the strains of nearly 30 bands, participated in the demonstration to the discoverer of the western world.

At four reviewing stands leading executives of church, state and city, with Lieut. Col. John H. Dunn, chief marshal of the parade, stood while ranks of men filed past in salute for nearly four hours. The sidewalks along the route of the procession, from its beginning to its end, were packed, windows were crowded, and the very roofs were fringed with people who clapped and cheered as the ranks marched by. The weather was almost perfect for both marchers and spectators.

Many Special Features

Interesting features followed one another in quick succession. While the parade was essentially a civic one, the presence of the military escort and of uniformed semi-military bodies at frequent intervals prevented the succession of the thousands of dark clad men with their white gloves and Columbus day souvenir buttons on coat lapels from growing at any time monotonous. A score of artistic floats, decked with flowers and ribbons and peopled by men, women and children in costumes of centuries that are past, were in line, illustrating for the most part historically familiar incidents connected with the adventures and discoveries of Columbus. Hundreds of large American flags and ensigns waved in advance of the marching societies, and the ranks were brightened by small pennants or national flags carried by each man.

Marchers Show Rare Training

In their precision of movement the societies displayed the result of weeks of training. Praise for the alignment kept by most of the civilian bodies was voiced everywhere. The various civic divisions compared favorably with the first military division in this respect.

The parade started at the corner of Hereford and Beacon streets and took the following route: Beacon to Tremont, to Court, to Washington, to Temple place, to Tremont, to Boylston, to Park square, the dismissal point. Gov. Ross and his staff occupied the first reviewing stand at the state house. At the next, on Tremont, opposite West, Archbishop O'Connell and Bishop Anderson, with 50 of the monsignors and pastors of the archdiocese, greeted the paraders. Mayor Fitzgerald, members of the city council, the national officers of the Knights of Columbus and 1200 other people were in the third grandstand. Chief Marshal Dunn and his staff were at the final reviewing point.

Japannery at Mansfield
Badly Damaged

MANFIELD, Oct. 12.—The Riverside Japannery, one of Mansfield's large plants, last night was damaged nearly $5000 by fire. About 10 o'clock Watchman Ledwick discovered flames pouring from the building containing oils and varnishes.

An alarm was sounded from box 45 and the entire fire department was soon on the scene. By excellent work the blaze was confined to the oil building, though there was a high wind.

Chief Engineer King put a squad of men on the main plant and protected that and other buildings from flying sparks.

The Riverside Japannery is owned by out-of-town parties with George W. Priest of Newton as manager. The plant has been closed down of late, preparatory to moving the business to Pennsylvania.

Chief King believes last night's fire was due to spontaneous combustion.

The Police and Soldiers Hunting for Him

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—While scores of civilians and policemen, detectives, United States soldiers and police dogs are still hunting for the man who brutally beat Miss Agnes Waugh in a field near her home in the Fort Hamilton section of Brooklyn Wednesday evening, the 19-year-old girl victim is hovering between life and death at the Norwegian hospital.

The girl's injuries include a fractured skull, more than a hundred bruises and an injury to her eye that may cause a loss of sight. She was delivered most of yesterday, and has been continually crying: "That club! Take away that club!"

Police Commissioner Waldo has taken personal charge of the case. The description Miss Waugh could give of her assailant "as very meagre. One theory is that the man was a lunatic, previously supposed to be harmless."

Young Lawyer Sends Bullet Into His Brain

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—True to a threat of suicide expressed in a letter written yesterday, Harold Bruff, a young lawyer, was found dead with a bullet hole in his head and a revolver beside him in an uptown hotel yesterday.

The letter was written by Bruff to his brother in Bridgeport, Ct. The brother telephoned his father in Brooklyn, and Bruff Sr., called up the hotel asking if an accident had befallen his son. Acting upon the telephone request hotel attendants forced an entrance to the young man's room and learned for the first time of the

PITTSBURG, Oct. 13.—A convention of thousands of miners will be held here Oct. 30-31 under the auspices of the federal bureau of mines. The object of the meeting is to instruct miners in the scientific methods of rescue work. President Taft will attend. One of the features will be an artificial mine explosion, which will be set off to produce conditions like those in mines after blowups. The government experts will then show how life saving apparatus should be used. Oxygen helmets and cylinders of oxygen are important agencies in the rescue work. Government experts equipped with life saving contrivances are shown in the accompanying illustration. These men under the direction of Dr. Joseph A. elder Bruff said that his son had sought health recently in Europe, but without apparent success.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD

Was in Good Health When She Retired Last Night

Mrs. Joseph Beauparlant nee Emma Denault was found dead in her bed this morning at 3:30 o'clock knocked at her door for his breakfast. There was no response to his call and he then opened the door and to his astonishment found the woman lying in her bed apparently lifeless. Dr. Ball, assistant medical examiner, was called and he pronounced death as being due to natural causes.

Mrs. Beauparlant had been ill a couple of weeks ago and at that time she consulted Dr. Halloran. After her visit to the physician's office she no longer complained of her illness, and last night she retired at her usual hour, apparently in the best of health.

Mrs. Beauparlant had a boarder at her home, Joseph Michaud, who this morning at 3:30 o'clock knocked at her door for his breakfast. There was no response to his call and he then opened the door and to his astonishment found the woman lying in her bed apparently lifeless. Dr. Ball, assistant medical examiner, was called and he pronounced death as being due to natural causes.

Deceased was 33 years, 11 months and 13 days of age, and she is survived by a husband and a child at St. Tithe, Que., two sisters, Edith Denault and Mrs. Georgiana Gravelle, and a brother, Alfred Denault of Fall River.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

James Duffy Has Passed Away After Brief Illness

Mr. James Duffy, an old resident of Belvidere, died last night at his home, 192 Pleasant street. He is survived by his wife, Anne, two daughters, Miss Catherine Duffy and Mrs. Peter McNulty, and two sons, Rev. John C. Duffy, O. M. I., of Buffalo, N. Y., and Rev. James E. Duffy of Saranac Lake, N. Y. He was a member of Post 42, G. A. R., the Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception church, and a charter member of Court Gen. Butler, P. of A.

The deceased was for years a resident of St. Patrick's parish and always took a deep interest in church affairs. He was a man of quiet, retiring disposition, who made many friends because of his humble ways. For a number of years he held a responsible position in the Merrimack Manufacturing Co. and always performed his duties faithfully and commanded the respect of these under him and his employers had perfect confidence in him. He will be missed by the older residents and his family has the heartfelt sympathy of all.

He enjoyed very good health up to within a few days and the news of his death came as a surprise to his neighbors and friends. A funeral notice appears in another column.

COLUMBUS DAY

The memory and genius of Columbus and the incalculable value of his discovery to humanity in general were eloquently set forth at the banquet of the Knights of Columbus last night, while the celebration as a whole was in every respect creditable to the city and to those who had it in charge. The qualities which enabled Columbus to lift the veil of ocean were held up as an inspiration to all who would win success in the face of great difficulties, while the country he discovered was extolled as the home of freedom, the refuge of the oppressed and the beacon light of the world. One of the speakers at the banquet put it forcibly when he said the day would come when Columbus, Washington and Lincoln would be the trinity of great men honored in the United States.

PREDATORY INTERESTS DEMAND DEFEAT OF FOSS

The money power, the trust power and the ally of both—the republican national party, have all combined to defeat Governor Foss. This explains why the republican press is whooping it up for the republican stripping, Frothingham, and bitterly denouncing Foss without being able to tell the reason why.

The Massachusetts senators are appealed to by the republican leaders to bring this state into line by electing a republican governor. That is why Governor Foss is denounced without cause. It is why the ultra conservative republicans are out for the standard candidate, to throttle the movement that would revise the tariff downward, and admit food stuffs and raw material free as favored by the democratic platform. Frothingham stands upon a platform of evasion, which means that the trusts and combines, the money power and the railroads will be in the saddle if he is elected. He is but the tool of the most unprogressive element in the republican party. Foss is the leader of the progressive spirit on the democratic side. He has made an excellent governor and if the people care for their own interests or the prosperity of the state they will triumphantly re-elect him in November. With democratic governors in Maine, New Jersey and Connecticut, the republicans are at their wits end to bring back old Massachusetts to the republican column before the presidential election. For this purpose Wall street will exert its influence to break the phalanx of democratic states in New England and Foss is singled out for the attack. Under such circumstances the democrats and independent voters of the Bay State should close their ranks and stand solidly by Governor Foss, who represents progress and popular rights as against the predatory interests of the state and nation.

IS THE MUNICIPAL BOARD TOO SMALL?

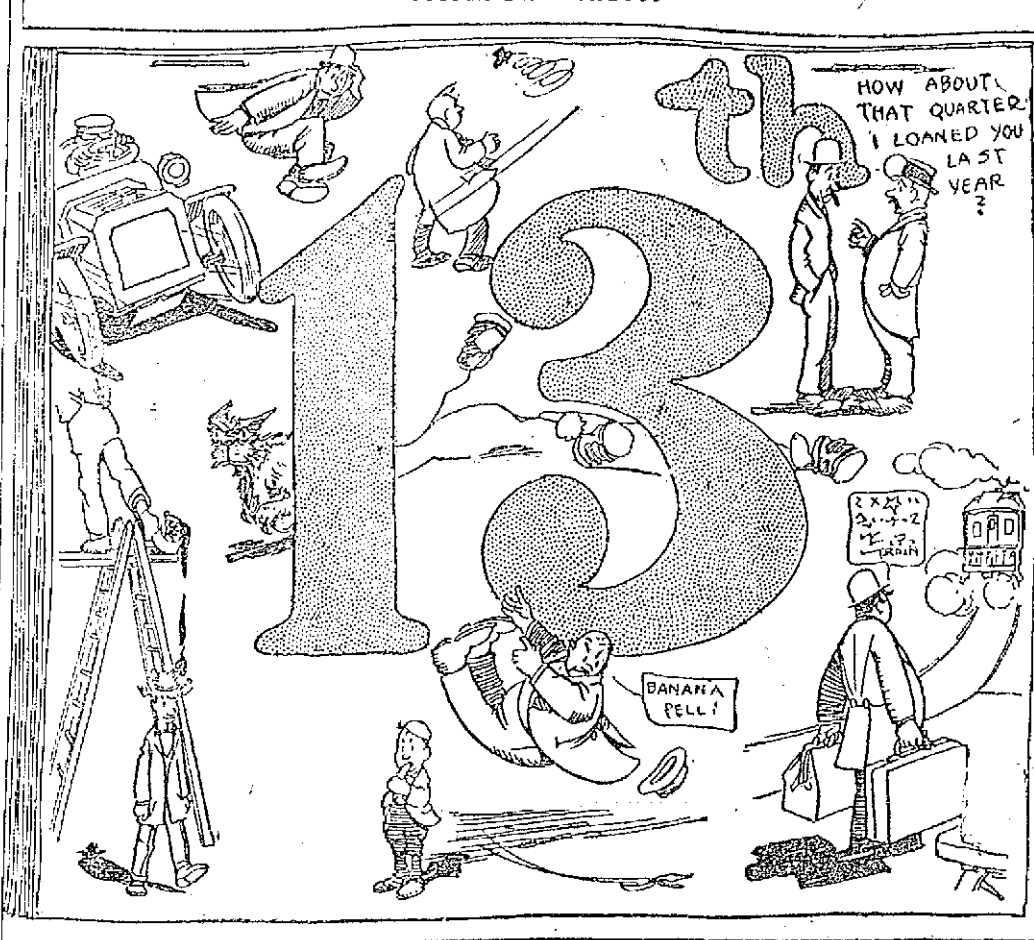

Editor Sun: Do you think it is right to turn the government of this city over to five men? What chance will the children of any poor man have under such a system? The smallness of the board is what the people dislike.

Yours truly,
Sun Reader.

This is the chord upon which the opponents of the charter are mainly harping. To turn the city government over to five men, or three men, under no greater restraint than our present city officials are under would be wrong, absurd and even criminal. But the municipal board of five members, including the mayor, are under the absolute control of the people. If any of the members do wrong one-fifth of the voters can order a special election to remove him from office; if the board refuses to pass measures demanded by the people, the latter by the initiative can force its enactment; if the municipal board passes measures that are regarded as dangerous the people can hold them up by the referendum. No measure passed by the council can take effect in less than ten days after enactment. If a franchise be granted to any company that cannot take effect for thirty days, so that the citizens have ample time to take measures to stop it if they consider it dangerous. Where then is the danger from placing five men in charge of the government, same as a board of directors are in charge of a large corporation? Members of the municipal board are required to give their time to the city's business and are paid for their services. Each member is held strictly responsible for the department specially assigned to him and all are responsible for the general results. The mayor is to have charge of the department of public safety but will have no veto upon the acts of the council. Thus will be overcome for all time the one man power and the deadlocks which caused so much delay in the past and thus the city's business will be promptly attended to and the city's best interests properly protected at all times. What will be the result? The same as in every city in which the new form of charter is adopted—and properly applied—better public service in general, but principally a better and more prompt response to the demands of public necessity in all cases. That would mean a system of public baths, a public hall, a contagious hospital and many public improvements that would never be carried out under our present system unless at the most extravagant expenditure. It would mean that if the departments exceeded their appropriations the commissioners in charge would be liable to a fine of $1000 and one year in jail. That would stop borrowing to meet current expenses and it would therefore put an end to one of the greatest irregularities in connection with our city government.

While the voters hold over the five men the recall, the initiative and referendum, and while any gross irregularity becomes a criminal offense we would like to know how or by what means the five commissioners could menace the public. Moreover the commissioners will be the men the voters want, not the men favored by any coterie. Hence it is absurd to assume that the poor boy has not fully as good a chance as the rich. Everybody who can get a petition signed by twenty-five voters may be a candidate at the preliminary election and the two candidates for any office getting the highest vote will be the nominees. Is there anything unfair in that? The fact is that a whole lot of boogies are circulated about this charter and the average voter will be deceived by them unless he judges for himself and rejects the advice of politicians out to defeat the charter for their own selfish ends.

FATEFUL FRIDAY

SEEN AND HEARD

Well, Columbus discovered a great country.

And now the questions are? Who are going to run this great country discovered by Columbus and under what kind of a charter?

Here's one from Jack Chagnon, the well known actor: Jack says: "I was playing a leading part in the lurid melodrama in a New York theatre some years ago when new at the business and before an audience which from orchestra to gallery was fairly eating up the show. We had a great climax to the final act. The villain is come in and go to him. We struggle against the wall on which are hanging a pair of crossed swords. The impact of our bodies against the wall behind the scenes causes the swords to fall to the floor within our reach. Immediately we each grab a sword and regain our feet start in on a duel to the end. Just as I was in the act of putting the finishing touches on the villain a kid in the gallery in a voice reeking with excitement cried out in a shrill treble: "Kill the villain!" Just then I stabbed the villain and he fell to the floor of the stage. Up jumps a woman from an orchestra seat crying at the top of her voice: "He done it!" What certain couldn't get down quick enough for that "dead" villain and his slayer."

The Champlain market in Quebec is quite an interesting place. The farmers congregate there at an early hour in the morning with their produce. Each farmer has a stand where he displays and sells his goods at retail. The people come, make their purchases and carry away their supplies in baskets.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Fall River Globe: While Senator Lodge is on the stump mourning the probable removal of the cotton industry of New England to the south, bag and baggage, in case Gov. Ross is re-elected it might be well for him to tell the voters he is trying to decide why the present tariff hasn't been able to keep the mills running half of the time for a year or so, either in New England or the south.

Have you ever crossed the line between the U. S. and Canada? Our train was held up there for half an hour while the Canadian customs officer passed through the train performing his duty. Most of our baggage had been bonded through but that not bonded was opened and carefully inspected. While this was being done many of our party got off the train and inspected the premises. The boundary line is marked by a stone post and by sitting on the post you could have one foot in Canada and the other in the U. S. Nearly everybody sat on the post. Mayor Adams of Salem, one of our party, delivered a speech in the U. S. that was heard in Canada. At this point there is a so-called hotel, the "Tine House," part of which is in the U. S. and the rest in Canada. It is said that when there is no license in the Canadian town the bar is moved to the U. S. end of the house, where the business is conducted. Architect Davis of Lowell was very much interested in the plan of the house and made a sketch of it, perhaps with the intention of building a similar one between Lowell and Detroit, should Lowell ever go "No" again. But, former Commissioner Beals allowed that while it was a pretty good stunt, he didn't think the Lowell police board would stand for it here, and he ought to know.

The numbers on the automobiles in Canada are similar to those of Massachusetts, blue background and white figures.

In Montreal the licensed liquor saloons open at 7 a. m. and close at 10 p. m. five nights a week and on Saturdays they close at 7 p. m. The department stores close at 6 p. m. Saturdays.

To those contemplating a trip to Canada the following regarding the customs have some interesting details. Residents of the United States must declare all articles which have been obtained abroad by purchase or otherwise, whether used or unused, and whether on their persons, in their clothing, or in their baggage. The foreign value of each article, stated in United States money, must also be declared.

Articles taken from the United States and remodeled, repaired, or improved abroad must be declared and the cost of such remodeling, repairing, or improving must be separately stated.

The following articles are dutiable: Household effects, including books, pictures, furniture, table ware, table linen, bed linen and other similar articles, unless used abroad by the owner for a period of a year or more. Goods in the piece.

Articles of any nature intended for sale, or for other persons.

The following articles are free if under $100 in value and if necessary for comfort and convenience for the purposes of the journey, and not for sale, nor for other persons:

Clothing. Toilet articles, such as combs, brushes, soaps, cosmetics, shaving, and manicure sets, etc.

Personal adornments, jewelry, etc. Similar personal effects, which may include cameras, canes, fishing tackle, glasses (field, opera, marine), golf sticks, guns, musical instruments, pistols, photographs, smokers' articles, steamers, and shawls, toys, trunks, valises, etc.

Clothing and other personal effects taken out of the United States by the passenger if not increased in value or improved in condition while abroad, if increased in value or improved in condition.

When the firemen arrived on the scene the blaze was breaking through the roof of the wooden frame building. Several lines of hose were laid and after a sharp battle the department had the fire under control.

The blaze was in a most dangerous locality, old wooden buildings being crowded on every available foot of land, and only the prompt work by the fire department prevented a bad conflagration.

Box 5 was rung in immediately after the first box and caused some little apprehension, but the alarm was not necessary.

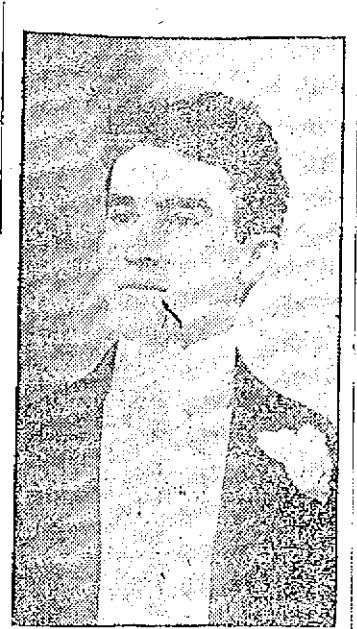

The laundry was owned and operated by Thomas Scaperdas.

A very interesting illustrated lecture on Christopher Columbus was given on Wednesday night at St. Joseph's college. The attendance was very large and the lecture, which was given by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I. was very interesting.

CHANGE OF FIRM

JAMES BUCKLEY WILL CONDUCT CIGAR STORE

The cigar and tobacco firm known as Buckley Bros. Co., has undergone a change and Mr. Louis Weller, who has been a member of the company for several years has sold his interest to Mr. James H. Buckley, and in the future the business will be carried on by Mr. James H. Buckley. This manufacturing has been known as the home of "Buckley's," a cigar which has attained some notoriety as a "good smoker." The cigar like the proprietor is very popular. Jimmy can certainly boast of being one of the best known men in town and he is the "king of the smokers." Mr. Buckley is the well known proprietor of the "Lodge" is on the stump mourning the probable removal of the cotton industry of New England to the south, bag and baggage, in case Gov. THE HARRISMAN STRIKE

Los Angeles Express: The Harrisman lines refuse to recognize the federation of their employees. The federation, therefore refuses to recognize the Harrisman lines. And neither the Harrisman lines nor the federation appear inclined to recognize the rights of the public in the least.

HELPING SOME AGED WORKERS
Brockton Enterprise: The plan of John Hays Hammond, who has provided a "snug harbor" for Gloucester fishermen who have become old and incapable of hard work, has appealed to a lot of people. It is far better than sending them to an almshouse, and the cases of their old fellows who have done a lot of hard grinding work, have encountered danger and privation and have been but poorly paid for it all. The thought will doubtless occur to many people that it would be a fine thing if rich men in every city should provide similarly for broken down and poorly paid men who have for almost a lifetime attended to the principal business of their city, whatever it may be. In good sized cities of course it would probably require a combination of a considerable number of men to take care of all the cases that would be found, but in smaller places a man of real wealth could probably handle the cases alone, and make himself a great name by so doing.

ON THE CHARTER
Editor Lowell Sun: Dear Sir—In reference to the new charter, I would like to suggest that if the sponsors of it had made the park commission and police board an issue like the other parts in the elaborate program, there would be no question but it would be voted on favorably. But these are minor details that soon disappear. All these vexed questions of municipal strife would come under the same plan and the same new rule. As it is, there might be a decided improvement on the present system. It cannot be any worse, and there is a chance that our financial condition will show up better and more free from graft and spoil. One thing also very favorable to this new plan is that neither the present city government nor any preceding one has at any time produced any results to show that we are a prosperous or progressive city. We are always borrowing money and have no great bank account for financial purposes. It seems that the city officials were only barely keeping afloat from the debt limit. Now this is not business, neither is it economy or prudence? The best way is to leave all prejudices aside and vote for the charter, as it is, even if it is wanting in some respects. It will be a step nearer the goal of popular and direct government. Any minor defects can be changed later.

BLAZE IN LAUNDRY
Burned Through Roof of Building

An alarm from box 154 at 8:22 o'clock Wednesday night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the Cushing laundry at 153 Cushing street.

When the firemen arrived on the scene the blaze was breaking through the roof of the wooden frame building. Several lines of hose were laid and after a sharp battle the department had the fire under control.

The blaze was in a most dangerous locality, old wooden buildings being crowded on every available foot of land, and only the prompt work by the fire department prevented a bad conflagration.

How I Made My Hair Grow

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescription Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed, none of them made my hair grow so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious and from my own experience, I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures, I finally found a simple prescription which I can unhesitatingly state is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it, and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It is not only a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition. It also makes the hair easy to comb and arrange in new form. I have a friend who used it two months, and during that time it has not only stopped the falling of her hair, but it wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all of her hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients from almost any drug store. The prescription is as follows: Bay Rum 1 oz., Menthol Crystals 2 drachms, Lavender de Composee, 2 oz. If you like it perfumed, add a few drops of Talcum Perfume, which mixes perfectly with the other ingredients. This, however, is not necessary.

Apply night and morning; rub thoroughly into the scalp.

Go to your druggist and ask for an eight ounce bottle containing six ounces of Bay Rum; also one-half drachm of Menthol Crystals, and a two-ounce bottle of Lavender de Composee. Mix the ingredients yourself at your own home. Add the Menthol Crystals to the Bay Rum and then pour in the Lavender de Composee and add the Talcum Perfume. Let it stand one-half hour and it is ready for use.

Elmer-James Drug Co., the well-known and popular druggists of this city, have filed this formula for many of their patrons and state that the satisfaction from its use is so great that they have found it necessary to make special orders to fill the prescription promptly and carefully.

SHOT IN THE EYE

Frederick W. Barrows is Victim of an Accident

Frederick W. Barrows, who conducts a liquor saloon in Davis square, was accidentally shot by a companion while hunting in the vicinity of Gumpus pond yesterday and may lose the sight of his right eye. At the time of going to press this afternoon, however, the report from his home said that he is resting comfortably and shows considerable improvement since yesterday.

Barrows and a friend of his, who are fond of hunting, went to the vicinity of Gumpus pond yesterday for the purpose of bagging some partridges. They had been in the country but a short time when Barrows' companion blazed away at some partridge and in some unaccountable manner the shot went wild and struck Barrows in the right eye.

A carriage was secured and Barrows was hurried to this city and a physician summoned and in the evening an eye specialist from Boston was called and made an X-ray examination. The Boston physician decided to wait for several days in order to ascertain if it will be necessary to perform an operation.

MAN CLUBBED GIRL

The Police and Soldiers Hunting for Him

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—While scores of civilians and policemen, detectives, United States soldiers and police dogs are still hunting for the man who brutally beat Miss Agnes Vaughn in a field near her home in the Fort Hamilton section of Brooklyn Wednesday evening,

ing, the 19-year-old girl victim is hovering between life and death at the Norwegian hospital.

The girl's injuries include a fractured skull, more than a hundred bruises and an injury to her eyes that may cause a loss of sight. She was delivered most of yesterday, and has been continually crying: "That club! Take away that club!"

Police Commissioner Waldo has taken personal charge of the case. The description Miss Vaughn could give of her assailant was very meagre. One theory is that the man was a lunatic, previously supposed to be harmless.

MAN SHOT HIMSELF

Young Lawyer Sends Bullet Into His Brain

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—True to a threat of suicide expressed in a letter written yesterday, Harold Bruff, a young lawyer, was found dead with a bullet hole in his head and a revolver beside him in an uptown hotel yesterday.

The letter was written by Bruff to his brother in Bridgeport, Ct. The brother telephoned his father in Brooklyn, and Bruff Sr. called up the hotel asking if an accident had befallen his son. Acting upon the telephonic request hotel attendants forced an entrance to the young man's room and learned for the first time of the shooting.

EXPERT LIFE SAVERS AND APPARATUS WILL BE EXHIBITED AT MINERS' MEETING

REVIVING AN ASPHYXIATED PERSON

PITTSBURG, Oct. 13.—A convention of thousands of miners will be held here Oct. 30-31 under the auspices of the federal bureau of mines. The object of the meeting is to instruct miners in the scientific methods of rescue work. President Taft will attend. One of the features will be an artificial mine explosion, which will be set off to produce conditions like those in mines after blowups. The government experts will then show how life saving apparatus should be used. Oxygen helmets and cylinders of oxygen are important agencies in the rescue work. Government experts equipped with life saving contrivances are shown in the accompanying illustration. Those men under the direction of Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, chief of the United States bureau of mines, will give demonstrations at the coming convention.

EQUIPPED FOR MINE WORK

A physician who examined the dead man said he had been in ill health for a long time.

The father and Bridgeport brother later identified the body at the hotel.

Harold Bruff was graduated from Yale University in 1905 and from Harvard law school in 1908. The elder Bruff said that his son had bought health recently in Europe, but without apparent success.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD

Was in Good Health When She Retired Last Night

Mrs. Joseph Beauportant nee Emma Denault was found dead in her bed this morning at her home, 454 Gorham street, death being due to natural causes.

Mrs. Beauportant had been ill a couple of weeks ago and at that time she consulted Dr. Halloran. After her visit to the physician's office she no longer complained of her illness, and last night she retired at her usual hour, apparently in the best of health. Mrs. Beauportant had a boarder at her home, Joseph Michaud, who this morning at 5:30 o'clock knocked at her door for his breakfast. There was no response to his call and he then opened the door and to his astonishment found the woman lying in her bed apparently lifeless. Dr. Bell, assistant medical examiner, was called and he pronounced death as being due to natural causes.

Deceased was 38 years, 11 months and 18 days of age, and she is survived by a husband and a child at St. Yve, Que., two sisters, Estelle Denault and Mrs. Georgiana Gravelle, and a brother, Alfred Denault of Fall River.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

James Duffy Has Passed Away After Brief Illness

Mr. James Duffy, an old resident of Belvidere, died last night at his home, 102 Pleasant street. He is survived by his wife, Anne, two daughters, Miss Catherine Duffy and Mrs. Peter McNulty, and two sons, Rev. John C. Duffy, O. M. I., of Buffalo, N. Y., and Rev. James E. Duffy of Saranac Lake, N. Y. He was a member of Post 42, G. A. R., the Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception church, and a charter member of Court Gen. Butler, F. of A.

The deceased was for years a resident of St. Patrick's parish and always took a deep interest in church affairs. He was a man of quiet, retiring disposition, who made many friends because of his humble ways. For a number of years he held a responsible position in the Merrimack Manufacturing Co. and always performed his duties faithfully and commanded the respect of those under him and his employers had perfect confidence in him. He will be missed by the older residents and his family has the heartfelt sympathy of all.

He enjoyed very good health up to within a few days and the news of his death came as a surprise to his neighbors and friends. A funeral notice appears in another column.

STEAMER DISABLED 400 Barrels of Gasoline Were Thrown Overboard

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 13.—Some-where off Portland harbor, probably disabled and at the mercy of wind and wave, the freight steamer Massasoit, bound from Boston for Portland and other Maine ports was struggling today to reach this port. The observer at Portland observatory could see 20 miles but at 10 a. m. could find no trace of the steamer. Neither had she been sighted from Cape Elizabeth life-saving station. The Massasoit's predicament was reported by the steamer Camden, bound from Boston for Rockland and Bangor, when she arrived five hours late at Rockland this forenoon. The Camden at 10 o'clock last night found the Massasoit in distress off Cape Elizabeth lights. Her engines were broken down and the Camden was asked to stand by, which she did for five hours. Failing in an attempt to secure assistance by wireless communication, the Camden decided to come into Portland for a tug. Outside the harbor she found a tug with a tow and with the tug started back to the Massasoit. The steamer's engines had been repaired temporarily and she was forced limping toward port. The Camden then proceeded to Rockland and the tug returned to her tow. The Massasoit had been rolling heavily in the trough of the sea and was helpless with a northwest gale blowing when the Camden came up with her. Her cargo consisted mainly of gasoline, shipped to Searsport. The deckload of 400 barrels of gasoline had been thrown overboard to lighten the ship.

The Massasoit was due here at 7 p. m. The fact that she was not visible this forenoon indicated that she had been blown off shore by the gale and had continued northwest. She has a crew of about 20 men.

THREE MEN KILLED

Laborers Were Struck by a Train

CHESTER, Oct. 13.—Train 24 on the B. & A. R. R. struck and killed three men yesterday morning about two miles west of this town. The victims had been employed as laborers by T. J. Walsh of New Haven, who had the contract for straightening rails. They did not hear the train, which was running about 30 miles an hour and was eastward bound.

The dead are Paul Frederick of Pittsfield, aged 40; Louis Wyerous, aged 25, of New Haven, Conn.; and John Buchels, aged 28, of New Haven. Engineer Hewitt of Pittsfield was in charge of the train, but did not see the men at work on the track, and the express struck them before he could reverse the brakes.

HIGHLAND COUNCIL, R. A. The regular meeting of Highland Council 770, R. A., was held in Highland hall, Branch street, Thursday evening. Routine business was transacted, five applications for membership were received, and a committee appointed to arrange a bowling tournament for the winter. After the meeting the supervising Deputy gave a very interesting talk to the members and their friends, after which a social hour of whist was enjoyed. First prize went to Clarence Edwards; second, George Gunney; third, Eugene Stillings; fourth, Fred Jones.

KID MERCIER

WON THE DECISION OVER HENRY POWERS

LAWRENCE, Oct. 13.—Kid Mercier of this city won the decision over Harry Powers of Brooklyn last night at the end of the 12th round before the members of the Unity club. Powers stalled during the last round and managed to stay.

In the semi-final Tony Murphy of Lawrence won from Jimmy Quinlan of Dunvers after six fast rounds. In the preliminaries Young Vandy of Lawrence and Johnny Cronin of Newburyport drew, and Joe McDonough of Lawrence knocked out Young Sullivan, also of Lawrence, in the third round. STEAMER DISABLED 400 Barrels of Gasoline Were Thrown Overboard

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 13.—Some-where off Portland harbor, probably disabled and at the mercy of wind and wave, the freight steamer Massasoit, bound from Boston for Portland and other Maine ports was struggling today to reach this port. The observer at Portland observatory could see 20 miles but at 10 a. m. could find no trace of the steamer. Neither had she been sighted from Cape Elizabeth life-saving station. The Massasoit's predicament was reported by the steamer Camden, bound from Boston for Rockland and Bangor, when she arrived five hours late at Rockland this forenoon. The Camden at 10 o'clock last night found the Massasoit in distress off Cape Elizabeth lightship. Her engines were broken down and the Camden was asked to stand by, which she did for five hours. Failing in an attempt to secure assistance by wireless communication, the Camden decided to come in to Portland for a tug. Outside the harbor she found a tug with a tow and with the tug started back to the Massasoit. The steamer's engines had been repaired temporarily and she was found limping toward port. The Camden then proceeded to Rockland and the tug returned to her tow. The Massasoit had been rolling heavily in the trough of the sea and was helpless with a northwest gale blowing when the Camden came up with her. Her cargo consisted mainly of gasoline, shipped to Searsport. The deckload of 400 barrels of gasoline had been thrown overboard to lighten the ship.

The Massasoit was due here at 7 p. m. The fact that she was not visible this forenoon indicated that she had been blown off shore by the gale and had continued northwest. She has a crew of about 20 men.

Engineer Hewitt of Pittsfield was in charge of the train, but did not see the men at work on the track, and the express struck them before he could reverse the brakes.

SINGHI HAS BEEN FOUND

Former Lowell Man and His Wife Reported Reunited

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—Ferdinand Singh and wife have patched matters up. An on my way home. This dispatch was received from Boston by Captain of Detectives Sonder last night and was signed by Detective Coogan of the local detective staff, who located both the son-in-law and grandchild of Sigmund Lubin within five miles of Boston on Wednesday. Singh and his three-year-old son Kingston disappeared from his home here Oct. 1. After detective agencies throughout the country failed to find a trace of the father and child, the case was placed in the hands of the detective bureau.

Monday night Capt. Sonder and Detective Coogan discovered the hiding place of an automobile in which Mr. Singh and his son made a hasty flight to the railroad station. Coogan then went to Boston and learned that the father and child were staying at the home of friends near that city. Meanwhile Mr. Lubin and Mrs. Singh, having heard that the objects of their search were in Lowell, Mass., went there, but in vain. They then offered a liberal reward for a clue to the whereabouts of the missing relatives.

On Wednesday, when they returned to Boston, crestfallen over their unsuccessful quest, Detective Coogan met them with the announcement that he had traced the husband and child to a Boston suburb.

Visit Singh Home

Deputy Sheriff Stiles of Lowell accompanied Sigmund Lubin and his daughter, Mrs. Ferdinand Singh, to Sigmund Singh's house in Billerica Centre yesterday afternoon. What took place there Mr. Stiles does not know, as he remained outside. He says no legal documents were served on anyone. Mr. Stiles says court proceedings have been begun. He went with Mr. Lubin and his daughter at the request of counsel.

COFFEE

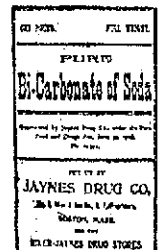

EVERYBODY knows that coffee prices are higher than they have been in 16 years. Most dealers have advanced their prices many months ago. Up to the present time we have not changed our price, but will be forced to advance it 4 cents beginning next Monday. These few cents do not represent the actual advance in cost to us.

We had to either advance the price or lower the quality of the blend. We built up our business on quality goods, and decided that the public was sufficiently informed regarding the coffee situation and would prefer to pay a few cents more for the same blend rather than buy a poorer coffee at the old price.

This announcement is for the purpose of giving everyone an opportunity to lay in a supply at the old price. Beginning Monday price will be 28c pound, and a further advance may become necessary later.

(From "Health and Beauty")
Further evidence is being presented almost daily that a recent compound of new chemical elements combined in a tablet with hypophosphites is in reality proving a blessing to the abnormal thin men and women, for it can be demonstrated beyond doubt that a regular course of three or four months' treatment brings an increase in weight of from 10 to 30 pounds, with decided improvement of health and color too. For self administration the most popular form is to be found in three grain hypo-nuclease tablets, obtainable in sealed packages from the best apothecary shops, with full directions.

NEW, SIMPLE METHOD FOR REMOVING HAIRS

(Modes of Today)
Hair on face, neck or arms can be easily, quickly and permanently removed without resorting to the pain or expense attached to the electric method. A simple powder, known as Delatone, is the new and harmless agent, and anyone troubled with hairy growths should get an original package of Delatone and mix enough with water to cover the hairy surface. Let the paste remain on two or three minutes, then rub it off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone.
Delatone costs a dollar an ounce, but is far cheaper and more satisfactory than anything else on the market as it actually does the work quickly and well and does not scar or mark the skin in any way.

THE BOY SCOUTS' WORK

Interesting Meet Was Held at The George Estate

The Boy Scouts of Lowell and Chelmsford held an interesting fall and meet at the George estate at the corner of Thornehill and Chelmsford streets yesterday afternoon and last night. Considerable enthusiasm was displayed during the event.

The meet opened at three o'clock with a flag raising, after which the different troops from the Eliot, Centralville, North Chelmsford, and Chelmsford Centre churches were reviewed by representatives of the Boy Scouts of Lowell and Chelmsford, who acted as judges in the selection of the best drilled and neatest appearing patrol.

Each patrol is composed of eight boys and a leader. The leaders all carried flags on which was the insignia distinguishing them.

The three patrols chosen for the best drilled were the First North Chelmsford patrol, the First Centralville patrol and the Second Eliot patrol. The final decision of the judges gave first place to the Second Eliot patrol.

The next event was a demonstration of first aid to the injured as administered by the Boy Scouts. The North Chelmsford Scouts were chosen to give this exhibition. Small boys were laid out on the lawn for their brother scouts to demonstrate the various methods of inducing artificial respiration in cases of drowning. The Sylvester method was first enacted.

Then came a short demonstration of the system of signaling used by the scouts, the flag system being used and very similar to the system used in the United States army. The next thing in order was an exhibition of the manner in which a patrol of eight boys can scale a 12-foot wall. The winning patrol composed of Leslie Mark, Dwight Barth, Charles Burton, Samuel Davidson, Francis Orrel, Frederick Pickering, Charles Rodger, and Kenneth Goward, was given a regular scout hatchet as their prize.

Next came a sack race in which Nelson McClure of the Tyngsboro troop won first place and Henry Farrell of the same troop won second place. A jackknife was given to the victor in this contest.

A barrel-boxing contest followed this. The first box was between Armstrong of the North Chelmsford troop and Farrell of the Eliot troop, in which Armstrong stood out victorious. The second round was between Titcomb of the Pawtucketville troop and Brown of the Tyngsboro troop.

This left Armstrong and Titcomb as the contestants in the deciding rounds, two out of three being necessary to secure the decision. Armstrong won the first but Titcomb won the last two.

Next came the potato race, in which Charles Matheson of the Pawtucketville troop and Gilbert Young of the North Chelmsford troop tied for first place. A coin was tossed and Charles Matheson was given the first prize, a baseball.

The list of sports came to a close with a tug-of-war, the contestants being single patrols and the length of each contest to be twenty seconds. The event was won by the Centralville boys. The prize is a loving cup which can be retained until defeated by another patrol.

The Middlesex County Training School band was present and rendered various selections during the afternoon and evening.

The following was a list of the contestants in charge:

North Chelmsford—Mrs. H. W. Duncan, Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Mrs. James Kibbey, Mrs. Cyrus Barton, Mrs. H. McCallough, Mrs. H. Merrill and Mrs. M. Whittier.

Chelmsford—Mrs. Andrew Rogers, Mrs. Frederick Brooks, Mrs. J. Norris, Mrs. H. Hilton and Miss Armstrong.

Panthers and peanuts were sold by Earl Leachman, Raymond Stevens, Samuel Brauberg and Raymond Chesley and a flourishing business was done in this line.

At the supper time a handsome leather traveling bag was given to Mrs. H. D. Chesney by the leaders of the Boy Scouts.

A vote of thanks was also given to Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Cushing through whose courtesy the grounds were placed at the disposal of the boy scouts for the day.

After supper there was a very clever exhibition of tumbling by Charles Barton and George Teal, who took the customary clown's part in an act as good as is usually seen in the vaudeville houses. Miss Hazel Shirley furnished the piano accompaniment.

The evening came to a grand finale with a very amusing minstrel show.

DANCING PARTY

Held by Notre Dame Alumnae Association

The first social event of the season given by the Notre Dame Alumnae Association was held yesterday at the Pawtucket boat house and the affair proved very successful in every detail. The attendance was as large as could be expected and the event was run off in the smoothest way, everyone present enjoying themselves to their heart's content.

From 1 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon there was a dancing party for the children, and the result was great enjoyment on the part of the young ones. In the evening from 8 until 12, the adults had their turn. Music furnished excellent music for the occasion and informal dancing followed the cards.

Mr. D. S. O'Brien presided over the game of cards and many costly prizes were awarded the winners, and let it be said that the contest was a lively one. The tickets were in charge of Joan E. Sullivan and D. W. Keeney.

The committee in charge: Mrs. Annie T. Coffey, Mrs. William D. Barry, Mrs. Henry L. Bonito, Miss Mary Leach, Miss Marie Warren, Miss Esther Downing, Miss Elizabeth Goodie, Miss Julia A. Allen, Miss Mary E. Dorocho, Miss Mally Sullivan.

In Wasting Diseases Your Weight Is the Index of Your Condition.

If you are suffering from lack of blood, or anæmia, read this true story of the symptoms of a typical case and of its cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as related by Miss Kathleen Lee, of Jefferson, Mass.

"Some years ago," she says, "I was run down to a mere shadow through suffering from anæmia. I was sick for ten years from the time I was a young girl and was often confined to bed. My hair and eyes were without a particle of color and I was pale and thin. I had an awful cough, my nerves were weak and many nights I could not sleep at all. My appetite was poor, my eyes troubled me, there being black clouds before them and I grew very dependent. I had to give up work and was in this condition until about three years ago when I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"I was treated by doctors for a long time but they didn't do me a particle of good. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were recommended to me by a druggist and also by a friend who had used them with benefit. I bought three boxes and after taking them felt so much better that I kept on taking them regularly for quite a while. I couldn't be in better health than I am now and my friends often ask me what has made me look so well. I heartily, can do a good day's work and my nerves are strong. Since taking the pills I have increased in weight from 50 to 120 pounds."

There must be no guess work about the treatment of pale, anæmic girls. Mistakes or delay in the treatment may result in such a serious impairment of their health that they will be weak and sick during the rest of their lives. In this disease there is a loss of richness in the blood and an entire inability of the system to make good this loss without careful treatment. The most satisfactory way to give the blood the elements which it lacks is through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A thorough, persistent trial will restore the blood to its normal richness and health.

A new edition of our booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent free on request to any one interested.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

TEXTILE BOYS WON

Lawrence Academy Eleven Defeated by Score of 6 to 0

The Lowell Textile school football team defeated the Lawrence academy eleven on the Textile school campus by a score of 6-0. The game was exciting throughout as both teams were full of spirit and each contributed some. The Textile school team followed the ball more closely and worked the forward pass more successfully than the visitors although the academy eleven's line always managed to tighten up and present a most formidable defense whenever their goal line was threatened.

The game opened with Textile kicking to Action on the five-yard line, who ran the ball back 20 yards. The Textile line was firm and Burke was forced to punt to Lamont at the center of the field. The ball alternated from one team to the other and time was called for the period after Lamont, the big Textile fullback, had worked the ball by a series of forward passes to the visitors' 20-yard line.

In the second period Kelsey missed his try for a goal and the ball was punted to Lamont, who rushed it back to the center of the field. After an exchange of punts, Strauss recovered the ball on a forward pass and reached the opponent's 30-yard line, but the Lawrence academy line held like a stone wall and were in possession of the ball on their own 25-yard line when time was called.

The third period was practically a duplication of the preceding two as both teams resorted to putting and to the forward pass, and the whistle was blown with the ball in Textile's possession on the opponent's 35-yard line.

After Textile had lost the ball, at the opening of the second period on a fumble, Dover blocked a kick, recovering the ball on the visitors' 12-yard line, and Lamont, in two rushes, took it across for the only touchdown of the game. Schofield kicked the goal. The remainder of the period was a punting duel between Lamont and Burke, with the former prevailing.

The playing of Lamont, Hamilton and Strauss was the best for Textile, while Burke and Williams featured for Lawrence Academy.

The line-up:

FOUGHT SHAM BATTLE

O. M. I. Cadets Gave Fine Exhibition on Novitiate Grounds

The O. M. I. Cadets barely had time for luncheon after the parade yesterday when they were obliged to board special cars that carried them to the Oblate novitiate grounds in Tewksbury, to engage in a sham battle. Lack of space prevents an extended account of the maneuvers, but they were pronounced by all who witnessed the exhibition most interesting. When the boys, accompanied by their organizer, Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., and their military instructor, Lieut. Bernard McArdle, arrived at the grounds, they were welcomed by Rev. Fr. McKenna, the esteemed director of the novitiate. Major Haggerty commanded the blue army that defended the novitiate. The battle was on at once and Major Haggerty picked out his best men for outpost duty and then proceeded to place his men at the places he feared the brown army would place his men down the road. Capt. McCann marched his men down the road for a distance of more than a mile and then to the woods, where he would have the protection of the bushes and shrubbery while making his advance. He laid his plan well but it seems that at a critical point of his advance he found that three of his officers were missing. This led to a rather interesting incident. A messenger from Capt. McCann succeeded in eluding the outpost of the defending army and rushed to the headquarters of Lieut. McArdle. Reaching down and unlacing one of his leggings he handed the lieutenant the following message:

"All my officers left and went off to steal apples. The privates will not stay with me now. I can't make an attack in this way. If Mr. McArdle is there, send him to the yellow house down the road.—McCann."

The battle itself was stubbornly fought but the defending was outclassed in the final attack. However, owing to the excellent work of the defenders during the first attack the umpire decided it a draw.

After the battle the boys enjoyed supper and then departed for home on special cars.

It was expected that Col. Humphrey O'Sullivan would be present but an engagement with the governor interfered. Other well known persons interested in the boys came out during the afternoon, including Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Quinn of San Antonio, Tex., the orator of the morning exercises, Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Phelan, O. M. I., Frank Fox and Daniel Sullivan.

GIANTS' SPEEDY BASE RUNNERS, WHOM ATHLETICS' CATCHERS WILL WATCH

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Many baseball experts here predict that superior base running will win the world's series for the Giants. In this department the New Yorkers have shown themselves so far superior to the Athletics that no less than six of them have taken more extra sacks than the shiftless man on Mack's team, Eddie Collins. The Philadelphia second baseman has swiped 36 bases. Doyere grabbed 41, Snodgrass and Murray 48 each, Merkle and Herzog 45 apiece and Doyle 19. Fletcher, the only other man in the Giant lineup who can properly be called a base runner, is the only one who hasn't beaten out Collins this year. The experts point out that these records of the Giants were made against such catchers as Red Doolin, George Gibson, John Kling, Bill Bergen, Roger Bresnahan and Larry McLean. Jimmy Archer is left out of this for the very simple reason that the Giants haven't taken many liberties with his arm. Connie Mack says that the only man successful in stealing nearly as good as Cobb.

THE BOY SCOUTS' WORK

Interesting Meet Was Held at The George Estate

The Boy Scouts of Lowell and Chelmsford held an interesting fair and meet at the George estate at the corner of Thoroughfare and Chelmsford streets yesterday afternoon and last night. Considerable enthusiasm was displayed during the event.

The meet opened at three o'clock with a flag raising, after which the different troops from the Elliot Congregational, Centralville, North Chelmsford and Chelmsford County churches were welcomed by representatives of the Boy Scouts of Lowell and Chelmsford, who acted as judges in the selection of the best drilled and neatest appearing patrol.

Each patrol is composed of eight boys and has a leader. The leaders all carried flags on which was the insignia distinguishing them.

The three patrols chosen for the best drilled were the First North Chelmsford patrol, the First Centralville patrol and the Second Elliot patrol. The final decision of the judges gave first place to the Second Elliot patrol.

The next event was a demonstration of first aid to the injured as administered by the Boy Scouts. The North Chelmsford Scouts were chosen to give this exhibition. Small boys were laid out on the lawn for their brother scouts to demonstrate the various methods of inducing artificial respiration in cases of drowning. The Sylvester method was first exhibited.

Then came a short demonstration of the system of signaling used by the scouts, the flag system being used and very similar to the system used in the United States army. The next thing in order was an exhibition of the manner in which a patrol of eight boys can scale a 12-foot wall. The winning patrol consisted of Leslie Clark, Dwight Dearth, Charles Horton, Sam H. Harkins, James Orel, Frederick Pickering, Charles Rogers, and Kenneth Howard, was given a regular scout hatchet as their prize.

Next came a sack race in which Nelson McNamee of the Tyngsboro troop won first place and Henry Barrell of the same troop won second place. A jackknife was given to the victor in this contest.

A barrel racing contest followed this. The first heat was between Armand of the North Chelmsford troop and Barrell of the Elliot troop, in which Armand stood out victorious. The second round was between Thomas of the Pawtucketville troop and Brown of the Tyngsboro troop.

This left Armand and Titcomb as the contestants in the deciding rounds, two out of three being necessary to secure the decision. Armand won the first but Titcomb won the last two.

Next came the potato race, in which Charles Mathewson of the Pawtucketville troop and Gilbert Young of the North Chelmsford troop tied for first place. A coin was tossed and Charles Mathewson was given the first prize, a baseball.

The list of sports came to a close with a tag-of-war, the contestants being single patrols and the length of each contest to be twenty seconds. The event was won by the Centralville boys. The prize is a loving cup which can be retained until defeated by another patrol.

The Middlesex County Training School band was present and rendered various selections during the afternoon and evening.

The following was a list of the committees in charge:

Refreshment booth—Mrs. H. W. Chesley chairman, Mrs. J. W. Duncan, Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Mrs. James Kitch, Mrs. Cyrus Barton, Mrs. H. McCallough, Mrs. H. Merrill and Mrs. M. Whitten.

Sandwich booth—Mrs. Andrew Rose, Mrs. Frederick Brooks, Mrs. J. Norris, Mrs. H. Linton and Miss Armstrong.

Popcorn and peanuts were sold by Earl Leebetter, Raymond Stevens, Samuel Harkins and Raymond Chesley and a flourishing business was done in this line.

At the supper time a handsome leather traveling bag was given to Mrs. U. T. Chesney by the leaders of the boy scouts.

A vote of thanks was also given to Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Cushing through whose courtesy the grounds were placed at the disposal of the boy scouts for the day.

After supper there was a very clever exhibition of tumbling by Charles Barton and George Tool, who took the customary clown's part in an act as good as is usually seen in the city. The exhibition was a fine accompaniment to the evening's entertainment.

The evening came to a grand finale with a very amusing minstrel show.

The first social event of the season given by the Notre Dame Alumnae Association was held yesterday at the Pawtucket boat house and the affair proved very successful in every detail. The attendance was as large as could be expected and the event was run off in the smoothest way. Everyone present enjoying themselves to their heart's content.

From 4 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon there was a dancing party for the children, and the result was great merriment on the part of the young ones. In the evening from 8 until 12, the adults had their turn. Music's orchestra furnished excellent music for the occasion and informal dancing followed the cups.

Mr. D. S. O'Brien presided over the game of cards and many costly prizes were awarded the winners, and let it be said that the contest was a lively one. The tickets were in charge of John F. Salmon and D. W. Kearney.

The committee in charge: Mrs. Anne E. Coffey, Mrs. William P. Hurry, Mrs. Henry L. Bourke, Miss Mary Egan, Miss Margie Warren, Miss Esther Downing, Miss Elizabeth Gookin, Miss Julia A. Allen, Miss Mary B. Donohue, Miss Molly Sullivan.

GAINED 30 POUNDS

In Wasting Diseases Your Weight Is the Index of Your Condition.

If you are suffering from lack of blood, or anemia, read this true story of the symptoms of a typical case and of its cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as related by Miss Kathleen Lee, of Jefferson, Mass.

"Some years ago," she says, "I was run down to a mere shadow through suffering from anemia. I was sick for ten years from the time I was a young girl and was often confined to bed. My lips and ears were without a particle of color and I was pale and thin. I had an awful cough, my nerves were weak and many nights I could not sleep at all. My appetite was poor, my eyes trembled, and I was very despondent. I had to give up work and was in this condition until about three years ago when I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"I was 'cared by doctors for a long time but they didn't do me a particle of good. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were recommended to me by a druggist and also by a friend who had used them with benefit. I bought three boxes and after taking them felt so much better that I kept on taking them regularly for quite a while. I couldn't be in better health than I am now and my friends often ask me what has made me look so well. I can heartily, can do a good day's work and my nerves are strong. Since taking the pills I have increased in weight from 90 to 120 pounds."

There must be no guess work about the treatment of pale, anemic girls. Mistakes or delay in the treatment may result in such a serious impairment of their health that they will be weak and sickly during the rest of their lives. In this disease there is a loss of richness in the blood and an entire inability of the system to make good this loss without careful treatment. The most satisfactory way to give the blood the elements which it lacks is through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A thorough, persistent trial will restore the blood to its normal richness and health.

A new edition of our booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent free on request to any one interested.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

TEXTILE BOYS WON

Lawrence Academy Eleven Defeated by Score of 6 to 0

The Lowell Textile school football team defeated the Lawrence academy eleven on the Textile school campus by a score of 6-0. The game was exciting throughout as both teams were fast and heavy and each contributed some thrilling end runs and forward passes. The Textile school team followed the forward pass more successfully than the visitors although the academy eleven's line always managed to tighten up and present a most formidable defense whenever their goal line was threatened.

The game opened with Textile kicking to Achon on the five-yard line, who ran the ball back 26 yards. The Textile line was firm and Burke was forced to punt to Lamont at the center of the field. The ball alternated from one team to the other and time was called for the period after Lamont, the big Textile fullback, had worked the ball by a series of forward passes, to the visitors' 20-yard line.

In the second period Kelsey missed his try for a goal and the ball was punted to Lamont, who rushed it back to the center of the field. After an exchange of punts, Strauss recovered the ball on a forward pass and reached the opponent's 30-yard line, but the Lawrence Academy line held him like a stone wall and were in possession of the ball on their own 25-yard line when time was called.

The third period was practically a duplication of the preceding two as both teams resorted to punting and to the forward pass, and the whistle was blown with the ball in Textile's possession on the opponent's 55-yard line.

After Textile had lost the ball, at the opening of the second period on a tumble, Haver blocked a kick, recovering the ball on the visitors' 12-yard line, and Lamont, in two rushes, took it across for the only touchdown of the game. Schofield kicked the goal. The remainder of the period was a punting duel between Lamont and Burke, with the former excelling.

The playing of Lamont, Hamilton and Strauss was the best for Textile while Burke and Williams featured for Lawrence Academy.

The line-up:
Textile School: Lawrence Academy:

FOUGHT SHAM BATTLE

O. M. I. Cadets Gave Fine Exhibition on Novitiate Grounds

The O. M. I. Cadets barely had time for luncheon after the parade yesterday when they were obliged to board special cars that carried them to the Olathe novitiate grounds in "Twelve hours to engage in a sham battle. Lack of space prevents an extended account of the maneuvers, but they were pronounced by all who witnessed the exhibition most interesting. When the boys, accompanied by their organizer, Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., and their military instructor, Lieut. Bernard McCardle, arrived at the grounds, they were welcomed by Rev. Fr. McKenna, the esteemed director of the novitiate. Major Haggerty commanded the blue army that defended the novitiate, and Capt. Luke McCann was in charge of the brown army, the attacking force. The battle was on at once and Major Haggerty picked out his best men for outpost duty and then proceeded to place his men at the places he feared an attack. Capt. McCann marched his men down the road for a distance of more than a mile and then to the woods, where he would have the protection of the bushes and shrubbery while making his advance. He laid his plan well but it seems that at a critical point of his advance he found that three of his officers were missing. This led to a rather interesting incident. A messenger from Capt. McCann succeeded in eluding the outpost of the defending army and rushed to the headquarters of Lieut. McCardle. Reaching down and unlatching one of his lockers he handed the lieutenant the following message:

"All my officers left and went off to steal apples. The privates will not stay with me now. I can't make an attack in this way. If Mr. McCardle is there, send him to the yellow house down the road.—McCann."

The battle itself was stubbornly fought but the defending was outclassed in the final attack. However, owing to the excellent work of the defenders during the first attack the umpire decided it a draw.

After the battle the boys enjoyed supper and then departed for home on special cars.

It was expected that Col. Humphrey O'Sullivan would be present but an engagement with the governor interfered. Other well known persons interested in the boys came out during the afternoon, including Very Rev. P. Wade Smith, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Quinn of San Antonio, Tex., the orator of the morning exercises, Rev. Lawrence P. Tigha, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Phelan, O. M. I., Frank Fox and Daniel Sullivan.

HUGE GATUN DAM, WHERE LANDSLIDES THREATEN SUCCESS OF PANAMA CANAL

COLON, Panama, Oct. 13.—Grave danger has been occasioned here by the fact that earth around the great Gatun dam is sliding. It has long been a moot point upon the isthmus as to whether the ground under the Gatun dam is strong enough to sustain the tremendous weight put upon it and whether the dam itself will be powerful enough to withstand the pressure of a lake 110 square miles in extent and eighty-five feet deep and what would happen to Colon should one or the other give way. News of the floods in Pennsylvania and Wisconsin serves to increase local fears.

GIANTS' SPEEDY BASE RUNNERS, WHOM ATHLETICS' CATCHERS WILL WATCH

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Many baseball experts here predict that superior base running will win the world's series for the Giants. In this department the New Yorkers have shown themselves so far superior to the Athletics that no less than six of them have taken more extra bases than the shiftest man on Mack's team, Eddie Collins. The Philadelphia second baseman has swiped 86 bases. Devore grabbed 41, Snodgrass and Murray 48 each, Merkle and Herzog 46 apiece and Doyle 40. Fletcher, the only other man in the Giant lineup who can properly be called a base runner, is the only one who hasn't beaten out Collins this year. The experts point out that these records of the Giants were made against such catchers as Red Doolin, George Gibson, John Kling, Bill Bergen, Roger Brownahan and Larry McLean. Jimmy Archer is out of this for the very simple reason that the Giants haven't taken many liberties with his arm. Connie Mack says that n't figure that many of the Giants are the only man successful in stealing nearly as good as Cobb.

work out his own salvation, enjoy the profits of his toil free from the shadow of the sword and the fear of the despoiler; and where new nations and new governments could arise, based on the liberty and dignity of the man made in the image of his God. If these things, springing from the courage and faith of a man, do not indicate greatness, I do not understand the meaning of the word.

Mr. Smith then reviewed the conditions that existed in Europe in the 15th century.

Letters and art, science and philosophy only reach down remotely and slowly into the life of the common people; the measure of a civilization must be sought in its materials as well as in its ethical expression; it is as necessary to fill the belly of humanity as it is to inspire its soul and stimulate its mind. Man does not live by bread alone, but bread is as necessary to life as less material things.

Outside of the higher life of the civilized centers the mechanic of today lives and is housed better than the noble of the 15th century. Coffee and tea were unknown in northern Europe; tobacco and potatoes were still undiscovered in America. Beef, bread, beer and wine were the staples of the table; eating and drinking were gross; Portugal was the most peaceful, united and best ruled land in Europe; she had driven out the Moor and carried the war into Africa, captured Ceuta and Tangier, and her energies were bent on exploration and discovery. Under the guidance of Henry the Navigator, son of King John and Philip, daughter of John of Gaunt, time-honored Lancaster—a school of cartography and navigation had been established at Sagres on the wild Atlantic coast, where navigators were trained and the energies of the nation directed to the peaceful work of broadening the frontiers of civilization and the extension of knowledge, and there Columbus gathered knowledge and made friends useful to him in later years. Portugal was doing the real work of civilization in that age; modest English writers will tell you that this was due to the mother of Henry the Navigator, an English princess, who was more French and Flemish than English, and who in all probability could not converse in the tongue of Chaucer.

Navigation was slow and cautious; commerce crept from headland to headland; the Atlantic ocean was still the Sea of Darkness; the Arabs named it; the mariner's compass was unknown; only in 1481 did Martin Behaim invent his rudimentary globe to aid the mariner; and only the few credited the sphericity of the earth, for the majority still believed the world was a flat plane over whose edges ships and men might tumble into chaos.

The England of that age was rude, barbarous, ignorant and illiterate; taxation introduced printing there in 1477; the commerce was feeble; such ships and sailors as she had seldom ventured of Governor Foss' staff who had just arrived was introduced to speak for the state. On behalf of the chief executive he tendered heartiest congratulations after which he spoke eloquently on the progress of the Catholic citizen in Massachusetts.

Rev. Matthew Gleeson

Rev. Fr. Gleeson was the concluding speaker and his fame had preceded him for he received an ovation as he was introduced. Fr. Gleeson was on the card for a toast on "The Church and the Navy" but owing to the lateness of the hour he stated that he would simply give a few interesting and pleasant reminiscences of his trip around the world with the fleet, during which he was chaplain on the flagship "Conestoga." In opening Fr. Gleeson said: "Your lecturer, Mr. Murphy in his invitation impressed on me the domesticity of the married members of Lowell Council, the eligibility and desirability of the backlogs and the beauty, virtue and charm of your ladies and having been that he has made good." Fr. Gleeson then started his audience around the world with him on the famous trip, referring particularly to the great surprise of the foreigners to find so many Catholics in the navy and to the grand reception accorded the fleet everywhere. In Rio Janeiro, he said, the Admiral himself sent word to the ship that he would have a mass of Thanksgiving sung as the result of the safe arrival of the fleet and invited "the Catholics, if there were any" to attend. Fr. Gleeson said that the committee that called to extend the invitation was most demonstrative in expressing its delight upon learning that the chaplain himself was a Catholic. On the day of the mass Fr. Gleeson went ashore with 850 Catholic sailors, only a portion of the full number with the fleet to attend the mass. Upon arriving at the church they found that its seating capacity was only about 500 while benches that would accommodate about 30 had been reserved for the Catholic sailors. As the sailors marched up to the church the wonderment of the natives knew no bounds, and the news spread like wild-fire that the entire American navy was composed of Catholics and was coming ashore to attend mass. Fr. Gleeson's remarks were replete with humorous stories and flashes of wit that kept the audience in roars and when at 11:30 he announced that he would stop on account of the lateness of the hour the audience in one mighty chorus cried out: "Go ahead!" One particularly good story told by Fr. Gleeson referred to a banquet given in Australia to the officers and men at which there was much oratory on the part of the hosts. The mayor of the city made a particularly forcible address in which he compared the two countries and in his final outburst he exclaimed: "We are all grateful like you and we're proud of it!"

LIEUT. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, Marshal of Knights of Columbus Division

Gleeson, whispering to an Australian official next to him asked: "What did the gentleman mean by 'gratifier'?" A "gratifier" replied his informant is a man who gets up at four o'clock in the morning and works untiringly tilling the soil and improving the land and the conditions of his home and country, the pioneer and the builder up of country and home.

"I understand," replied Fr. Gleeson, "but the word has a somewhat different meaning in Pittsburgh, Pa."

Fr. Gleeson was much impressed with what he saw in the city of Rio Janeiro and in China. Relative to Rio Janeiro he stated that it is a beautiful metropolis, with the finest harbor in the world, the water front of which is reserved for the people. A boulevard a mile and a half long has been cut through the centre of the city and on either side of this the government buildings stand. In regard to China he stated that it was his belief that in 25 years China will be regarded as a great world power and will no longer fear Russia or Japan. Governmental and social conditions are now in control of honest, well-meaning men, educated in Europe, and of the highest type of civilization was working wonders in bringing China out of the darkness that has enshrouded it in the past. In closing his speech Fr. Gleeson expressed the hope to see the day when the banners of Columbus, Washington and Lincoln will be linked together as the American triunity of immortal fame.

The exercises then closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." An account of the religious services at St. Peter's church in the morning will be found on page six.

SCHOOL CHILDREN

SANG FROM THE STEPS OF CITY HALL

One of the most pleasing features connected with the Columbus day observance yesterday was the singing of national hymns by nearly 1000 school children, who occupied the front steps at city hall. The sight proved to be a wonderful one and the mammoth chorus, directed by Mr. Fred O. Smith, instructor of music, is one that will be long remembered by those who were present. A band accompanied the children. The selections given were "Columbia," "Kehar's American hymn," and "The Star Spangled Banner."

GREAT CRISIS

PEKING IS NOW THREATENED BY THE REVOLUTIONISTS

PEKING, Oct. 13.—China today faces an unprecedented crisis. With the spread of revolutionary activity the opinion is gaining ground that the fate of the ruling dynasty hangs in the balance.

The revolution is no longer confined to the central provinces, a thousand miles away from the capital. Peking itself is threatened.

Members of the cabinet admitted today that the garrison here is known to be honeycombed with the revolutionary sentiment. The same condition exists in the two great military posts which guard the capital, Pao Tung Fu and Tien Tsin.

There are still efficient attempts to minimize the gravity of the situation but the reports reaching the capital give little basis for hope. Today's news reports that Chou King was in danger and that Li Chang had been taken, that Xu Chow had fallen and that communication between Hankow and Chang-Sha, the capital of Hunan province, was interrupted.

An editorial today offers pardon to all revolutionists "who were coerced into joining the rebellion."

The pardon is conditional, however, on their expressing suitable repentance for their defection.

The government today followed up their act of yesterday, cashing the treasury of Wu Chang by sending the same treatment to General Chang Pao, the commander of the troops in the Wu Chang district, where this week's outbreak began.

The government, in its reports on the situation, is attempting to convey the impression that the revolutionists are without trained leaders or adequate organization. But the revolutionists have a reliable chief, well versed in military affairs, in General Li Quan Kong. Secret advices received here indicate, moreover, that Dr. Sun Yat Sen, whom the revolutionists hope to elect president of a Chinese republic, was at Shanghai last week and may be now in the line of operations at Wu Chang or Hankow.

DARING ROBBERIES

SNEAK THIEVES ARE AT WORK IN PAWTUCKET

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Oct. 13.—A band of sneak thieves has been operating in this city recently and a number of daring robberies have been reported to the policemen at roll call every morning. Efforts are being made to apprehend the thieves.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Grand Union lodge, L. O. O. F., was held last night in Odd Fellows hall. There was a large attendance of members and considerable routine business was transacted. During the evening degree staff for the initiatory degree was formed, and much interest was manifested, several visiting brothers making interesting remarks for the good of the order. At the close of the meeting the degree staff had a rehearsal, after which ice cream and cake were served under the direction of J. A. Weinback, chairman of the good of the order committee.

Rebekah Lodge
The members of Centralville Rebekah lodge, No. 13, L. O. O. F., celebrated the 16th anniversary of their lodge at Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street, last night. District Deputy Mrs. Salisbury of Lawrence, Mass., officiated with the following suite: Mrs. Sweet, Mrs. Somerville, Mrs. Hadley, Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Furman and Mrs. Longley.
Past Grand Salisbury, Somerville, Hangley, Hadley, Cannon of Lawrence and Noble Grand's Sisters Thompson and Whiteley and Past Grand Walker of Evening Star lodge of this city were present. An entertainment followed the lodge exercises as follows: Songs, Miss Leona M. Small; recitation, Miss Phil.

WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP
SHORT HILLS, N. J., Oct. 13.—Three localities were represented when the women gathered for the final round of the national championship at Baltusrol golf club today. Miss Dorothy Campbell, the wonderful player from Hamilton, Ontario, led to its conclusion with Margaret Curtis of Boston. Another Bostonian, Miss Eleanor Allen, was pitted against Miss Lillian Hyde, the Bay Shore golfer, who from beginning has been the best Metropolitan hope.

All save Miss Allen have figured prominently in championship golf. The Hamilton girl is the most conspicuous, being present holder of the British, American and Canadian titles, while her opponent has also won the national event.

THE LORIMER CASE
CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—With more than a dozen members and former members of the legislature waiting to go on the witness stand, the United States senate committee which is investigating the Lorimer case is prepared today for hearing much testimony. Henry A. Stephens of Jerseyville, Ill., a former member of the legislature, was the first witness on today's list. He was recalled for further examination.

A JAIL SENTENCE

Woman Found Guilty of Larceny

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—Upon conviction of shoplifting articles to the value of more than $150, Mrs. Mar Barbank, a well known woman of Worcester was given a sentence of six months in the house of correction by Judge Bennett in the municipal court today. Mrs. Barbank conducted a store in Worcester and for years has been a prominent worker in a Sunday school in that city.

On Tuesday she was arrested for stealing from a department store in this city. Her pastor, Rev. Mr. Ewing of Worcester, reading of the arrest, came to Boston and appeared in court when the woman was placed on trial. Wednesday, Mr. Ewing claimed that a terrible mistake had been made and that it was impossible that Mrs. Barbank could be guilty of the charge. Upon being told by the court that Mrs. Barbank had been fined $100 in the same court for a similar offense last spring a charge that the woman admitted, Mr. Ewing withdrew from the case.

Mrs. Barbank appeared from the sentence today. The Indian football team went to Somerville yesterday and met the first Somerville A. A. team. Many rooters went from Lowell to Somerville with the team. After a hard fought contest the Somerville team was victorious, the score being 5 to 0. The Indians played a fast and snappy game but the victory cost them the contest. Tomorrow the Indians meet the Matthews of Lynn on the Lowell fair grounds.

The line-up yesterday was: Somerville A. A. Indians; Cohen vs. Moran; Johnson vs. McCullough; Fiske vs. Murphy; King vs. Ross; O'Brien vs. Mahan; O'Brien vs. Quinn; O'Brien vs. Flynn; O'Brien vs. Foy; O'Brien vs. Donlon; O'Brien vs. Conlon; O'Brien vs. Halloran; John Foley, thugkeeper; D. THE ITALIAN TROOPS

Have Not Yet Begun March From Tripoli Into the Interior

ROME, Oct. 13 (via frontier).—Although the government considers that the present expedition of 40,000 men will be sufficient for the complete occupation of Tripoli, the ministry of war has prepared for an additional expedition of 15,000 men in case of need. This reserve force is prepared to reach Tripoli within 48 hours. A report from Tripoli says that Gen. Canova, commander-in-chief of the Italian forces in Tripoli, is awaiting the arrival of the final contingent of the first expedition before he begins an immediate march into the interior. Four aeroplanes have arrived here from France. They will be sent to Tripoli, where it is proposed to make experiments in the use of flying machines in actual warfare. They will be piloted by Italian officers, who will undertake to drop bombs into the enemy's camp.

GRAND RECEPTION

To Duke and Duchess of Connaught

QUEBEC, Oct. 13.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who are to preside over Rideau hall at Ottawa as representatives of King George for the next few years, arrived here last evening and landed this morning. They were greeted just such a reception as might be expected from loyal Canadians to members of the royal household. The streets were richly decorated and everywhere was manifested the liveliest interest in the reception to the new governor general.

During a reception tendered the new governor general by the people of the city the duke addressed them in part as follows: "From Sussex and Norman England drew qualities of courage, perseverance and strength which raised her to her proud position among nations. Here, under the wise rule of statesmen, sometimes of British and sometimes of French descent, Canada has achieved an era of development which is the envy of the world. 'I am proud and happy to have been selected by my king to fill the high office of governor general and to thus be in a position to follow and promote the remarkable progress of your country. That this progress under His Providence may be continued and ever increasing is my most heartfelt wish, and I am glad to have the opportunity of expressing it to you on my arrival.'"

Broadly speaking, Mr. Taft said, the proposed treaties with these countries before the senate would secure for them a financial interest in the United States which would settle their existing debts on a just basis and peace and prosperity to two republics, rich in natural resources but torn by strife and revolution. Mr. Taft pointed out the efficacy of a similar arrangement with Santo Domingo, where this government collects the customs and sees that foreign debts are paid, exercising a beneficent supervision that Mr. Taft said has assisted in the rebuilding of Santo Domingo. Objection to the treaties in the senate, the president said, was based largely on the proposition that this treaty would make entangling alliances with republicans in this hemisphere for the promotion simply of a banking contract. Another objection discussed by the president was that the Monroe doctrine was a sufficient bond between the United States and the Latin American republics. "It is objected that this is 'dollar diplomacy,'" said Mr. Taft, "and that we ought to have none of it. Give a dog a bad name and you know what follows. To call a piece of statecraft 'dollar diplomacy' is to invoke the condemnation of the muck raking journals, whose chief capital is the use of phrases of a lurid character."

work out his own salvation, enjoy the profits of his toil free from the shadow of the sword and the fear of the despoiler; and where new nations and new governments could arise, based on the liberty and dignity of the man made in the image of his God. If these things, springing from the courage and faith of a man, do not indicate greatness, I do not understand the meaning of the word.

Mr. Smith then reviewed the conditions that existed in Europe in the 15th century.

Letters and art, science and philosophy only reach down remotely and slowly into the life of the common people; the measure of a civilization must be sought in its materials as well as in its ethical expression; it is as necessary to fill the belly of humanity as it is to inspire its soul and stimulate its mind. Man does not live by bread alone, but bread is as necessary to life as the material things.

Outside of the higher life of the civilized centres the mechanic of today lives and is housed better than the noble of the 15th century. Coffee and tea were unknown in northern Europe; tobacco and potatoes were still undiscovered in America. Beef, bread, beer and wine were the staples of the table; eating and drinking were gross.

Portugal was the most peaceful, united and best ruled land in Europe; she had driven out the Moor and carried the war into Africa, captured Ceuta and Tangier and her energies were bent on exploration and discovery. Under the guidance of Henry the Navigator, son of King John and Philippa, daughter of John of Gaunt, three-hundred Lancaster—a school of cartography and navigation had been established at Sagres on the wild Atlantic coast, where navigators were trained and the energies of the nation directed to the peaceful work of fronting the frontiers of civilization and the extension of knowledge, and there Columbus garnered knowledge and made friends, useful to him in later years. Portugal was doing the real work of civilization in that age; modest English writers will tell you that this was due to the mother of Henry the Navigator, an English princess who was more French and Flemish than English, and who in all probability could not converse in the tongue of Chaucer.

Navigation was slow and cautious; commerce crept from headland to headland; the Atlantic ocean was still the Sea of Darkness; the Arabs named it the unknown's country; was unknown only in 1484 did Martin Behaim invent his rude astrolabe to aid the mariner; and only the few credited the sphericity of the earth, for the majority still believed the world was a flat plane over whose edges ships and men might tumble into chaos.

The English of that age was rude, barbarous, ignorant and illiterate; they introduced printing there in 1477; the commerce was feeble; such ships and sailors as she had seldom ventured far; and only when King Henry, imitating the ruler of Portugal, called the Cabots of Venice into his service and comparative peace reigned, did the Englishman begin to learn the business of the sea.

It was a rude, rough, crude, cruel age, slowly awakening to a real knowledge of the purposes of God. War was his occupation and peace, merely the price of exhaustion. The discovery of a new direction, away from a past dark with bloodshed, tumult, pain and unhappiness, and toward a future whose fruition has materialized many of the fondest hopes of those who dreamed and prayed while Columbus, America, is the monument of Columbus, and it is wise and just we should honor the man who gave it to the world.

Major Thomas L. Walsh

At this time Maj. Thomas L. Walsh,

of Governor Foss' staff who had just arrived, was introduced to speak for the state. On behalf of the chief executive he tendered heartiest congratulations after which he spoke eloquently on the progress of the Catholicism in Massachusetts.

Rev. Matthew Gleeson

Rev. Fr. Gleeson was the concluding speaker and his fame had preceded him for he received an ovation as he was introduced. Fr. Gleeson was on the card for a toast on "The Church and the Navy" but owing to the lateness of the hour he stated that he would simply give a few interesting and pleasing reminiscences of his trip around the world with the fleet, during which he was chaplain on the flagship "Connecticut." In opening Fr. Gleeson said: "Your lecturer, Mr. Murphy in his invitation impressed on me the desirability of the married members of Lowell Council, the eligibility and desirability of the hachelors and the beauty, virtue and charm of your ladies and having been here but a short time I am convinced that he has made good."

Fr. Gleeson then started his audience around the world with him on the famous trip, referring particularly to the great surprise of the foreigners to find so many Catholics in the navy and to the grand reception accorded the fleet everywhere. In Rio Janeiro he said the Cardinal Archbishop sent word to the Admiral that he would have a mass of Thanksgiving sung as the result of the safe arrival of the fleet and invited the Catholics. If there were any to attend, Fr. Gleeson said that the committee that called to extend the invitation was most demonstrative in expressing its delight upon learning that the chaplain himself was a Catholic.

On the day of the mass Fr. Gleeson went ashore with 350 Catholic sailors and a portion of the fleet. Upon arriving at the church they found that its seating capacity was only about 800 while benches that would accommodate about 30 had been reserved for the Catholic sailors. As the sailors marched up to the church the wonderment of the natives knew no bounds, and the news spread like wild-fire that the English navy was composed of Catholics and was coming ashore to attend mass. Fr. Gleeson's remarks were replete with humorous stories and flashes of wit that kept the audience in roars and when at 1:30 he announced that he would stop on account of the lateness of the hour the audience in one mighty chorus cried out: "Go ahead!"

One particularly good story told by Fr. Gleeson referred to a banquet given in Australia to the officers and men at which there was much oratory on the part of the hosts. The mayor of the city made a particularly forcible address which he compared the two countries and in his final outburst he exclaimed: "We are all grateful like you and we're proud of it."

LIEUT. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL,
Marshal of Knights of Columbus Division

Gleeson, whispering to an Australian official next to him asked: "What did the gentleman mean by 'gratier'?" A "gratier" replied his informant is a man who gets up at four o'clock in the morning and works untiringly tilling the soil and improving the land and the conditions of his home and country, the pioneer and the builder up of country and home.

"I understand," replied Fr. Gleeson, "but the word has a somewhat different meaning in Pittsburgh, Pa."

Fr. Gleeson was much impressed with what he saw in the city of Rio Janeiro and in China. Relative to Rio Janeiro he stated that it is a beautiful metropolis, with the finest harbor in the world, the water front of which is reserved for the people. A boulevard a mile and a half long has been cut through the centre of the city and on either side of this the government buildings stand. In regard to China

he stated that it was his belief that in 25 years China will be regarded as a great world power and will no longer fear Russia or Japan. Governmental and social conditions are now in control of honest, well meaning men, educated in Europe, and of the highest type of civilization who are working wonders in bringing China out of the darkness that has enshrouded it in the past. In closing his remarks Fr. Gleeson expressed the hope to see the day when the names of Columbus, Washington and Lincoln will be linked together as the American trinity of immortal fame.

The exercises then closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." An account of the religious services at St. Peter's church in the morning will be found on page five.

SCHOOL CHILDREN

SANG FROM THE STEPS OF CITY HALL

One of the most pleasing features connected with the Columbus day observance yesterday was the singing of national hymns by nearly 1000 school children, who occupied the front steps at city hall. The sight proved to be a wonderful one and the mammoth chorus, directed by Mr. Fred O. Blunt, instructor of music, is one that will be long remembered by those who were present. A band accompanied the children. The selections given were "Columbia," Kollar's American hymn, and "The Star Spangled Banner."

GREAT CRISIS

PEKING IS NOW THREATENED BY THE REVOLUTIONISTS

PEKING, Oct. 13.—China today faces an unprecedented crisis. With the spread of revolutionary activity the opinion is gaining ground that the fate of the ruling dynasty hangs in the balance.

The revolution is no longer confined to the central provinces, a thousand miles away from the capital. Peking itself is threatened.

Members of the cabinet admitted today that the garrison here is known to be honeycombed by the revolutionary sentiment. The same condition exists in the two great military posts which guard the capital, Pao Tung Pu and Tien Tsin.

There are still official attempts to minimize the gravity of the situation but the reports regarding the rapid give little basis for hope. Today's news reports that Chun King was in danger and that Li-Chang had been taken, that Yu Chow had fallen and that communication between Hankow and Chang-Sha, the capital of Hunan province was interrupted.

An editorial published today offers pardon to all revolutionists "who were coerced into joining the rebellion."

The pardon is conditional, however, on their expressing suitable repentance for their defection.

The government today followed up their act of yesterday, cancelling the salary of Mr. Chang, by extending the same treatment to General Chang Piao, the commander of the troops in the Wu Chang district, where this week's outbreak began.

The government, in its reports on the situation, is attempting to convey the impression that the revolutionists are without trained leaders or adequate organization. But the revolutionists have a reliable chief, well versed in military affairs, in General Li Quan Kong. Secret advice received here indicate, moreover, that Dr. Sun Yat Sen, whom the revolutionists hope to elect president of a Chinese republic, was at Shanghai last week and may be now at the scene of operations at Wu Chang or Hankow.

DARING ROBBERIES

SNEAK THIEVES ARE AT WORK IN PAWTUCKET

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Oct. 12.—A band of sneak thieves has been operating in this city recently and a number of daring robberies have been reported to the policemen at roll call every morning. Efforts are being made to apprehend the thieves.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Grand Union lodge, I. O. O. F., was held last night in Odd Fellows hall. There was a large attendance of members and considerable routine business was transacted. During the evening degree stars for the military degree were formed, and much interest was manifested, several visiting brothers making interesting remarks for the good of the order. At the close of the meeting the degree staff had a rehearsal, after which ice cream and cake were served under the direction of J. A. Wembeck, chairman of the good of the order committee.

Rebekah Lodge

The members of Centralville Rebekah lodge, No. 137, I. O. O. F., celebrated the 15th anniversary of their lodge at Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street, last night. District Deputy Mrs. Salisbury of Lawrence, Mass., officiated with the following suite: Mrs. Sewell, Mrs. Somerville, Mrs. Hadley, Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Furneaux and Mrs. Longley.

Fast Grand Salisbury, Somerville, Hangley, Hadley, Cannon of Lawrence and Noble Grand Sisters Thompson and White of Boston. Past Grand Walker of Evening Star lodge of this city were present. An entertainment followed the lodge exercises as follows: Songs, Miss Leona M. Small; recitation, Miss Phil.

WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

SHORT HILLS, N. J., Oct. 13.—Three localities were represented when the women gathered for the final round of the national championship at Baltusrol Golf club today. Miss Dorothy Campbell, the wonderful player from Hamilton, Ontario, had to try conclusions with Margaret Curtis of Boston. Another Bostonian, Miss Eleanor Allen, was pitted against Miss Lillian Hyde, the Bay Shore golfer, who from beginning has been the best Metropolitan hope.

All save Miss Allen figured prominently in championship golf. The Hamilton girl is the most conspicuous, being present holder of the British, American and Canadian titles, while her opponent has also won the national event.

THE LORIMER CASE

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—With more than a dozen members and former members of the legislature waiting to go on the witness stand, the United States senate committee which is investigating the Lorimer case prepared today for hearing much testimony. Henry A. Sharp of Jerseyville, Ill., banker and former member of the legislature, was the first witness on today's list. He was recalled for further examination.

WAS POISONED BY GAS

Lifeless Body of Charles Spencer Found in Workshop Today

A gruesome discovery was made this morning when the lifeless body of Charles A. Spencer, the well known sign painter and decorator, was found in his office. The discovery was made by the deceased's son-in-law, Mr. Earl P. Francis, and death was caused by accidental gas poisoning.

According to Mr. Francis's statement to a Sun reporter this morning, Mr. Spencer had sold his establishment to J. H. Martin & Co. two weeks ago, and he worked until last night to finish his many orders on hand. Later in the evening he went to a local theatre with a friend, and as was his custom in many previous occasions, when he was out late, he dropped into his office and slept there over night. When the body was found this morning gas was escaping from a gas radiator and it is presumed that the room being rather cool last night, Mr. Spencer got his radiator going and went to sleep on his couch.

The gas was not burning this morning, and the rubber tubing connecting with the gas jet was somewhat disarranged, allowing a large quantity of gas to escape. It was also stated by the deceased's son-in-law that the former had purchased the Cambridge Sign Painting Co. in Cambridge, Mass., and that the deal was to be completed today.

The deceased, whose home was at 645 Westford street, leaves to mourn his loss a widow, a devoted wife, two daughters, Marion S., wife of Earl P. Francis, and Helen E. Spencer. He was 54 years of age.

GIRL KNOCKED DOWN

She Had Narrow Escape From Injury

A little girl, aged about 7 years, narrowly escaped injury this morning when she was knocked down and run over by a bicycle.

A man named Maurice Novel was riding down Tremont street on his bicycle at a moderate rate of speed, and when he reached the corner of Mass street, a little girl left the sidewalk and started off on a run across the street. A collision was unavoidable and the child was thrown to the pavement and run over by the bicycle.

Mr. Novel quickly alighted from his machine but before he reached the little one, she had got up on her feet again without the least scratch, and ran to her home before her name could be learned. The witnesses of the accident were astonished that the child was not injured, for the bicycle

DEMOCRATS MEET

SWIMMING POOL

To be Built at Rogers Hall

Clark Joseph Bourke of the inspector of buildings office after a busy day yesterday as one of the Columbus day committee of the Knights of Columbus, encountered a fair sized building boom upon opening his office this morning, for several applications for building permits flooded in on him.

Rogers Hall Gym

The Rogers hall trustees took out an application to build a $25,000 building to be equipped with swimming pool, gymnasium, shower baths, etc., to be built of brick on land adjoining the school buildings. The building will be of two stories, 42 feet 4 inches by 36 feet 2 inches. The swimming pool will be on the first or basement floor and will be 20 by 40 feet. The second floor will be devoted to the gymnasium and hall, the latter to be 40 by 80 feet.

New Residences

Rose Leary took out a permit to change a one-story house in Mt. Washington street into a three flat house at a cost of $3500.

Dr. C. F. Harris will build an eight-room residence in Summit street at the corner of Belmont avenue, of two stories and 32 by 39 feet on dimensions to cost $4000.

Stephen Greene will build a two flat house, five rooms each, building to be 24 by 20 feet in Wilder street at a cost of $3000.

BEACH MURDERED

Capt. Boss Held in Connection With His Death

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 12.—Captain Boss of the coal barge M. M. Redmond of the McChaffey line, is held by the police pending investigation into the death of Captain Beach, who was also known as Murphy, of the barge John M. Wheeler.

Beach's body was found this morning floating in the water between the barge Redmond and the wharf of a coal yard on Cedar creek. The body was tied tightly together; a line was about the waist, with the other end tied to the rail of the barge. Over the body was the ladder used as a gangplank from the wharf to the Redmond and another ladder floated nearby. Captain Boss is 35 years old and comes from Perth Amboy, N. J.

BOSTON CONCERN

To Build the Addition to Lamson Co.

The Abernethy Construction company of Boston has been awarded the contract for the building of a reinforced concrete addition to the plant of the Lamson Consolidated Store Service company, at Lowell. The proposed structure is to extend parallel to the tracks of the Boston and Maine railroad and is to be made absolutely fireproof.

BAG OF CLOTHES

WAS FOUND IN ROAD IN MIDDLESEX STREET

A potato bag containing men's clothing and other wearing apparel was found in the road in Middlesex street, Middlesex village, early this morning, by a motorman on one of the electric cars of the Bay State Street Railway Co. The bag was turned over to the conductor and the latter gave it to the police upon reaching Merrimack square. The police are of the opinion that the clothes belong to some young man who was probably returning from camp.

A JAIL SENTENCE

Woman Found Guilty of Larceny

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Upon conviction of shoplifting articles to the value of more than $150, Mrs. Mar Burbank, a well known woman of Worcester, was given a sentence of six months in the house of correction by Judge Bennett in the municipal court today. Mrs. Burbank conducts a store in Worcester and for years has been a prominent worker in a Sunday school in that city.

On Tuesday she was arrested for stealing from a department store in this city. Her pastor, Rev. Mr. Ewing of Worcester, reading of the arrest, came to Boston and appeared in court when the woman was placed in jail. On Wednesday, Mr. Ewing claimed that a terrible mistake had been made and that it was impossible that Mrs. Burbank could be guilty of the charge. Upon being told by the court that Mrs. Burbank had been fined $100 in the same court for a similar offense last spring, a charge that the woman admitted, Mr. Ewing withdrew from the case.

Mrs. Burbank appealed from the sentence today.

TWO ALLEGED "WHITE SLAVERS" HELD FOR TRIAL IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Morris and Lena Cohen are held in $10,000 bail by the United States court on charges of operating in the so called "white slave" traffic. A woman from Hartford, Conn., said to have first hand information regarding the activities of the Cohens, is a material witness against them. The authorities state that upward of 200 girls have been sent to different parts of the country by the Cohens.

THE ITALIAN TROOPS

Have Not Yet Begun March From Tripoli Into the Interior

ROME, Oct. 12 (via frontier).—Although the government considers that the present expedition of 40,000 men will be sufficient for the complete occupation of Tripoli, the ministry of war has prepared for an additional expedition of 15,000 men in case of need. This reserve force is prepared to reach Tripoli within 48 hours.

A report from Tripoli says that Gen. Canova, commander-in-chief of the Italian forces in Tripoli, is awaiting the arrival of the final contingent of the first expedition before he begins an immediate march into the interior. Four aeroplanes have arrived here from France. They will be sent to Tripoli, where it is proposed to make experiments in the use of flying machines in actual warfare. They will be piloted by Italian officers, who will undertake to drop bombs into the enemy's camp.

GRAND RECEPTION

To Duke and Duchess of Connaught

QUEBEC, Oct. 12.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who are to preside over Rideau hall at Ottawa as representatives of King George for the next few years, arrived here last evening and landed this morning. They were accorded just such a reception as might be expected from loyal Canadians to members of the royal household. The streets were fully decorated and everywhere was manifested the liveliest interest in the reception to the new governor general.

During a reception tendered the new governor general by the people of the city the duke addressed them in part as follows:

"From Saxon and Norman England drew qualities of courage, perseverance and strength which raised her to her proud position among nations. Here, under the wise rule of statesmen, sometimes of British and sometimes of French descent, Canada has achieved an era of development which is the envy of the world.

"I am proud and happy to have been selected by my king to fill the high office of governor general and to thus be in a position to follow and promote the remarkable progress of your country. That this progress under Divine Providence may be continued and ever increasing is my most heartfelt wish, and I am glad to have the opportunity of expressing it to you on my arrival."

Replying to the address of citizens, the duke said:

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the cordial welcome. In the name of the duchess I also thank you for the graceful expressions with which you have greeted us on arrival on Canadian soil. I shall have pleasure in submitting to the king and queen your assurances of loyalty and attachment to the crown. Our stay in Quebec is necessarily short, but we hope to spend a portion of each year of my stay in Canada in your beautiful city. Many years have passed since my first visit to Canada. Here long ago I came as a soldier at the outset of my military career, to which I have devoted my life. It will be a great pleasure to renew associations of my youth. Although the country may have changed I know Canadian hearts have not changed and I rejoice to think that in coming here I shall find among you some of the old comrades with whom I passed many happy hours."

TALKS ON TREATIES

Pres. Taft Spoke in Sacramento, Cal.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 12.—President Taft's first important speech in California was delivered here today from the steps of the state capital. The president spoke in behalf of proposed treaties between Nicaragua and Honduras and vigorously defended the policy of the administration, which he said "much raking" journals have labeled "dollar diplomacy."

Broadly speaking, Mr. Taft said, the proposed treaties with these countries before the senate would secure for them a financial interest in the United States which would settle their existing debts on a just basis and which would point the road to peace and prosperity to two republics rich in natural resources but torn by strife and revolution.

Mr. Taft pointed out the efficacy of a similar arrangement with Santo Domingo, where this government collects the customs and sees that foreign debts are paid, exceeding a beneficial supervision that Mr. Taft said has assisted in the upbuilding of Santo Domingo.

Objection to the treaties in the senate, the president said, was based largely on the proposition that this

NIX-NO-NEVER-NOT

Eugene G. Russell's Saturday's Special Real Estate Bargains

THE VARNEY RESIDENCE, 378 PARKER STREET, COR. OF PARKER AND RHODORA STREETS WITH 9000 SQUARE FEET OF LAND.

The house is situated on a lot containing 4995 square feet, and the corner lot contains 4077 square feet. The full description of the Varney residence was in last Wednesday's Sun and priced at $6000, with three lots. Today the price with two lots is reduced to $4000.

I HAVE ONLY ONE LOT FOR SALE ON RHODORA STREET AT LESS THAN 20c PER SQUARE FOOT.

And every foot of land on Rhodora street is worth 20c per square foot, for remember that every lot has gas, city water, sewer, concrete sidewalk and edgestones, and Rhodora street has the highest elevation of any street in the city, and is in the best unrestricted residential section of the city of Lowell, without a single exception, and I was going to add (for people of moderate means) but I need not add even that last phrase, for I believe the above is true without any qualifications.

DO YOU WANT to live in the best residential part of the city?
DO YOU WANT to have a key to the finest tennis court in the city?

DO YOU WANT the best neighbors in the city?
DO YOU WANT to live in the healthiest section of the city?
DO YOU WANT the best lot now for sale on Rhodora street?
DO YOU WANT to buy the best bargain today in real estate in Lowell?

IF YOU DO then buy today this lot on Rhodora street for 15c Per Square Foot, containing 4077 square feet of land, amounting to about $600.

Now we will throw off the odd dollars and cents, making it even money, terms $200 cash on signing of agreements, or order therefore on any savings bank in Lowell, balance $5 or $10 per month, or I will discount 5 per cent. of purchase price for cash.

If you want to make 5c per square foot, or $200 within the next year, you buy this lot on Rhodora street at 15c per square foot, and I am sure you can make a profit for yourself of at least this amount in the next twelve months.

I have seen more than one man make over $200 on a house lot at "The Lowell Highlands," and I paid one shrewd business man of this city just $1000 more than he paid for the same lots at "The Lowell Highlands," and most of these lots were situated on beautiful Rhodora street, which was named after the most beautiful wild flower which grows under God's great canopy of wonderful sky, and used to be found in the greatest abundance where Rhodora street now is.

But man has taken hold and driven out the beautiful flower, "The Rhodora," and in its place has built the most beautiful street in the city, for the homes of people of moderate means.

DO YOU LOVE THE WORD HOME?

Well, I do, and it means a whole lot to each and every one of us.

DO YOU WANT TO OWN YOUR OWN HOME?

Well, if you do, I know of no better way than to buy a house lot at "RUSSELL'S FIRST SATURDAY'S REAL ESTATE BARGAIN."

When you have paid for the lot, I will build you any house you may select, at a reasonable price for this location.

START YOUR HOME TODAY

If you never start, you will never own your home. The best illustrations I can give you are the men and women who bought a house lot at the Lowell Highlands five years ago, more or less, over 20 of them, and today are not only living in their own homes, but some of them have their own homes all paid for, while each and everyone of them have made big and substantial reductions on what they owed when they first bought their residences.

Owning a home, a man desires to save. Women, your husbands spend money foolishly; husbands, do your wives spend money which you would like to save? If they do, urge them to buy a house or house lot at the Lowell Highlands. Take the Highland car, get off at the corner of Parker and Stevens streets and look at the beautiful houses and house-lots at the LOWELL HIGHLANDS, and see the low prices, and number of feet all marked in plain figures. Think the matter over, and if there is one there that you are interested in, ask RUSSELL about it and remember you can own that lot or that house if you want to, if it is not previously sold, but if you want a lot on Rhodora street, for 15 cents per sq. foot, you will have to "ask Russell" quickly, for there are only a few more not already sold and only one lot at less than 20 cents per square foot. I own only three lots on Rhodora street, but I own a few choice corner lots on Wedge street at 15 cents per sq. foot, which is the street with the costliest house at the Lowell Highlands, and is destined to be the best street there, with the finest view without an exception in the city of Lowell.

Remember your last chance, on Saturday, at 9 a. m. to get a lot on Rhodora street for 15c per sq. foot, at my office, and if this lot is not sold before 9 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 14th, the lot will be withdrawn from sale at this place, and the price raised to 20 cents per sq. foot.

HOUSE LOTS AT THE "LOWELL HIGHLANDS" SELL THEMSELVES

Go up there and look at them. See for yourself what they are. There is a sign on every lot not already sold, giving the number of lot, also number of feet of land and price per foot.

Not a single restriction is placed on this land as the owners are all such as need no restrictions, as they restrict themselves. Look at the 20 houses already built and occupied. There is an exceptional opportunity to secure your choice, and remember I will sell these lots on

EASY TERMS $100 DOWN, part cash and the BALANCE MONTHLY. Here is the opportunity for the man with courage, for the man who dares to COIN MONEY while his neighbors are sleeping.

CHINESE REPUBLIC

PRESIDENT CHOSEN

Li Yuan Hung is Head of the New Chinese Government

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Advices were received here today by the Chung San Yat Po, the Chinese Daily World, that the revolutionists in China have declared a republic, electing Li Yuan Hung, lieutenant commander of the Imperial new army, president.

MANCHU, CHINA

HANKOW, Oct. 13.—This city was a scene of desolation today. All night long incendiary fires burned throughout the native quarters and it was a night of terror for the populace. There was a massacre of Manchu families which left large numbers of dead and to add to the danger all the prisons were opened and the inmates released to wander about the town. The revolutionary organization is making every effort to restore order and it is announced that rioters, wherever caught would be severely dealt with.

The revolutionary army is strongly entrenched in Wu Chang and Han Yang, with guns mounted in commanding positions. Since the capture of the Han Yang arsenal there has been no solicitude regarding the supply of ammunition and the leaders declare confidently that they are in condition to cope with any opposition.
Parties of government troops which are arriving here from time to time are met promptly by revolutionists who endeavor to persuade them to join the movement. If they refuse they are allowed to withdraw beyond the limits of the city.

The American consul general, Roger
S. Greene, crossed the Yang Tse river to Wu Chang today, accompanied by the American gunboat Helena, the Associated Press correspondent and two Chinese interpreters. The party went unarmed and entered the gates of the city after they had been opened for a squad of rebel artillery to pass out.
The party interviewed Colonel Li, the rebel commander, who treated them with every courtesy and assured them of their safety while in the city.
The consul general gathered up 44 foreigners who had not yet left the city, including Americans, Englishmen and Italians, and took them back to Hankow. The revolutionists were accompanied by 300 of their Chinese protégés. The party was unharmed on its way through Wu Chang, being escorted by a squad of rebel troops.

By Knights of Columbus --- Parade,
Banquet and Speeches

Columbus Day was given its first general formal observance in Lowell yesterday, and if its successors come up to the standard set by the initial celebration there can be no adverse criticism, for no big affair ever went off more smoothly nor gave more general satisfaction. It was a holiday in fact, for the mills and stores of the city entered into the spirit of the occasion and suspended business while many decorated their places of business, and all classes entered heartily into the celebration. In the parade were to be seen no less than seven nationalities while many more than that number were represented in the grand chorus of 1000 school children which sang patriotic airs from the steps of City Hall at the conclusion of the parade. It is estimated that there were fully 3000 men in line.

The celebration opened with religious services even as history tells us the first act of Columbus and his men upon landing on these shores was to fall on their knees and thank the Almighty who had guided them over the pathless deep. Then followed the general civic celebration in which all Americans participated, while in the evening the day was closed by the organization that takes its name from the great discoverer with a grand banquet at which his name was extolled in song and eloquence.

Nature smiled on the celebration while the autumn winds were tempered to the marching bodies, and a more desirable day could not be selected. The city took on a holiday appearance from early morning until late at night with thousands on the streets in gala attire and on pleasure bent. It was a great and memorable first observance of Columbus Day.

The Parade

A more favorable day for an outdoor celebration never gladdened the heart of enthusiastic mankind and hence the appearance of nearly 3000 young and old in the big parade of the day. While the Knights of Holy Name societies were in attendance at mass the other marching bodies assembled in the vicinity of the South common preparatory to starting in the parade. Meanwhile thousands lined the streets to witness the pageant. The crowd at city hall, where the school children's demonstration took place after the review of the parade was particularly dense, but the police report that throughout the city they never experienced an easier crowd to handle. The street railroad cleared the route of parade of street cars and hence everything went off without a hitch.

Shortly after 10 o'clock all was in readiness and at the sound of the first bell, Chief Marshal Thomas J. Delaney started the parade on its way, over the following route: Graham street, thence to Central, to Merrimack, to Bridge, counter-march at West Sixth, to Merrimack, to Moody, to Allen, to Merrimack, where the paraders were reviewed at city hall steps by Mayor John F. Meehan and the members of the city government. At the junction of Moody and Merrimack streets the chief marshal and his staff lined up and reviewed the participants and then the line was dismissed.

The different marching bodies presented a fine appearance and received the plaudits of appreciative on-lookers all along the line. St. Peter's Holy Name society, headed by its zealous spiritual director, Rev. John J.
Burns, presented the largest number, having over 500 men in line. The Greek Holy relict made its first public appearance, clad in naty khaki uniforms and made a most favorable impression. The Polish societies in their elaborate uniforms made a big hit and the Italians who came out at short notice, showed up well.

Among the priests in the carriages were Bishop De Silva, from Portugal;
Rev. Fr. Quinn, O. M. I., the preacher of the day, and several local clergymen; also the members of the Columbus day committee of the city council.

Roster of Parade
The roster of the parade was as follows:

Squad of police in command of Capt.
James F. Brennan, and consisting of Patrolmen John T. Kelly, Peter P. Mcmanmon, William O'Brien, Daniel F.
Murphy, Hubert Goldrick, Jerome Col-len, John J. Cullinane and Patrick Noonan.

Chief Marshal Thomas J. Delaney,
Chaplain Rev. W. George Mullin,
Chief of Staff Bernard P. McArdie,
Chief Aide David W. Gerow.

THE McNAMARA TRIAL

The Defence Challenged for Cause Venireman Nelson

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 13.—Examination of Talemman Z. T. Nelson of Pasadena was the first proceeding set before Judge Walter Borah today in the superior court today in the murder trial of James B. McNamara. Questioning of talemman, frequently regarded as a dismal proceeding, furnished in this case interest to spectators and partisans, because it was expected to define in advance of the opening argument some of the essential issues of the trial, which is designed to show whether the defendant is responsible for the death of Charles J. Hagerly, who with 20 others was killed in the Los Angeles Times explosion over a year ago. For 15 deaths James B. Mc-Namara is held on indictments but the state has elected to go to trial on this one case.

Nelson's attitude toward labor organizations and their members touched upon at the preceding session of court was made the subject of further inquiry for the defense, under Clarence Darrow and the rulings of the court on objections interposed by District Attorney John D. Pfeiffer and his aides were awaited as showing what con-lines would be placed upon the examination of talemman.

Before Nelson's examination was taken up one more talemman was called into the box to replace one dismissed at the last moment of court on Wednesday because of physical inability to stand the fatigue of a long trial.

Nelson, a ruddy faced man of 63 years, from the start answered questions put by counsel with deliberation.
"I can't answer that question because I'm not sufficiently familiar with the subject," was his reply from time to time to questions concerning his attitude toward labor organizations as he understood them to exist in California and elsewhere.

Because of the determination of questions involved in the examination of Nelson, the first talemman, it was said that questioning of other talemsmen would go forward much more rapidly.

The talemman, transferred last night from the official room to more airy quarters, roused like boys at their morning bath and appeared immensely refreshed by the day of ease offered by yesterday's legal holiday.

After hours of persistent questioning

AN INQUEST HELD

Into the Death of the Late James Lyons

An inquest into the death of the late
James Lyons was held before Judge
Fisher in the court of second sessions today. The deceased had been employed in the Muskegon mills and falling down an elevator shaft sustained injuries which resulted in his death.

Mr. Pierre Bourgeois of Sargent street was yesterday the guest of friends at the Joliet club in Manchester, N. H., of which he is an honorary member.

THOMAS H. KELLEY, Auctioneer
Office, Paige Street, Opposite Merrimack Square Theatre

PLEGDED TO ABSOLUTE AUCTION SALE, THE HANDSOME, WELL BUILT AND SUBSTANTIAL TWO AND ONE-HALF STORY HOUSE
OF 15 ROOMS AND UNFINISHED ATTIC AT THE CORNER OF WIL-LIE AND FRANKLIN STREETS, LONG OCCUPIED BY THE LATE
WILLIAM H. WIGGIN AS AN OFFICE AND RESIDENCE.

It is seldom that a parcel of real estate is offered for sale at public auction of the character of above, which will be sold for the highest dollar at public auction on

TOMORROW AFTERNOON, AT 4 O'CLOCK

This house was built by the late Mr. Wiggin for his own occupancy, and it was thoroughly built in every respect. There are 15 rooms in the house, those on the first floor consisting of parlor, sitting room, kitchen, dining room, two bedrooms, bathroom, pantry and small shed. There are eight sleeping rooms on the second floor, two finished rooms on the third floor, and a large unfinished attic. The front hall is large and roomy, with plenty of space necessary if purchaser desires to turn the property into a two-apartment house. There are large bay windows on front and side. The house is in perfect condition.
The roof is slated and the entire building is provided with lightning rods. The house was painted on the outside a short time ago, and is in good condition in this respect. Blinds are in good condition, and the front part of the house, both up stairs and down is provided with inside shutters. The underpinning is of solid, upsplit granite, seldom used today in house foundation work because of the great expense. The lot is marked off from the street by granite foundation.
There is a good sized side piazza with floor of hard wood.

The entire house is piped for gas, and a nearly new furnace in good condition. There are two marble fireplaces, one in parlor and the other in sitting room, and black walnut doors. In the kitchen are wash trays of the best material, and also a wash stand in addition to large sink. With the exception of a little paper and paint on the inside, the house is in perfect condition. The present owner says to sell, and sold it will be for the high dollar.

This property is well situated for a boarding or lodging house, or might be turned into a two apartment house and by extending the rear towards Franklin street on Willie street, a four apartment block with but slight additional expense.

Within a stone's throw are situated shoe shops and factories, foundries and other places of employment. It is nearly opposite the plant of the Whitall Mfg. Co. and Foster's shoe shop, where several hundred men and women are employed. There are 3000 square feet of land, more or less, and handsome shade trees line the street. Sixty per cent, or better can remain on mortgage.
Purchaser must deposit or secure to the auctioneer $500 as soon as the property is struck off. The property must be seen to be appreciated. Make all inquiries of the auctioneer.

THOMAS H. KELLEY, Auctioneer.

10,000 Persons Saw U. S. Army Officers at Work

The military aero exhibition at Rockingham park yesterday afternoon gave 10,000 persons opportunity to see actual maneuvers by officers of the regular army assigned to aviator work by the war department, Capt. Paul W.

Among the maneuvers were quick starting, soaring from the ground at sharp angles, skidding in the air, the cork-screw glide, riding down on a visible roller coaster, cutting figure eights, gentle alighting and other stunts. On account of the wind no attempt was made for an altitude record. Capt. Arnold made the greatest height, about 500 feet. He said that the wind was in layers. Sometimes his machine could barely make way against it and with the propellers whirling at top speed the biplane would advance no faster than a person walking.

Lieut. Arnold made test of accuracy in landing and stopped his machine within 16 feet of a mark. Lieut. The little banks served as tickets of admission, and were opened and their contents counted. The committee in charge of the banquet was as follows: Charles C. Drew, W. D. Brown, W. W. Cloworth, V. H. CHINESE REPUBLIC

Li Yuan Hung is Head of the New Chinese Government

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Advices were received here today by the Chung San Yat Po, the Chinese Daily World, that the revolutionists in China have declared a republic, electing Li Yuan Hung, lieutenant commander of the imperial new army, president.

to add to the danger all the prisons were opened and the inmates released to wander about the town. The revolutionary organization is making every effort to restore order and it is announced that rioters, wherever caught would be severely dealt with.

The revolutionary army is strongly entrenched in Wu Chang and Han Yang, with guns mounted in commanding positions. Since the capture of the Han Yang arsenal there has been no snail-fault regarding the supply of ammunition and the leaders declare confidently that they are in condition to cope with any opposition.

Parties of government troops which are arriving here from time to time are met promptly by revolutionists who endeavor to persuade them to join the movement. If they refuse they are allowed to withdraw beyond the limits of the city.

The American consul general, Roger S. Greene, crossed the Yang Tse river to Wu Chang today, accompanied by the American gunboat Helena, the Associated Press correspondent and two Chinese interpreters. The party went unarmed and entered the gates of the city after they had been opened for a squad of rebel artillery to pass out. The party interviewed Colonel Li, the rebel commander, who treated them with every courtesy and assured them of their safety while in the city.

The consul general gathered up 44 foreigners who had not yet left the city, including Americans, Englishmen and Italians, and took them back to Hankow. The missionaries were accompanied by 300 of their Chinese proteges. The party was unmolested on its way through Wu Chang, being escorted by a squad of rebel troops.

THE McNAMARA TRIAL

The Defence Challenged for Cause Venireman Nelson

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 13.—Examination of Talsman Z. T. Nelson of Pasadena was the first proceeding set before Judge Walter Bordwell in the superior court today in the murder trial of James B. McNamara. Questioning of talsmen, frequently regarded as a dismal proceeding, furnished in this case interest to spectators and participants, because it was expected to define in advance of the opening argument some of the essential issues of the trial, which is designed to show whether the defendant is responsible for the death of Charles J. Hagerty, who with 20 others was killed in the Los Angeles Times explosion over a year ago. For 19 deaths James B. McNamara is held on indictments but the state has elected to go to trial on this one case.

Nelson's attitude toward labor organizations and their members touched upon at the preliminary examination was made the subject of further inquiry for the defense, under Clarence Darrow and the rulings of the court on objections interposed by District Attorney John D. Fredericks and his aides were awaited as showing what con-

PLEDGED TO ABSOLUTE AUCTION SALE, THE HANDSOME, WELL BUILT AND SUBSTANTIAL TWO AND ONE-HALF STORY HOUSE OF 15 ROOMS AND UNFINISHED ATTIC AT THE CORNER OF WILLIE AND FRANKLIN STREETS, LONG OCCUPIED BY THE LATE WILLIAM H. WIGGIN AS AN OFFICE AND RESIDENCE.

It is seldom that a parcel of real estate is offered for sale at public auction of the character of above, which will be sold for the highest dollar at public auction on

TOMORROW AFTERNOON, AT 4 O'CLOCK

This house was built by the late Mr. Wiggin for his own occupancy, and it was thoroughly built in every respect. There are 15 rooms in the house, those on the first floor consisting of parlor, sitting room, kitchen, dining room, two bedrooms, bathroom, pantry and small shed. There are eight sleeping rooms on the second floor, two finished rooms on the third floor, and a large unfinished attic. The front hall is large and roomy, with plenty of space necessary if purchaser desires to turn the property into a two-apartment house. There are large bay windows on front and side extending through the two stories. The roof is slated and the entire building is provided with lightning rods. The house was painted on the outside a short time ago, and is in good condition in this respect. Blinds are in good condition, and the front part of the house, both up stairs and down is provided with inside shutters. The underpinning is of solid, upsplit granite, seldom used today in house foundation work because of the great expense. The lot is marked off from the street by granite bounds. There is a good sized side piazza with floor of hard wood.

The entire house is piped for gas, and a nearly new furnace in good condition. There are two marble fireplaces, one in parlor and the other in sitting room, and black walnut doors. In the kitchen are wash trays of the best material, and also a wash stand in addition to large sink. With the exception of a little paper and paint on the inside, the house is in perfect condition. The present owner says to sell, and sold it will be for the high dollar.

This property is well situated for a boarding or lodging house, or might be turned into a two apartment house and by extending the rear towards Franklin street on Willie street, a four apartment block with but slight additional expense.

Within a stone's throw are situated shoe shops and factories, foundries and other places of employment. It is nearly opposite the plant of the Whittall Mfg. Co. and Foster's shoe shop, where several hundred men and women are employed. There are 500 square feet of land, more or less, and handsome shade trees line the street. Sixty per cent, or better can remain on mortgage. Purchaser must deposit or secure to the auctioneer $300 as soon as the property is struck off. The property must be seen to be appreciated. Make all inquiries of the auctioneer.

By Knights of Columbus --- Parade, Banquet and Speeches

Columbus Day was given its first general formal observance in Lowell yesterday, and if its successors come up to the standard set by the initial celebration there can be no adverse criticism, for no big affair ever went off more smoothly nor gave more general satisfaction. It was a holiday in fact, for the mills and stores of the city entered into the spirit of the occasion and suspended business while many decorated their places of business, and all classes entered heartily into the celebration. In the parade were to be seen no less than seven nationalities while many more than that number were represented in the grand chorus of 1000 school children which sang patriotic airs from the steps of City Hall at the conclusion of the parade. It is estimated that there were fully 3000 men in line.

The celebration opened with religious services even as history tells us the first act of Columbus and his men upon landing on these shores was to fall on their knees and thank the Almighty who had guided them over the pathless deep. Then followed the general civic celebration in which all Americans participated, while in the evening the day was closed by the organization that takes its name from the great discoverer with a grand banquet at which his fame was entailed in song and eloquence.

Nature smiled on the celebration while the autumn winds were tempered to the marching bodies, and a more desirable day could not be selected. The city took on a holiday appearance from early morning until late at night with thousands on the streets in gala attire and on pleasure bent. It was a great and memorable first observance of Columbus Day.

The Parade

A more favorable day for an outdoor celebration never gladdened the heart of enthusiastic mankind and hence the appearance of nearly 3000 young and old in the big parade of the day. While the Knights and Holy Name societies were in attendance at mass the other marching bodies assembled in the vicinity of the South common preparatory to starting in the parade. Meanwhile thousands lined the streets to witness the pageant. The crowd at city hall, where the school children's demonstration took place after the review of the parade was particularly dense, but the police report that throughout the city they never experienced an easier crowd to handle. The street railroad cleared the route of parade of street cars and hence everything went off without a hitch.

Shortly after 10 o'clock all was in readiness and at the sound of the first bell, Chief Marshal Thomas J. Delaney started the parade on its way, over the following route: Gorham street, thence to Central, to Merrimack, to Bridge, countermarch at West Sixth, to Merrimack, to Moody, to Alken, to Merrimack, where the paraders were reviewed at city hall steps by Mayor John F. McLean and the members of the city government. At the junction of Moody and Merrimack streets the chief marshal and his staff lined up and reviewed the participants and then the line was dismissed.

The different marching bodies presented a fine appearance and received the plaudits of appreciative on-lookers all along the line. St. Peter's Holy Name society, headed by its zealous spiritual director, Rev. John J. Lyons, presented the largest number, having over 500 men in line. The Greek Holy reluctant made its first public appearance, clad in natty khaki uniforms and made a most favorable impression. The Polish societies in their elaborate uniforms made a big hit and the Italians who came out at short notice, showed up well.

Aides to the chief marshal:

Young Man Sentenced to Jail for Ten Months

Arthur L. Murphy, a young man, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with forgery. Through his counsel he entered a plea of guilty. This is the first forgery case that has ever been tried in the local court, but recently the jurisdiction of police courts was enlarged and therefore

Judge Hadley disposed of the case instead of holding the defendant for the grand jury as has been the rule heretofore. Murphy was found guilty and a sentence of ten months in jail imposed. He will be given until Monday to consider if he desires to appeal and if he does not do so at that time the order of the court will be carried out.

The alleged forgery was committed last May and a warrant was sworn out on May 20 by Henry Englestein, who keeps a cleansing and tailoring shop at 33 Branch street. Murphy was in the employ of the tailor at the time, and when Fred C. Garnett, who owed Englestein $14.50, presented a check it was said that Murphy endorsed it and cashed it at the Lowell Trust Co.

The police were notified but Murphy had made good his escape. Yesterday the police of Worcester telephoned to Lowell that a man answering Murphy's description had been arrested in that city. Inspector McCloughry went to Worcester and returned with Murphy last night.

Stole a Watch
Fred C. Tedford's desire to own a

gold watch led him to commit a larceny which resulted in his being arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning, having been arrested in Lynn yesterday after he had pawned the watch which he stole in this city. The watch was the property of Russell Skidmore. Tedford pleaded guilty to the complaint and after the testimony had been heard the young man was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $15 and the costs of court.

Tedford and Skidmore were members of the Y. M. C. A. and last July went to the association rooms for the purpose of taking a shower bath. Skidmore disrobed and leaving his clothing on a bench entered the bath. When he finished the bath and donned his clothes he found that his gold watch and $5 in money were missing. He reported the matter to the police but nothing was learned of the thief until the night before last when Tedford was arrested in Lynn after he had pawned the watch, his arrest having been brought about as a result of the lost watch card system which is used in several cities in this vicinity.

He admitted his guilt and yesterday Lieut. Maher went to Lynn and brought the young man back to Lowell.

Stole Cloth From Mill
Kyrlekon Gligosoulou, a woman, through her counsel, Lawyer A. O. Hanel, entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging her with the larceny of 24 yards of cloth, the property of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. He explained that the young woman came to this country from Greece about a year and a half ago and after securing employment in the Lawrence section of the Tremont & Suffolk she took the cloth and has been hidden in a trunk in her room ever since. He asked the court to be as lenient as possible inasmuch as the defendant was not familiar with the ways in this country when she committed the larceny. The court found the defendant guilty and ordered her to pay a fine of $20 in three days or else go to jail.

Neglected His Wife
Dennis A. Bloom pleaded guilty to having failed to provide support for his wife. He promised to do better in the future and on condition that he contribute $5 a week to his wife he was placed in the custody of the probation officer.

Stole Some Clothing

Arthur Johnson pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk and not guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of a sweater, coat and cap, the property of Louis Delare. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $15. Delare belongs in Manchester, N. H., and came to this city last Monday in search of work. While passing through Middlesex street he visited several saloons in one of which he met Johnson. Delare proved to be a good sport and just to show his appreciation to his newly formed acquaintance Johnson took Delare to his room in Middlesex street. Delare was tired and lying on the bed, went to sleep. When he awoke he found that his sweater, coat and hat were missing, as was Johnson. He reported the matter to the police and Lieut. Martha Maher succeeded in locating the sweater in a second hand clothing store in Middlesex street and subsequently arrested Johnson, but the latter said he had been drinking and did not know what he had done. All efforts to locate the coat and cap proved fruitless.

Drunk Offenders
Philip Drinn, charged with being drunk, was sentenced to five months in jail. Alice Murtha was under a suspended sentence of five months in jail for being drunk, but she failed to abide by the provisions of her probation and was surrendered by Probation Officer Slattery and the suspension revoked. John O. O'Donnell was sentenced to three months in jail. James O'Neill and Thomas L. Clark were fined $6 each and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

LAWYER DISBARRED

ALFRED, Me. Oct. 13.—Ruggles Higgins, a Sanford lawyer, was disbarred by a decree given by Judge Whitehouse in the supreme court today at the conclusion of a hearing on charges brought by the York Bar association.

"The larger use of lay agencies" and "Woman's claim and responsibilities." The speakers include Prof. F. S. Atkins of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church on the "Laymen's movement"; Norman Sargent of London, England, on "Laymen and home evangelization"; Richard Lee of Wigan, England, on "The priesthood of the people," and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of London, England, on "Methodist and the woman's movement."

PLEASANT SURPRISE

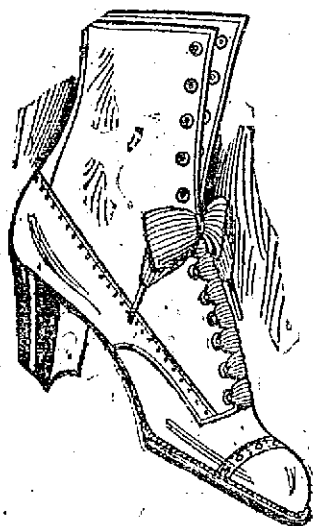

PRESENTATION OF A LOVING CUP TO MR. ALBION TAYLOR

Wednesday evening after the day's work at the Cook, Taylor & Co's dry goods stores on Merrimack and Central streets the clerks assembled at the Central street store, about sixty in number, for the purpose of presenting Mr. Albion Taylor with a loving cup. At the time Mr. Taylor was busy in his office on the second floor, and after all had arrived he was informed that he was wanted down stairs. Without any formal ceremony Mr. John McKinley, manager of the Merrimack street store, stepped forward and in behalf of all the clerks of both stores, including the cash boys, presented Mr. Taylor a beautiful mammoth sterling silver loving cup. Mr. McKinley said they wished at some time or other to get together and publicly express their appreciation of the many kindnesses expressed to them, and particularly to show their appreciation for the pleasant outings and beautiful sails down the harbor for the past several seasons given by Mr. Taylor who always assembled clerks that there were many there that she had known for years, dating back almost to her son's childhood, and among them she felt that no more trustworthy or loyal clerks could be found in any establishment. After a few remarks by other clerks, three cheers were given for Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

The loving cup is about eighteen inches high, on an ebony base and is inscribed "Presented to Albion Taylor, October 11, 1911, by the employees of the Merrimack and Central street stores."

LOWELL HIGH'S GAME

Rindge School Defeated by Score of 12 to 0

The Lowell High school football team defeated Rindge Technical school yesterday by a score of 12 to 0 before a crowd of about 700 football enthusiasts. The spectators were well satisfied with the exhibition put up by the local eleven and those who have witnessed the different games so far this season noticed the players are improving in each succeeding contest. Lowell was exceptionally strong in the back field, though in fact each member of the team did his share of the work and the combined team work was responsible for the victory. The Rindge players put up a good game, but their work was less effective at critical stages than that of Lowell. The touchdowns both came from forward passes. Carter on a play to the left of the field ran up to Capt. Leggat as though he was a substitute reporting and the captain carried out the bluff and waved to him as if he was sending him out. Carter ran away to the side of the field whereupon Leggat signalled for the ball to be passed. The ball was thrown to Carter who ran 50 yards before he was tackled. A few minutes later Lowell fooled Rindge again, faking a line plunge and Leg-gat made another pretty forward pass to Cawley who scored the touchdown. For the second score of the game, Leggat again made a wonderful pass to Carter who crossed the goal line. Lowell scored another touchdown, when Trull picked up a fumbled ball and crossed the line but it was not allowed by the officials who declared that the timer's whistle was blown before the play started. The lineup and summary:

LOWELL—Carter, lg. Freeman, Harrell, Morrell, Hazelton, W. Donohoe, Lamson, lt. Krigger, lg. Hubbard, Cullen, lc. Bowers, Desmond, qb. Riley, Rostler, c. Hoffman, rg. Glidden, Kew, rk. Bligham, rt. THE RUSSIAN NOTE SAYS CARGOES OF CORN Cannot be Seized

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—The text of the Russian note to Turkey regarding the free export of Russian corn was made public today. In reply to a verbal remonstrance Turkey had said that she intended to act according to the declaration of London of 1909. As this was considered unsatisfactory to Russia this government presented a written demand, wherein it was pointed out that Russia, basing her position upon the declaration of Paris of 1856 and articles 24 and 33 of the declaration of London considered that cargoes of corn were subject neither to arrest nor confiscation when addressed to Russian ports in the Black sea or to Italian ports so long as the cargoes were not destined for the Italian field forces or Italian consignees. Articles 24 of the declaration of London describes articles including foodstuffs and grain, which may be treated as contraband of war. Article 33 explains "conditional contraband" as articles liable to capture if shown to be destined to be used for the purpose of a war in progress. Article 34 sets forth that the destination referred to in the preceding article is presumed to exist if the shipments are consigned to an enemy or the contractor of an enemy but where the conditions do not arise the destination is presumed to be innocent.

GIVES HIMSELF UP Man Held in Connection With Girl's Death

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—Samuel A. Morrison, 21, residing at 24 Salem street, Reading, was arrested early yesterday morning by Patrolman Robert Powers of the Reading police force in connection with the death of Edna M. Bancroft of 15 Linden street, Reading, who expired in the office of Dr. Catherine W. Castle at 43 Florence street, Malden, Tuesday evening. According to the police blotter at Malden, Morrison was booked on exactly the same charge that hangs over Dr. Castle, which alleges that he attempted an operation of an illegitimate nature, thereby causing the death of the young woman. According to the police, Morrison met Patrolman Powers in Reading, discussed the Bancroft case and said if the police wanted him he would give himself up. He was taken to the station and the Malden police were notified. Lieut. Powers and Sergt. Gray brought the man to Malden, where he was locked up. Bail was set at $3000.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

During the six months' run at the New York theatre and the Manhattan Opera house, New York, the new comic opera, entitled "Naughty Marietta," which will be seen at the Opera house tomorrow, matinee and night, was noted for its artistic scenery, beautiful light effects and appropriate costumes. The locale of the opera is New Orleans in the year 1789 and the warmth and coloring of the music and story. The story by Victor Herbert is considered to be the most masterful and pretentious of his many former compositions. Rida Johnson Young, who wrote the book, is said to have taken advantage of the different nationalities which thronged New Orleans in Colonial times, and has evolved a story of romance and adventure that is replete with interesting and numerous episodes. The case includes such well known artists as Miss Carrie R. Sopinsky, Miss Blanche Latell, Miss Cleo, cognie, Miss Florence Weber, Mr. Garrick Major, Mr. John Cardo, Mr. Sid Braham, Mr. Warren B. Lombard, Mr. George Scott, and others. A special orchestra assembled from the Manhattan Opera house is said to bring out the beauty of the score with fidelity and precision.

RAINEY-FOLLETT PICTURES

A most delightful, novel and instructive entertainment will be seen at the Opera House on Sunday night, Oct. 15. The life-like motion pictures taken by Paul J. Rainey, the famous sportsman and explorer, will be presented by Richard E. Follett, Mr. Rainey's companion in travel during his exploration of the Arctic regions. Every man, woman and child who has heard of this unknown portion of the earth, will have an opportunity of sitting in a comfortable seat in a cosy theatre and seeing a land that man have lost their lives in exploring, fighting battles with ferocious animals and sea-monsters, and spending millions of dollars to obtain information so that their fellow beings might profit.

"THE SPENDTHRIFT"

"The Spendthrift" which comes here next week is a play worth seeing, and one worth thinking about. It has a cogent lesson and points a vital picture of the domestic tragedies which have made Reno a by-word and marriage a contract broken at convenience. It has a drama intense in situation and its whole is a vivid moral, well blended with a vigorous action, but its atmosphere is not of a snappy, concise and clever form. The characters are splendidly drawn and the development of the plot, a wasted life caused by the extravagance of an unthinking wife, has been carried out in a vivid and true-to-life manner.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

Manager Stevens since opening Keith's theatre has been making a close study of theatrical conditions in Lowell with a view to meeting them and making Keith's the most popular playhouse of its kind north of Boston. He now announces a change in prices to go into effect next week which undoubtedly will be appreciated by the public. The capacity of the 25 cent seats on the main floor will increase admitting of many more seats at that price in the orchestra. At all matinees the balcony will be 10 cents to ladies and children. At the Sunday concerts, the second balcony henceforth will be five cents only, while the 10 and 20 cents seats on balcony and floor will be reserved and may be ordered in advance by telephone. HATHAWAY THEATRE

Packed houses were the holiday feature at the Hathaway theatre and the audiences were most enthusiastic demanding several curtain calls at the conclusion of each act even to the final act, a most unusual feature in Lowell. Next week the Donald Meek stock company will present Belasco and DeMille's great comedy drama, "The Lost Paradise," one of the greatest hits of modern plays, an intensely interesting story of the warfare of capital and labor interwoven with which is the charming romance of an honest factory foreman and the daughter of his employer. The play handles the labor question in a manner that is appreciated by all despite their views on the great problem and is as interesting to the employer as to the employee. Mr. Jack Chagnon and Miss Marie Horton will appear in the leading roles and will be seen to excellent advantage as each part calls for more than an ordinary dramatic ability. "The Lost Paradise" also has a most delicious vein of comedy presented by a son and daughter of the factory in the persons of Donald Meek and Miss Louise Langdon. It is from this pair that the expression of repeated the country over: "Gee, I guess my stomach thinks me 'treat is on'" emanates, eliciting a most pathetic situation with comedy. The play will be presented from the original manuscript in toto and will be elaborately staged. Seats now on sale.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The following entertainment program is being offered at the Academy of Music: The Paul Azard Trio present something new in the art of hand balancing and stationary posing; Collins and Cole, clever Irish comedians, and Evelyn Jaxon, a dainty singer and change artiste, are the other contributors. MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Thousands of local theatregoers attended yesterday's performances at the Merrimack Square theatre and found great enjoyment in the excellence of the bill. The Wilton Brothers, expert comedy bar artists, are funny, and besides providing rich comedy one of the members accomplishes several difficult feats on the burr. The offering by Our Stock company is considered the very best play presented by Kendall Weston and his assistants. Billy Ray, the musical chink, plays several instruments well, and Miss May Monahan, the week's soloist, is winning friends daily. Leslie, Laurie and Quinn are excellent wooden shoe dancers and they also sing. Tonight will be grand opera night, and the Merrimack Square Theatre Concert orchestra will play one of the favorite opera selections. For the sacred concerts next Sunday afternoon and evening the Paquot club, a local organization of 15 young men, who give a fine musical program, will appear. There will be several other good numbers as well.

GUILTY OF PERJURY

Young Man Sentenced to Jail for Ten Months

Arthur L. Murphy, a young man, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with forgery. Through his counsel he entered a plea of guilty. This is the first forgery case that has ever been tried in the local court, but recently the jurisdiction of police courts was enlarged and therefore

Judge Hadley disposed of the case instead of holding the defendant for the grand jury as has been the rule heretofore. Murphy was found guilty and a sentence of ten months in jail imposed. He will be given until Monday to consider if he desires to appeal and if he does not do so at that time the order of the court will be carried out.

The alleged forgery was committed last May and a warrant was sworn out on May 20 by Henry Englestein, who keeps a cleansing and tailoring shop at 33 Branch street. Murphy was in the employ of the tailor at the time, and when Fred C. Garnett, who owed Englestein $14.50, presented a check it is said that Murphy endorsed it and cashed it at the Lowell Trust Co.

The police were notified but Murphy had made good his escape. Yesterday the police of Worcester telephoned to Lowell that a man answering Murphy's description had been arrested in that city. Inspector McCloughry went to Worcester and returned with Murphy last night.

Stole a Watch
Fred C. Tedford's desire to own a

gold watch led him to commit a larceny which resulted in his being arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning, having been arrested in Lynn yesterday after he had pawned the watch which he stole in this city. The watch was the property of Russell Skidmore. Tedford pleaded guilty to the complaint and after the testimony had been heard the young man was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $15 and the costs of court.

Tedford and Skidmore were members of the Y. M. C. A., and last July went to the association rooms for the purpose of taking a shower bath. Skidmore disrobed and leaving his clothing on a bench entered the bath. When he finished the bath and donned his clothes he found that his gold watch and $5 in money were missing.

He reported the matter to the police but nothing was learned of the thief until the night before last when Tedford was arrested in Lynn after he had pawned the watch, his arrest having been brought about as a result of the lost watch card system which is used in several cities in this vicinity.

He admitted his guilt and yesterday, Lieut. Maher went to Lynn and brought the young man back to Lowell.

Stole Cloth From Mill

Kyriakon Girsopoulos, a woman, through her counsel, Lawyer A. O. Rinnel, entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging her with the larceny of 34 yards of cloth, the property of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. He explained that the young woman came to this country from Greece about a year and a half ago and after securing employment in the Lawrence section of the Tremont & Suffolk she took the cloth and it has been hidden in a trunk in her room ever since. He asked the court to be as lenient as possible inasmuch as the defendant was not familiar with the ways in this country when she committed the larceny. The court found the defendant guilty and ordered her to pay a fine of $20 in three days or else go to jail.

Neglected His Wife

Denis A. Bloom pleaded guilty to having failed to provide support for his wife. He promised to do better in the future and on condition that he contribute $8 a week to his wife he was placed in the custody of the probation officer.

Stole Some Clothing

Arthur Johnson pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk and not guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of a sweater, coat and cap, the property of Louis Delare. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $15.

Delare belongs in Manchester, N. H., and came to this city last Monday in search of work. While passing through Middlesex street he visited several saloons in one of which he met Johnson. Delare proved to be a good spender and just to show his appreciation to his newly formed acquaintance Johnson took Delare to his room in Middlesex street. Delare was tired and lying on the bed, went to sleep. When he awoke he found that his sweater, coat and hat were missing—as was Johnson. He reported the matter to the police and Lieut. Martin Maher succeeded in locating the sweater in a second hand clothing store in Middlesex street and subsequently arrested Johnson, but the latter said he had been drinking and did not know what he had done. All efforts to locate the coat and cap proved fruitless.

Drunk Offenders

Philip Drinn, charged with being drunk, was sentenced to five months in jail. Alice Murtha was under a suspended sentence of five months in jail for being drunk, but she failed to abide by the provisions of her probation and was surrendered by Probation Officer Shattory and the suspension revoked. John O. O'Donnell was sentenced to three months in jail, James O'Neill and Thomas W. Clark were fined $6 each and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

LAWYER DISBARRED

ALFRED, Me., Oct. 13.—Ruggles Higgins, a Sanford lawyer, was disbarred by a decree given by Judge Whitehouse in the supreme court today at the conclusion of a hearing on charges brought by the York Bar association.

PLEASANT SURPRISE

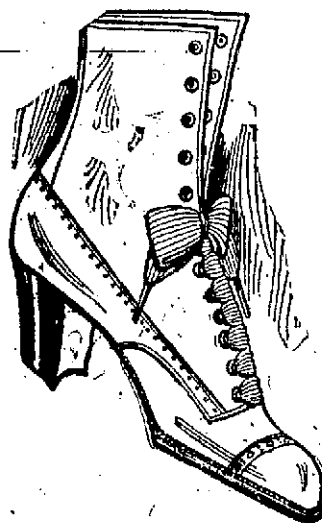

PRESENTATION OF A LOVING CUP TO MR. ALBION TAYLOR

Wednesday evening after the day's work at the Cook, Taylor & Co.'s dry goods stores on Merrimack and Central streets the clerks assembled at the Central street store, about sixty in number, for the purpose of presenting Mr. Albion Taylor with a loving cup. At the time Mr. Taylor was busy in his office on the second floor, and after all had arrived he was informed that he was wanted down stairs. Without any formal ceremony Mr. John McKisley, manager of the Merrimack street store, stepped forward and in behalf of all the clerks of both stores, including the cash boys, presented Mr. Taylor a beautiful mammoth sterling silver loving cup. Mr. McKisley said they wished at some time or other to get together and publicly express their appreciation of the many kindnesses received at Mr. Taylor's hands, from time to time, and particularly to show their appreciation for the pleasant outings and beautiful sails down the harbor for the past several seasons given by Mr. Taylor who always assembled clerks that there were many there that she had known for years, dating back almost to her son's childhood, and among them she felt that no more trustworthy or loyal clerks could be found in any establishment. After a few remarks by other clerks, three, inscribed "Presented to Albion Taylor, October 11, 1911, by the employees of the Merrimack and Central stores." The loving cup is about eighteen inches high, on an ebony base and is

Rindge School Defeated by Score of 12 to 0

The Lowell High school football team defeated Rindge Technical school of Cambridge yesterday by a score of 12 to 0 before a crowd of about 700 football enthusiasts. The spectators were well satisfied with the exhibition put up by the local eleven and those who have witnessed the different games so far this season noticed the players are improving in each succeeding contest.

Lowell was exceptionally strong in the back field, though in fact each member of the team did his share of the work and the combined team work was responsible for the victory. The Rindge players but up a good game but their work was less effective at critical stages than that of Lowell.

The touchdowns both came from forward passes. Carter on a play to the left of the field ran up to Capt. Leggat as though he was a substitute reporting and the captain carried out the bluff and waves to him as if he was sending him out. Carter ran a yard to the side of the field whereupon Leggat signalled for the ball to be passed. The ball was thrown to Carter who ran 50 yards before he was tackled. A few minutes later Lowell scored Rindge again, making a line punner and Leg-gat made another pretty forward pass to Cawley who scored the touchdown. For the second score of the game, Leggat again made a wonderful pass to Carter who crossed the goal line. Lowell scored another touchdown, when Trull picked up a fumbled ball and crossed the line but it was not allowed by the officials who declared that the timer's whistle was blown before the play started.

THE RUSSIAN NOTE

Says Cargoes of Corn Cannot be Seized

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—The text of the Russian note to Turkey regarding the free export of Russian corn was made public today. In reply to a verbal remonstrance Turkey had said that she intended to act according to the declaration of London of 1909. As this was considered unsatisfactory to Russia this government presented a written demand, wherein it was pointed out that Russia, basing her position upon the declaration of Paris of 1860 and articles 24 and 33 of the declaration of London considered that cargoes of corn were subject neither to arrest nor confiscation when addressed to Russian ports in the Black sea or to Italian ports so long as the cargoes were not destined for the Italian field forces or Italian consignees. Articles 24 of the declaration of London describes articles including foodstuffs and grain, which may be treated as contraband of war. Article 38 explains "conditional contraband" as articles liable to capture if shown to be destined to be used for the purpose of a war in progress. Article 34 sets forth that the destination referred to in the preceding article is presumed to exist if the shipments are consigned to an enemy or the contractor of an enemy but where the conditions do not arise the destination is presumed to be innocent.

Man Held in Connection With Girl's Death

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—Samuel A. Morrison, 24, residing at 24 Salem street, Reading, was arrested early yesterday morning by Patrolman Robert Powers of the Reading police force in connection with the death of Edna M. Bancroft of 15 Linden street, Reading, who expired in the office of Dr. Catherine W. Castle at 43 Florence street, Malden, Tuesday evening.

According to the police blotter at Malden, Morrison was booked on exactly the same charge that hangs over Dr. Castle, which alleges that he attempted an operation of an illegal nature, thereby causing the death of the young woman.

According to the police, Morrison met Patrolman Powers in Reading, discussed the Bancroft case and said if the police wanted him he would give himself up. He was taken to the station and the Malden police were notified. Lieut. Powers and Sergt. Gray brought the man to Malden, where he was locked up. Bail was set at $3000.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

During the six months' run at the New York theatre and the Manhattan Opera house, New York, the new comic opera entitled "Naughty Marietta," which will be seen at the Opera house tomorrow, matinee and night, was noted for its artistic scenery, beautiful light effects and appropriate costumes. The locale of the opera is New Orleans in the year 1789 and the warmth and coloring of the southern atmosphere pervade the music and story. The story by Victor Herbert is considered to be the most masterful and pretentious of his many former compositions. Rida Johnson Young, who wrote the book, is said to have taken advantage of the different nationalities which thronged New Orleans in Colonial times, and has evolved a story of romance and adventure that is replete with interesting and numerous episodes.

The case includes such well known artists as Miss Carrie R. Sopinsky, Miss Blanche Latell, Miss Cleo Gascoigne, Miss Florence Weber, Mr. Garlick Major, Mr. John Carlo, Mr. Sid Graham, Mr. Warren B. Lombard, Mr. George Scott, and others.

A special orchestra assembled from the Manhattan Opera house is said to bring out the beauty of the score with fidelity and precision.

RAINEY-FOLLETT PICTURES

A most delightful, novel and instructive entertainment will be seen at the Opera House on Sunday night, Oct. 15. The life-like motion pictures taken by Paul J. Rainey, the famous sportsman and explorer, will be presented by Richard E. Follett, Mr. Rainey's companion in travel during his exploration of the Arctic regions. Every man, woman and child who has heard of this unknown portion of the earth, will have an opportunity of sitting in a comfortable seat in a cozy theatre and seeing a land that men have lost their lives in exploring, fighting battles with ferocious animals and sea-monsters, and spending millions of dollars to obtain information so that their fellow beings might profit.

"TIDE SPENDTHrift"

"The Spendthrift," which comes here next week is a play worth seeing, and one worth thinking about. It has a cogent lesson and paints a vital picture of the domestic tragedies which have made Reno a by-word and marriage a contract broken at convenience. It has a drama intense in situation and its whole is a vivid moral, well blended by vigorous action, but its atmosphere is boiled down to a snappy, concise and clever form. The characters are splendidly drawn and the development of the plot, a wasted life caused by the extravagance of an unthinking wife, has been carried out in a vivid and true-to-life manner.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

Manager Stevens since opening Keith's theatre has been making a close study of theatrical conditions in Lowell with a view to meeting them and making Keith's the most popular playhouse of its kind north of Boston. He now announces a change in prices to go into effect next week which undoubtedly will be appreciated by the public. The capacity of the 26 cent seats on the main floor will increase admitting of many more seats at that price in the orchestra. At all matinees the balcony will be 10 cents to ladies and children. At the Sunday concerts, the second balcony henceforth will be five cents only, while the 10 and 20 cent seats on balcony and floor will be reserved and may be ordered in advance by telephone. MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Thousands of local theatregoers attended yesterday's performances at the Merrimack Square theatre and found great enjoyment in the excellence of the bill. The Wilton Brothers, expert comedy bar artists, are funny, and besides providing rich comedy one of the members accomplishes several difficult feats on the bars. The offering by Our Stock company is considered the very best play presented by Kendall Weston and his assistants. Billy Ray, the musical chink, plays several instruments well, and Miss May Monahan, the week's soloist, is winning friends daily. Lottie, Laurie and Quinn are excellent wooden shoe dancers and they also sing. Tonight will be grand opera night, and the Merrimack Square Theatre Concert orchestra will play one of the favorite opera selections. For the sacred concerts next Sunday afternoon and evening the Pequot club, a local organization of 15 young men, who give a fine musical program, will appear. There will be several other good numbers as well.

OPEN EVENINGS

ELOQUENT SERMON

By Rev. Fr. Quinn, O. M. I., to the
K. of C. and Holy Name

The celebration of Columbus day in this city opened with services at St. Peter's church which undoubtedly were among the most impressive ever held in that church. The Knights of Columbus and Holy Name societies marched from Monument square to the church where seats were reserved for them. The large edifice was packed to the doors. Solemn high mass was sung at 8:45 by Rev. W. George Mullin, chaplain of Lowell council assisted by Rev. Francis J. Mullin of St. Michael's church, deacon; Rev. James McDermott, O. M. I., subdeacon, and Rev. Owen McQuade, O. M. I., master of ceremonies. Within the sanctuary were Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher and Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I.

The responses of the mass were given by the sanctuary choir under the direction of Rev. Fr. Burns, and the regular church choir, directed by Mr. James E. Donnelly, sang Turner's St. Cecilia's mass. Mrs. J. W. McKennedy was organist.

The songs of the mass were sung by Miss May E. Whiteley, Miss Keleher and Mr. Donnelly.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. James Quinn, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Texas, formerly of Lowell, an impressive pulpit orator who delivered a fervidly eloquent sermon appropriate to the day. The abbreviated report below, necessitated by lack of space, hardly does justice to Fr. Quinn's masterly effort.

Rev. Fr. Quinn's Sermon

Dear Beloved Brethren:

What means this holiday? The "Household of the Faith" hath come forth in battle array. Wherefore? To honor the discoverer of America—and today from the pine forests of Maine to the golden sands of California—from the realm of His Majesty's Dominion of Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and the Rio Grande the illustrious name of Christopher Columbus, intrepid discoverer of America and "good soldier of Jesus Christ," is revered and honored. Fifty thousand men are marching through the streets of Boston today recognizing Almighty God as their commander-in-chief, fifty thousand good soldiers of Jesus Christ, Lowell also hath her imperial guard and her legion of honor and I congratulate you, members of the Holy Name society and Knights of Columbus for this magnificent display of loyalty to the King of Kings, Christ, Jesus, the Lord.

You are come forth in battle array, clothed with the armor of God—join fight about with truth, having on the breastplate of justice, feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace—your shield the shield of faith, your helmet the helmet of salvation—your sword the sword of the spirit which is the word of God. You are come forth to listen to the daily accredited ambassador of the God of Battles and his first message to you is: "The battle is now on—waging fast, fierce and furious and what your commander-in-chief stands for you must stand for or prove traitor to your God." Mark you well, Dear Beloved Brethren—"Our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against principalities and powers, against the rulers of the world of darkness, against the spirits of wickedness in high places."

The age of knighthood has returned and it is now in flower once more. Let us listen to what the illustrious Burke says of knighthood. Burke describes chivalry as:

"The unthought grace of life, the cheap defence of nations, the nurse of manly sentiment and heroic enterprise."

Burke characterized knighthood as, that sensibility of principle, that chastity of honor which felt a stain like a wound, which inspired courage while it mitigated ferocity, which ennobled whatever it touched and under which vice itself lost half its evil by losing all its grossness."

In the ceremony of knighthood is strikingly illustrated the duty of the hour. Before knighthood was conferred the candidate was obliged to make a vow to defend religion. It was the first vow and included all the minor ones, for the man who keeps the commandments of God is a great defender of the faith. Knighthood was then conferred by these words, "In the name of God, of Saint Michael and Saint George, I dub thee knight. Be brave, bold and loyal."

Loyalty must be the dominant note in the life of every good soldier; loyalty to self, loyalty to country, loyalty to God and his church.

"First to thine own self be true and it follows as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man." To be loyal to oneself one must win the great battle of life, self-conquest. Alexander wept for another world to conquer. He forgot that there was a little better world within him in which he did not conquer and the result was at the age of thirty-two he

REV. W. GEORGE MULLIN,
Chaplain.

REV. JAMES H. QUINN, O. M. I.

ded from over indulgence in the luxuries of life.

"Be virtuous and you shall be free," spoke Plato to the people, but nowadays the word is free and you shall be virtuous. We cannot be true to self without being true to God. To be true to God means self-denial, mortification.

"We must be loyal to our country. In the congress of nations today our country stands alone as the successful experiment of a government 'by the people, for the people and for the people.'" For a century and a quarter our country has stood the test and has astonished the world. Manhood is recognized and the people rule.

Now virtue is the mainstay of a republic, not standing armies and immense navies. There is no virtue lasting and fruitful without religion. Therefore, to be loyal to our country, we must be religious. We must reverence authority and obey the law and as our church teaches, it needs to shed our blood in defence of the flag that protects us.

We must be loyal to our God and his church. The laws of the land take cognizance of our exterior actions only. But the laws of God reach the mind and heart. Here in the full sense of the term we may show ourselves the 'good soldier of Christ.' We must stand for what God stands for if we wish our lives to be successful. We hear much about the rights of man and justice, but let us not forget the rights of God. In this age of strenuous and pronounced commercialism, let us not forget there is one Almighty, and His name is God. Donby taught his son that money could procure everything. Donby lived and died and got very little out of life. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's."

Loyalty to the grand old Catholic church must be the dominant note in life. With the sword of the spirit which is the word of God she sails unto righteousness 300,000,000 souls. The obedient man shall be victorious, says the Scripture. History has yet to record any act of man inspired or sanctioned by the Catholic church that might be construed against nation or individual. The church has been saved in this by Him who said: "I am with you all days." Long live the grand old church. She has seen the rise and fall of all governments down to our time. Ever ancient, ever new, she writes no wrinkles on her fair brow. Like the milk white hind, she has been doomed to death, but fate not to die. Patiently she has waited, and her immortal wound can ever be received. She stands today the great bulwark of our liberties. She stands for law and order and teaches that all authority is from God. She stands against the disintegration of the family, the family the unit of the state. She stands against the traffic in wives which is doing more harm than the selling of marriages in the temple in Utah.

When that lone traveler from New Zealand shall have finished his sketch of the ruins of St. Paul from that broken arch of London bridge, he may come to Boston and from a seat on Bunker hill sketch the ruins of Mrs. Biddy's church and the grand old Catholic church will still be in existence with undiminished rigor, because it is not of human origin but Divine, and the hand that preserves it from decay is the hand of Him who said: "I have conquered the world. The gates of hell shall not prevail against My church and I shall be with you all days, even unto the consummation of the world." It will be in a sense the survival of the fittest.

I am a Roman citizen, was the proud boast of those who lived where the yellow Tiber flows. We, as citizens of the greatest and best republic the sun has ever shone upon, are proud to say, "I am an American citizen." But there is a land that is fairer than this; we are heirs to heaven, our home, our sweetest home beyond the skies, and we are brothers and fellowmen of that King whose term of office never ends and we are proud to say, "I am a Christian and a Catholic." He is our King, our Saviour and Judge. He is the way, the truth and the life. In baptism we took the oath to be defenders of the faith. Christianity has kindled us and we must be "bold, brave, and loyal."

The life of Columbus, Dear Knights of Columbus and Knights of the Holy Name, is a noble example for us all. The difficulties which beset his path here discouraged many a one. But his life was eloquent of the good, the beautiful and the true, of the ethical, the aesthetic and the scientific.

In a word, he labored to be a good soldier of Christ, and his life was a success, memorable and lasting.

Let us then—

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
Be not like dumb driven cattle,
Be a hero in the strife.

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

OPEN EVENINGS

ELOQUENT SERMON

By Rev. Fr. Quinn, O. M. I., to the
K. of C. and Holy Name

The celebration of Columbus day in this city opened with services at St. Peter's church which undoubtedly were among the most impressive ever held in that church. The Knights of Columbus and Holy Name societies marched from Monument square to the church where seats were reserved for them. The large edifice was packed to the doors. Solemn high mass was sung at 8.45 by Rev. W. George Mullin, chaplain of Lowell council assisted by Rev. Francis J. Mullin of St. Michael's church, deacon; Rev. James McDermott, O. M. I., sub-deacon, and Rev. Owen McQuade, O. M. I., master of ceremonies. Within the sanctuary were Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher and Rev. John P. Ryan, O. M. I.

The responses of the mass were given by the sanctuary choir under the direction of Rev. Fr. Burns, and the regular church choir directed by Mr. James E. Donnelly, sang Turner's St. Cecilia's mass. Mrs. J. W. McKennedy was organist.

The solos of the mass were sung by Miss May E. Whiteley, Miss Keleher and Mr. Donnelly.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. James Quinn, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Texas, formerly of Lowell, an impressive pulpit orator who delivered a fervidly eloquent sermon appropriate to the day. The abbreviated report below, necessitated by lack of space, hardly does justice to Fr. Quinn's masterly effort.

Rev. Fr. Quinn's Sermon

Dear Beloved Brethren:

Why is this holiday? The "Household of the Faith" hath come forth in battle array. Wherefore? To honor the discoverer of America—and today from the pine forests of Maine to the golden sands of California—from the realm of His Majesty's Dominion of Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and the Rio Grande the illustrious name of Christopher Columbus, intrepid discoverer of America and "good soldier of Jesus Christ," is revered and honored. Fifty thousand men are marching through the streets of Boston today recognizing Almighty God as their commander-in-chief, fifty thousand good soldiers of Jesus Christ, and "good soldier of Jesus Christ," is revered and honored. Fifty thousand men are marching through the streets of Boston today recognizing Almighty God as their commander-in-chief, fifty thousand good soldiers of Jesus Christ, and "good soldier of Jesus Christ," is revered and honored. Fifty thousand men are marching through the streets of Boston today recognizing Almighty God as their commander-in-chief, fifty thousand good soldiers of Jesus Christ, and "good soldier of Jesus Christ," is revered and honored.

You are come forth in battle array,

clothed with the armor of God—join fight about with truth, having on the breastplate of justice, feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace—your shield the shield of faith, your helmet the helmet of salvation—your sword the sword of the spirit which is the word of God. You are come forth to listen to the duly accredited ambassador of the God of Battles and his first message to you is: "The battle is now on—raging fast, fierce and furious and what your commander-in-chief stands for you must stand for or prove traitors to your God." Mark you well, Dearly Beloved Brethren—"Our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against principalities and powers, against the rulers of the world of darkness, against the spirits of wickedness in high places."

The age of knighthood has returned and it is now in flower once more. Let us listen to what the illustrious Burke says of knighthood. Burke describes chivalry as:

"The unthought grace of life, the cheap defence of nations, the nurse of manly sentiment and heroic enterprise."

Burke characterized knighthood as that sensibility of principle, that chastity of honor which felt a stain like a wound, which inspired courage while it mitigated ferocity; which ennobled whatever it touched and under which vice itself lost half its evil by losing all its grossness."

In the ceremony of knighthood is strikingly illustrated the duty of the hour. Before knighthood was conferred the candidate was obliged to make a vow to defend religion. It was the first vow and included all the minor ones, for the man who keeps the commandments of God is a great defender of the faith. Knighthood was then conferred by these words, "In the name of God, of Saint Michael and Saint George, I dub thee knight. Be brave, bold and loyal."

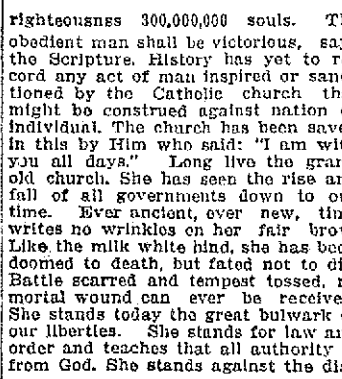

Now virtue is the mainstay of a republic, not standing armies and immense navies. There is no virtue lasting and fruitful without religion. Therefore, to be loyal to our country, we must be religious. We must reverence authority and obey the law and as our church teaches, it needs be shed our blood in defence of the flag that protects us.

We must be loyal to our God and His church. The laws of the land take cognizance of our exterior actions only. But the laws of God reach the mind and heart. Here in the full sense of the term we may show ourselves the "good soldier of Christ." We must stand for what God stands for if we wish our lives to be honorable and successful. We hear much about the rights of man and justly so, but let us not forget the rights of God. In this age of strenuousness, frenzied finance, quiet results and pronounced commercialism, let us not forget there is one Almighty, and His name is God. Donby taught his son that money could procure everything. Donby lived and died and got very little out of life. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's."

Loyalty to the grand old Catholic church must be the dominant note in life. With the sword of the spirit which is the word of God she calls unto righteousness 300,000,000 souls. The obedient man shall be victorious, says the Scripture. History has yet to record any act of man inspired or sanctioned by the Catholic church that might be construed against nation or individual. The church has been saved in this by Him who said: "I am with you all days." Long live the grand old church. She has seen the rise and fall of all governments down to our time. Ever ancient, ever new, time writes no wrinkles on her fair brow. Like the milk white hind, she has been doomed to death, but fated not to die. Battle scarred and tempest tossed, no mortal wound can ever be received. She stands today the great bulwark of our liberties. She stands for law and order and teaches that all authority is from God. She stands against the disintegration of the family, the family the unit of the state. She stands against the traffic in wives which is doing more harm than the selling of marriages in the temple in Utah.

When that lone traveler from New Zealand shall have finished his sketch of the ruins of St. Paul from that broken arch of London bridge he may come to Boston and from a seat on Bunker hill sketch the ruins of Mrs. Eddy's church and the grand old Catholic church will still be in existence with undiminished rigor, because it is not of human origin but Divine, and the hand of Him who said: "I have conquered the world. The gates of hell shall not prevail against my church and I shall be with you all days, even unto the consummation of the world." It will be in a sense the survival of the fittest.

I am a Roman citizen, was the proud boast of those who lived where the yellow Tiber flows. We, as citizens of the greatest and best republic the sun has ever shone upon, are proud to say, "I am an American citizen." But there is a land that is fairer than this; we are heirs to heaven, our home, our sweetest home beyond the skies, and we are brothers and fellowmen of that King whose term of office never ends and we are proud to say, "I am a Christian and a Catholic." He is our King, our Saviour and Judge. He is the way, the truth and the life. In baptism we took the oath to be defenders of the faith. Christianly has knighthood and we must be "bold, brave, and loyal."

The soldier is trained to service and loyalty; we, the soldiers of Christ are trained to loyalty, loyalty to self, to country and to God. The Catholic school is the nursery of loyalty, the treasure-house of lofty ideals, the teacher of unselfishness that is ever ready to make any sacrifice for humanity, for country and God. Let us then be loyal to self, to country and to God. Let us live for eternity and not for time. Let us remember that it is the things of the soul that bring true happiness in life. Let us remember that we are immortal, our souls made to the image and likeness of God. Let us remember that we are partakers of divine nature and temples of the Holy Ghost, the indwelling of the spirit, not only as an effect of the immensity of God, but also as a token of friendship. To be disloyal means to banish God from the soul and enthrone the world or the flesh or the devil and become what Christ calls a "whited sepulchre," a goodly apple, rotten at the core. The heathens exhausted themselves in the pursuit of the shadows of life, for you dearly beloved brethren, seek first the kingdom of God and his justice and all things shall be added unto you and you will be crowned with eternal life.

Lowell, the city of magnificent churches! Lowell, the home of happiness and virtue! Your lives are, dearly beloved brethren, in pleasant places and today you do honor to your country, to your city, to your church and to your God. These magnificent churches which cap the hills of this fair city are monuments of your generosity and your saving faith. Your magnificent schools and academies speak volumes of your strenuous exertion as good soldiers of Christ. Remember that it is not the hand that holds the sceptre but the heart that breathes the prayer that rules the world. Remember that there are sweeter songs than those of Greece and Rome—the songs of Zion. And there is a Teacher whose principles rest on the everlasting hills and whose heights overlook the eternal day. 'Tis the Master's voice crying out from all the watch towers of Israel: "Show to the world that you are My disciples, by loving one another."

The life of Columbus, Dear Knights of Columbus and Knights of the Holy Name, is a noble example for us all. The difficulties which beset his path here discouraged many a one. But his life was eloquent of the good, the beautiful and the true, of the ethical, the aesthetic and the scientific.

In a word, he labored to be a good soldier of Christ, and his life was a success, honorable and lasting. Let us then—

In the world's broad field of battle, In the bivouac of life, Be not like dumb driven cattle, Be a hero in the strife.

Lives of great men all remind us We can make our lives sublime, And departing, leave behind us Footprints on the sands of time.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Or in cool weather, to make lotion dry more quickly, use 1/2-pint oil hazel instead of the water.
 "This simple, inexpensive lotion far surpasses face powder, as it gives lasting beauty to the skin. It stays on better and does not show on the skin like powder. For whitening and refining a coarse, muddy or yellow skin, this lotion is unequalled. It takes away that shiny look and makes the skin satiny and youthful looking. No beauty seeker should be without this wonderful complexion beautifier, as a few applications will make any face look years younger."

AD AFTER PARADE

Grand Banquet at Associate Hall

The crowning event of the day was the banquet held in Associate hall by the Knights of Columbus at which 500 sat around the festive board, and listened to distinguished and eloquent speakers. The greater number of the knights present were accompanied by their ladies, and the banquet hall in dainty decorations enhanced by the beautiful gowns of the ladies presented a spectacle most pleasing to the eye. The guests assembled in the rooms of the Knights of Columbus and although 7 o'clock was set as the hour for the banquet a delay was occasioned by the non-arrival of Governor Foss, who was expected. Word was received shortly after that hour that he could not attend, but would be represented later in the evening.

PAYS TO SHAMPOO

YOUR OWN HAIR

In a very interesting article in the Los Angeles News, Mae Marlyn, noted authority on beauty topics, says: "Since alkali, as found in soaps and most shampoo preparations, has been found responsible for most hair and scalp troubles, no great care cannot be taken in the matter of shampooing. To those desiring a beautiful head of hair and a perfectly healthy scalp, I recommend the use of plain canthox for shampooing. A teaspoonful dissolved in a cup of hot water makes the most beneficial, satisfactory and least expensive shampoo known to science."
 "This shampoo is a perfect scalp cleanser, and leaves the hair in the brightest, fluffiest condition possible. It never streaks the hair and has the hearty endorsement of all who have tried it."

Scattered among the guests were most of the local Catholic clergy and several from out of town. There was present a delegation of about 30 Nashua Knights of Columbus and their ladies, headed by ex-Mayor Doyle of that city, while Cambridge, Lawrence, Manchester and Boston were also represented.

The seating of the guests and the general direction of the feast was ably attended to by James E. O'Donnell, chairman of the reception committee for the day.

The divine blessing was invoked by Rev. W. George Mullin, and at the conclusion of the feast Grand Knight Heaps called to order and after brief words of welcome introduced as the toastmaster of the evening Mr. John H. Murphy, lecturer of Lowell council.

Toastmaster Murphy's Remarks

Mr. Murphy spoke, in part, as follows:
 "It is hardly necessary for me to state that I appreciate deeply the honor conferred upon me by the committee in charge of the Columbus day celebration in selecting me to act as toastmaster on this auspicious occasion.

This banquet brings to a close our celebration of Columbus day, which was of high order and dignified in every respect. This commemoration of Columbus day may be referred to with pride and rejoinders to the credit and ability of Lowell council.

The event marks the second observance of Columbus day as a legal holiday in Massachusetts and the 419th anniversary of the discovery of America.

We have assembled to commemorate the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus. It is altogether fitting and proper that our organization should take cognizance of this anniversary, for our order has the honor of bearing his name and our members have qualified to bear the title of knight in the order as true followers of Columbus.

The purpose of our organization is the establishment and perpetuation of universal brotherhood, to promote the moral, social and intellectual welfare of our members, to protect and assist the families and dependents of deceased brothers, to teach our members to live in reverence of the Supreme Being and in obedience to his precepts.

The noblest contribution which any organization can make for the benefit of posterity is that of a good character.

The richest bequest which any organization can leave to the youth of tomorrow is that of a spotless and shining example.

We strive to accomplish both and by

WILLIAM J. GARGAN
 Marshal of Holy Name Division

this character and example we endeavor to guide pilgrim mankind to higher levels of existence and by devotion and patience we succeed.

History records nothing more beautiful or inspiring than the organized efforts of men and women throughout the recurring centuries, to lift mankind to a nobler plane; and no fact stands out more boldly from its pages than the influence wielded for good by men

Great Change Produced

Well Known Woman Tells Peculiar Story.

Among the many interesting and remarkable statements made in connection with the introduction of a new tonic, "Tona Vita," now being introduced in Lowell for the first time, by specialists who are sent here for that purpose and who are located at Hull & Lyon's drug store, none is of greater interest than the one made yesterday by Mrs. M. E. Fankner, who is temporarily in this city visiting friends, and whose permanent home is Glendale Apts., Detroit, Mich.

"Last winter I spent three months in Florida visiting my daughter-in-law," said Mrs. Fankner. "While there I contracted a typical case of southern chills and fever, the effects of which left me in a terrible, run-down condition. I was unable to even digest the lightest food, and for months I lived entirely on milk and raw eggs. I was so nervous that I could not sleep at night and always thought I saw things before me during the night. I felt as if every drop of energy I ever had, had left me, and I found it an effort to even dress and undress. I saw four different doctors who treated me for four different diseases, but I seemed to get worse instead of better."

"About four weeks ago a relative from Pittsburgh visited us and after seeing how dreadfully I looked, suggested that I try this new tonic, 'Tona Vita.' I have now taken about two and a half bottles and I can hardly realize that I am as well again as I ever was. I have gained weight and I can now eat so much that I am positively ashamed of myself. My nights are now one solid round of sleep and when I get up in the morning I feel like a new woman. I believe it is the duty of the newspapers to say all they can about this new medicine, for the more people read of it, the more will be benefited by it."

One of the specialists who is here introducing this remarkable tonic said: "The public does not realize what a tremendous number of people among those who live in cities such as Lowell are afflicted with nervous debility in a more or less aggravated form, nor does the public realize the symptoms of this modern plague when they see them. Most of the so-called kidney trouble, nearly all indigestion and fully half of the headaches in Lowell can be attributed solely to nervous debility."

"Those of the public, whether man or woman, who are debilitated and run-down, can see us between 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. at Hull & Lyon's drug store, and we will be glad to explain to them the nature of this preparation."

and women linked together in fraternal unity.

We honor this event and with pride point to the hero of the occasion.

The personality and achievements of Christopher Columbus are of eternal interest to the world.

Volume after volume have been published about him and yet the story of his remarkable life, the descriptions of his strange personality and of his great discovery must ever be new.

It is impossible to lay too much stress upon the importance of the work of Columbus in the discovery of the new world, America. It is the greatest event in the annals of history. Columbus possessed a grand idea and remained true to it.

Can you picture in your own minds this sturdy son of Genoa begging his way from court to court and vainly offering to kings and princes the gift of a new world?

He had those sterling qualities which ever prompted him on in his work, in order that he might give new land and bring greater glory to his sovereign and to crown his life of toil and hardship with laurels long withheld.

Columbus discovered a new world, we that are assembled are a part of it, and while our blessings are many and varied we are grateful above all things that we can worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience.

Mayor Meehan's Remarks

After explaining the unavoidable absence of Governor Foss Toastmaster Murphy proposed the toast, "The City of Lowell" and introduced His Honor, Mayor Meehan. Before the latter arose, the band played "Home Sweet Home," and the guests arising sang a

SHE HAD CONSTANT PAIN

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dewittville, N. Y. — "Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered nearly all the time with head aches, backaches and bearing down pains, and had a continuous pain in my left side. I made me sick if I tried to walk much, and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear corsets all the time. But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. A. A. GILES, Route 44, Dewittville, N. Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company, which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually cures these obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

verse of the good old song which was printed on the medal. Mayor Meehan spoke in part as follows: Allow me to take this occasion to congratulate the Knights of Columbus on the grand success of today's celebration. The parade was indeed a credit to the city of Lowell and every man in it, a credit to the line. The memory of Columbus is now being honored in 29 states. The city of Lowell in her own humble way contributed a substantial sum toward the observance of the day, and the day was truly celebrated. We all owe an undying debt to Columbus for he brought the ends of the earth into communication with each other. The cross raised by Columbus meant opportunity. But for Columbus we would have had no place for the expansion of civil and religious liberty. Lowell is richly endowed by nature and rich in possibilities but we should emulate the example of the cities of the west and boast of our own home town. We should realize our advantages and should have an optimistic spirit of civic pride, appreciative of what Lowell really is. We have no need here for the shiftless overflow of the old world, the law-breaker or the chronic reformer. We should resent all assaults on the fair name of Lowell and have nothing but praise to bestow. We will ever honor the names of Lowell, Jackson and Booth, the founders of Lowell. We have a good working class in Lowell. They want to see the city prosper. There is no reason why the future of Lowell should not be as bright as its brilliant past. Lowell is the haven of all nationalities. Here good for better, ringworm, itching piles, pimples, sores, eruptions, etc. 10c and 25c. Sold by all druggists.

We have churches of all denominations side by side, their aims like the spires pointing in the same direction. Such a city is worth working for, worth striving for. Industry and religion have contributed to the material and moral growth of our city. Without religion prosperity would have been a curse and the shuttles would have woven a flimsy fabric. We are hearing from some of our newspapers and other critics that

Mothers who have watched their babies suffering from eczema will be delighted to know that Comfort Powder which is recommended by so many physicians and nurses has cured many cases of eczema. It stops the itching right away and lets the little one sleep, yet is entirely harmless. All skin irritations, mild rashes and chaffings disappear when Comfort Powder is used. Dr. A. B. Chapin, Aurora, N. C., says: "I cured a child of a very bad case of eczema on the face." — E. S. Sykes

Lowell is not what she ought to be. The city of Lowell is in splendid financial condition, despite what may be said by some in the higher life or by the newspapers. Lowell is $800,000 better off financially than she was 10 years ago. It is a shame to trail the fair name of Lowell in the dust in order to bring about a change in the form of government. There may be need for some slight changes in our present form of government but not to the radical extent that some people desire it. I will tell you what is wrong with Lowell. Our people are crushed with poverty. Men in the Lowell Machine shop are working for 35 cents per day and in the Merrimack mills are laboring with their feet in water for $6 per week. If the board of trade would endeavor to get to the hearts of the directors of these corporations and get living wages for our working people it will accomplish something for the city. Lowell is proud of the Knights of Columbus. An influence for good goes forth from their council chamber which is felt in the city.

Toward the close of his remarks his

he had witnessed in Boston and said that such a demonstration reflected the greatest credit on the state. In the south he said where the cities were fewer and farther apart such big demonstrations were impossible, but the spirit was there. Mr. Mahoner interspersed his remarks with many lu-

in the 15th century, somewhere between the years 1435 and 1445—Irving accepting the former date and John Boyd Thatcher, the latter, Irving the most sympathetic and accurate and discriminating of the biographers of Columbus.

Columbus was born in the splendid city of Genoa, of humble origin, and learned the trade of weaving. Little is known of his parents; and the exact location of his birth is disputed, yet in the day of his glory and wealth and power, relations by the hundred came forward to claim kinship with him.

Columbus received the rudiments of his education probably in the school of his trade guild; but his education in a broader sense came from experience and observation, and such knowledge of letters and science as he possessed in later years must have been acquired from some churchman among his friends, for he showed a familiarity with patristic writings that could only have been derived from ecclesiastically trained men. We know that in his correspondence, Columbus used the Spanish language as his medium of communication; he had little familiarity with Italian and none with the official language of the age, Latin. It is enough to say that Columbus was a man of deeply religious nature, tenacious in purpose, persistent in action, gifted with imagination and inspired by an unquestioning faith in God and his mercies.

Envy, malice, jealousy and intolerance have exhausted all their forces to misrepresent the man and belittle his work, yet he stands forth today as incomparably the greatest man of his age. If men and their work are to be measured by their results, by the benefits they confer upon humanity, I have no hesitation in giving it as my deliberate judgment that Christopher Columbus was one of the greatest figures in human history in all the days that had elapsed between that great tragedy on Calvary and his own death, for the discovery of America has most profoundly affected the history of the world; it was the seed from which grew that human liberty and free government we enjoy today. He gave a new world to the old; he brought to the oppressed people of Europe—and few there were who were not oppressed—a new and virgin land where homes might be made for the homeless, where, far from the heavy hands of kings and persecutors, a man might

The next speaker was Supreme Director Matthias Mahoner, Jr., of Mobile, Ala., who has been attending a meeting of the supreme directors in Boston. Mr. Mahoner was introduced to speak to the toast "Our Order."

Owing to the fact that he was obliged

He was the man delegated by the supreme grand knight to institute the first council of Knights of Columbus in Cuba, and is well known in the order throughout the country. He spoke, in part, as follows:

It was only 10 years ago that our order came to Mobile and yet in that short time we of Mobile have raised a council of 400 members and have our own building. The Knights of Columbus have done more to show that Catholics can be good, honest citizens than any others. Such fraternal organizations make us know each other better, know that we have the same blood, the same ideals. Wherever the great American flag flies, there the Knights of Columbus go. The spirit is there. We of the south are benighted by knowing the New England Yankee split. The men of the north and south for many years had considered themselves very different but now through the agency of such organizations as the Knights of Columbus they know better, and the establishment of the Knights of Columbus in the southland has done much to cement the friendship of north and south. Mr. Mahoner then referred to the great parade more references, particularly to his southern dialect, of which he said he was proud as it was the only one he ever had. He told of an attempt which he made to imitate the northern dialect on an old colored man in Boston when after talking about 20 words the old colored man remarked: "I reckon you're a south sinit you?" In conclusion he said I am particularly interested in Lowell because Lowell is the centre of the cotton industry and I was born and raised on a cotton plantation which I now have the misfortune to own and I am going to sell you cotton at 34 cents instead of 15 cents although I don't expect to get my cloth any cheaper for doing it. On Face and Scalp. Dry, Scaly, Itching and Burning. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and After a Few Days, Eczema Was Cured.

"I suffered from the early part of December until nearly the beginning of March with severe skin eruptions on my face and scalp. At first I treated it as a trivial matter, but after having used castile soap, medicated washes, acid cream, vasoline cream, etc., I found no relief. Then I read of Cuticura and decided to try it. After that, I diagnosed my case as eczema, because of its dry, scaly appearance. The itching and burning of my scalp became so intense that I thought I should go mad, having not slept regularly for months past only at intervals, waking up now and then because of the burning and itching of my skin. Having read different testimonials of Cuticura, I decided to purchase a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. After using them for a few days I recognized a marked change in my condition. I bought about two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and five cakes of Cuticura Soap in all, and after a few days I was entirely free from the itching and burning. My eczema was entirely cured, all due to using Cuticura Soap and Ointment daily. Hereafter I will never be without a cake of Cuticura Soap on my washstand. I hope you will publish my letter so that others may learn of Cuticura Remedies and be cured. (Signed) Dr. M. Shaw, c/o Paymaster, Pier 55, N. R., New York City, June 2, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the skin and hair, will be sent, postpaid, on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 123, Boston.

EUGENE C. QUEENAN

Appointed City Messenger by Mayor Meehan

Mayor Meehan today appointed Eugene Queenan, employed at the Smart Clothes shop and a former member of the school board, as acting city messenger, and he immediately qualified and began his duties.

The common council will meet this evening and in all probability will take some action on the matter, but there will be no opportunity for a concurrent vote as the aldermen will not meet despite the popular impression that both branches would meet this evening. The council will hold an adjourned meeting and the aldermen cannot meet unless called specially by the mayor. The call has not gone forth, and hence there can be no legal meeting.

As has been stated in The Sun previously, the late city messenger was not re-elected this year but was holding over while the name of Owen Monahan lies on the table for the position. Mr. Monahan's name having been sent down in nonconformance. Should the council tonight accept Mr. Monahan's name he would become city messenger for the remainder of the year and Mr. Queenan would have to step out after one day's experience.

But as the mayor has named Mr. Queenan it is assumed by the latter's friends that the democratic members will stand by his honor's appointment in which event 14 republican votes would be necessary to elect Mr. Monahan. But the fact that Mr. Monahan received the democratic strength in the early part of the year convinces some of his friends that there is no reason why the ten democratic councilmen should not vote for him again, in which event only four republican votes would be necessary to elect him. Mr. John McCullough is also a democratic candidate for the position. On the republican end the contest has narrowed down to Homer L. P. Turcotte, assistant city messenger, who has held a position under the city messenger for several years. In the event of Mr. Turcotte getting the common council he has a solid phalanx of nine democrats and no republicans to meet in the upper branch, with five necessary for a choice. As the year is nearing to a close it is doubtful if an election will be brought about and in that event Mr. Queenan will hold the office until the new year.

City Physician Contest

The contest for city physician will come up tonight in the council the aldermen having sent down the name of Dr. F. T. Fiske. The present incumbent, Dr. Foster H. Smith, is also a candidate. Dr. Smith is also prominently mentioned for another position.

$20,000 Sewer Loan

The sewer committee tonight will recommend a loan of $20,000 for the completion of sewer construction this year. The sewer department at present is engaged in Webber and Princeton streets. The street department is working in Dutton and East Merrimack streets. The former job will be completed within a few days and the latter as far as North Howe street is concerned the intensely cold weather arrives.

On Monday the sewer department will resume work on the Lawrence street sewer and will lay a 36-inch brick sewer from South Whipple street to Moore, a distance of 149 feet, at a cost of $15,000. The old sewer, which was laid in 1891, was of 18 and 15-inch pipe.

Public Hall Order

Councilman Chapman has two orders to go into the city council tonight. The first provides for the placing on the ballot at city election by the aldermen the questions as to whether the public wants a public hall in the vicinity of Tower's corner, the vicinity of Merrimack square or the vicinity of city hall. The second order provides for the repeal of the old ordinance calling for the appointment of a public hall commission.

Bath House Order

Councilman Royal's order calling for an estimate on the cost of building a swimming pool, baths and lavatory on the site of the present lighting station at the corner of Cross, Willie and Fletcher streets will come up at this evening's meeting.

Want a Job?

H. B. Pearce, representing the department of the interior at Washington, D. C., has written Superintendent Whitcomb of the school department informing him that there are several good jobs open in the Federal service in the department of Indian schools due to a lack of eligibles. The positions and their pay are as follows: Teacher, $540 to $840 per annum; principal $840 to $1400; physician, $1000 to $1400; carpenter, $600 to $900; disciplinarian, $600 to $1200; farmer, $900 to $1000; expert farmer, $1000 to $1200; dairyman, $600 to $900; engineer, $720 to $1200; matron, $500 to $840; seamstress, $500 to $720. The parents of Lowell need not be unduly alarmed as Supt. Whitcomb has given his word that he will not accept any of them. Owing to the short time that the industrial school has been under way in Lowell he has not yet become proficient in dressmaking or the work of a seamstress, while he has been away from the farm so long that he will hardly go for farm work not to speak of qualifying as an expert and the jobs on the list to which he is eligible do not appeal to him.

SULLIVAN LOST BOUT

Knocked Out by Klaus in Second Round

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Frank Klaus, the bear cat from the Smoky City, who is one of the contenders for the middle-weight title, made Tommy Sullivan of Lawrence stop in the second round of their 12-round bout at the Armory A. A. last night.

Sullivan was substituted for Bob Mohr, who had injured his hand. Sullivan was in pretty good shape, while Klaus looked a bit wilted. Klaus went after Sullivan from the start and as soon as he got in close would bang his right on Sullivan's kidneys.

In both rounds Klaus handled Sullivan that brand of blows a number of times and the only return he got was a few left jabs and a couple of right counters that landed on Klaus' cheek-bone.

Half way through the second round, while Klaus was doing some close-quarter work, he sent a right uppercut to Sullivan's stomach. The latter went to the floor, claiming he had been hit low. The referee took a different view and when Sullivan made no effort to get to his feet Klaus was declared the winner.

The semi-final bout between Joe White and Ed Flynn was fast and warm and at the end of the eighth round it was called a draw.

Joe Moran of South Boston made D. Spurna of the U. S. S. Rhode Island stop in the fifth round of their bout.

The opening bout between Clancy of Somerville was another hot bout,plete with some hard hitting. Clancy was declared the winner at the end of the six rounds.

The program for the meeting next Tuesday night includes a 12-round bout between Battling Nelson and Pal Moore. The six-round "prelims" will be between Joe Walcott and Bob Lee, Kid Lee of Chelsea and Tommy Flanagan and Billy Shea and Tommy O'Connor.

BOUT SNAPPY AND CLOSE

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 12.—There was a very lively bout of six rounds at the Forest City A. C. last evening between "Honey" Melody of Chelsea and Terry Martin of Manchester.

Melody got in the first blow and at the end of the sixth round landed never lugged. Melody had a good lead at the end of the first three rounds and for that time was the aggressor.

Martin then suddenly changed his method of meeting the Chelsea man, and in the fourth round sent Melody to his knees and in the sixth round knocked him through the ropes. Melody took Martin with him, however, by a clinch.

Both hit hard and landed freely, and while Martin seemed to have an advantage on points and because of his leading and landing in the last half, the margin was not great.

The bout ended as it began, with both in the center of the ring.

A Goodyear Welt Shoe contains more value for the money than any other article of daily use you buy.

The masses of the people are wearing better shoes today than ever before.

The United Shoe Machinery Company by steadily reducing the machinery cost of making shoes, improving the machines on which shoes are manufactured, placing them in factories on reasonable terms and giving manufacturers an efficient service has made this possible.

The Boot and Shoe Recorder says: "One day's work will buy a better pair of shoes in the United States than it will anywhere else in the world by more than 30 per cent."

The item of machinery is the only item of cost in the manufacture of shoes which is lower today than in 1899, when the United Shoe Machinery Company was formed.

The products of the shoe factories of Massachusetts have greatly increased in value since the Company was formed in 1899. In 1900 they were valued at $117,000,000; in 1908 (the latest year for which statistics are at hand) at $170,000,000; and that was the year after a panic.

The operatives on the Company's machines in shoe factories are much more regularly employed and receive higher wages than operatives received under the conditions which prevailed before the formation of the Company.

At the New England Fair in the Mechanics Building, Boston, you will see a complete shoe-making plant, with the machines of the Company in actual operation making Goodyear Welt Shoes.

Sixty different machines out of the 300 manufactured by the Company are shown at work there, each needed in the manufacture of a high-grade Goodyear Welt Shoe.

Some of these machines are sold; some are leased; some are sold or leased as the shoe manufacturer may prefer. Most shoe manufacturers had rather lease than buy.

Visit the fair and learn for yourself the terms upon which the shoe manufacturer enjoys the use of each machine.

Some Interesting Facts About the Rival Teams

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The world's championship baseball series about to begin marks the climax of interest in the great American game of baseball. The championship contest comes every year, but is ever new in the intense excitement over the crucial series. Last year Philadelphia and Chicago were the centers of this championship storm, the Philadelphia Athletics of the American league winning the coveted title.

With the world's pennant still flying over their magnificent baseball home at Shibe park at Philadelphia, and with another American league flag freshly won, Connie Mack and his Philadelphia team now meet John J. McGraw and his Giants of the National league. It is the second time that these two generals have clashed over the same great issue. In the war of 1905 McGraw won four of the five battles, and thereby brought to New York a world's pennant. Seasoned by six years more experience in the generalship of their formidable baseball forces, these two baseball leaders now meet again for the championship struggle. Two more divergent types than McGraw and Mack cannot be picked in the baseball world. The contest between the two chiefs may be summed up briefly as follows:

MACK

Aged forty-nine. Born in New England. Tall and lanky. Calm and deliberative. Leads from the bench. Plans battle before game. Never dons a uniform. Known as a tactician.

McGRAW

Aged thirty-eight.

Anty Drudge on Mending.

Mrs. Housewife—"I seem to do nothing but mend and darn all the time. Half the clothes are full of holes after a few washings."

Anty Drudge—"It's the boiling of your clothes in the wash that causes you all this work, Dearie. Boiling weakens them and makes them soft just as it does meat or vegetables. Use Fels-Naptha soap in cold or lukewarm water and the clothes will wear much longer."

Did you ever wear homespun? Probably not, but your parents did. Old-time clothes were coarse and tough, able to stand the boiling and rubbing and pounding of the old-fashioned way of washing.

The delicate fabrics of to-day won't stand it. Perhaps your clothes are boiled and rubbed hard, and that is why they get frayed edges, tear easily, and wear out before their time.

Fels-Naptha soap is the modern way of washing. It cleanses clothes thoroughly in cold or lukewarm water—no boiling, no hard-rubbing, little time.

Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

Born in New York state. Short and chubby. Quick and impulsive. Always on coaching lines. Resorts to quick judgment. Always in bull togs. Distinctly a strategist.

And so on, with finer distinctions, the divergence might be traced and when the problem was finally worked out it would be found that about the only point of intersection in their methods is success.

Cornelius McGillicuddy, so named at birth, but rechristened by the fans as "Connie Mack," has been called the "wizard of baseball" because of his skill in developing seemingly inferior players into superior players. Since he organized the Philadelphia club eleven years ago he has turned out four champion teams in the American league and has led his men close to the front ranks in the league every season but one. His career has been, perhaps, the most successful of any of the so-called bench managers. Sitting back away from the dust of battle, the cool and crafty chief with pencil and score book in hand plots out the progress of the engagement and only occasionally amends the orders he gave his men before he sent them into the field.

McGraw, known to fandom as the Napoleonic leader of the "Giants," has won three league pennants for New York and one world series. Since 1903 his team has never finished below third place in the National league. As a big league player he is a famous product of the old Baltimore Orioles of the National league. When the club broke up after the season of 1902 he came to the metropolis as manager of the Giants. He is, and always has been, a typical player and leader of the old fighting school whose slogan is "Rush in and win."

Whether McGraw can bring his men back to the world-beating class or must let the Macmen possess the big flag for a second successive season, depends in some part upon some of the veterans who won for him the war of 1905.

New York	Philadelphia
Ames, p.	Baker, 3b.
Becker, utility.	Barr, 3b.
Crandall, 2b.	Bender, p.
Doyle, 2b.	Collins, 2b.
Devore, lf.	Coombs, p.
Devlin, utility.	Davis, utility.
Drucke, p.	Danforth, p.
Henzler, ss.	Derrick, utility.
Hart, 3b.	Hartzel, utility.
Hartley, c.	Krause, p.

McGraw, mgr.	Livingston, c.
Meyers, c.	Lord, lf.
Mathewson, p.	Martin, utility.

Paulie, utility.	Murphy, rf.
Shodgrass, cf.	Oldring, cf.
Witte, p.	Plank, p.
Wilson, c.	Strunk, utility.
	Thomas, c.

These 42 men and none other are eligible to play in the present series. It is probable that not more than a dozen from each list will be picked to figure in the crucial games. Of the "Giants" there are three who fought and won in the 1905 series with Philadelphia—Ames, Devlin and Christy Mathewson. Of this veteran trio the last named has been the "chief" pitching mainstay for many years. In three of the four games won from Philadelphia in 1905 he pitched a shutout and was acclaimed the hero of the club. In the past six years he has grown in the confidence of the New York fans, and while his most ardent admirers can hardly expect him to repeat so remarkable an achievement, he is expected to render good account of himself.

Mathewson is a native Pennsylvanian, and for one brief period was a member of the team he now opposes. But for the better part of ten years he has been with the "Giants." He first attracted attention at Bucknell university and his first professional berth was on the Taunton nine of the New England league. Twice the big fellow has pitched no-hit games. In 1905 he was credited with 37 of the "Giants'" victories. He won more than two-thirds of the games he pitched this year. He is 31 years old.

Notwithstanding the confidence still placed in him it is likely that he will have less of a chance to figure as a hero in the present series as his big left-handed pitching mate, "Rube" Marquard, and Matty's junior by 3 years, has won championship distinction. The young "Southpaw," who services cost McGraw $11,000, proved a good investment for it is mainly due to his phenomenal pitching that the "Giants" are in a position to face the "Athletics" for the title. He has won 24 and lost only 6 games this season. Marquard's first professional play was with the Waterloo team of the

Prominent merchant suffered for years. Nothing did him any good till he took this wonderful medicine, which cured him in short order.

"I am glad to tell what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done for me and others. I suffered from dyspepsia for many years, and tried doctors, mineral waters and many drugs to no avail. I read one of your pamphlets which tells what this medicine has done and will do. So I ordered a case from my dealer and it did me so much good that I recommended it to all my friends who were feeling poorly and it has been of such benefit to them that they would not be without it."—M. Villaseca, Opelousas, La.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Is a medicine for all mankind. It corrects the defective digestion of the food, increases the appetite, strengthens the heart, gives force to the circulation, cures throat and lung troubles, and insomnia, and brings restfulness to the brain and nervous forces. It is pleasant to the taste and can be regarded by the most delicate stomach. It has to its credit fifty years of well doing. This is truly a recommendation in itself. Our files contain thousands of letters from men and women in all walks of life testifying to the wonderful cures this great medicinal whiskey has brought about. It will help you—will keep you strong and vigorous.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey that was taxed by the government as a medicine during the Spanish-American war.

Town State league. Later he was with the Canton club of the Central league and was drafted by the Detroit. He turned him over to Indianapolis. He proved the sensation of the American association and it took the big prize named to bring him to New York in 1903. While he possessed all kinds of speed and a varied assortment of curves he was almost a complete failure in his first seasons. But McGraw stuck to him and has been well rewarded.

Leon Ames, who has been on the "Giants'" pitching staff ever since he jumped the New York State league in 1903, and George J. Witte, another former State leaguer, are probably likely candidates for relief work in the box. Otis Crandall is the fifth member of the staff.

There are six of Connie Mack's men who were with him when he fought in vain for the 1905 flag. They are Bender, Plank, Lord, Harrel, Murphy and Harry Davis. Lord and shoulders above them all stands "Chief" Bender, a red-skin of the Chippewa tribe, who was sent to the Carlisle school for his education and promptly evinced his fondness for the great white man's game. After leaving college he joined the Harrisburg, Pa., team, and in 1903 was brought into the big league by Connie Mack. He became one of a famous quintette of twirlers which brought Philadelphia into its second league championship in 1905. In the world series he was the pitching hero of the only game which the "Athletics" took from the "Giants" that year. On the other hand, to him is charged the only defeat suffered by the "Athletics" in the series with Chicago last year, though this came after he had allowed but one hit for eight innings.

With the Indian in the box is, as was the case last year, Jack Coombs, the real hero of the last series. Coombs, known as Mack's "man of iron," won three straight games in the 1910 series, a feat which the Giant Mathewson equaled in 1905. Coombs is 27 years old. He played at Colby college, in Maine, and graduated at once into big league company with the Athletics in 1906. He is exactly the same height as his pitching mate, "Chief" Bender, 6 feet 1 inch. He is a holder of records of one of them being the famous 21-inning victory over Boston in 1907. During the 1910 season he went 53 innings at one stretch without letting an opposing club score on him.

Bender and Coombs will be called upon it is believed to do most of the pitching in the series at hand but as the Giants are said to be weaker before left-handers it is possible that the two "south paws" Plank and Krause will be given a chance to distinguish themselves. Plank was one of a trio of twirlers who won for Philadelphia its first taste of league championship in Mack's second year. Veteran though he is, at the age of 35, he is still able to do effective work.

In cold figures, the records of the pitchers selected for the present series is as follows:

The back-stopping for Philadelphia will be same as last year. Ira Thomas, who took the measure of the famous John Kling, of Chicago, in last year's series, will be first choice behind the bat, and Lapp, who caught one game last year, will be a close second. Lapp is young, and this season's play has improved him.

"Big Chief" Meyers, Wilson and Hartley will catch for the Giants. But it is needless to give biographical sketches of all the newer stars of the forthcoming series. Experts agree that in no wise can the outcome of the series or of a single game be expected to rest with a single player unless it be the pitchers.

Team for team the opponents are as evenly matched as any two that ever fought for the world's title. Experts agree as to this, and recalling their mistaken judgment in picking the Chicago Cubs as a favorite last year, they are eager to play square and declare the outcome of the present series to be a matter of "delightfully doubtful uncertainty."

In the betting, odds have been given in both ways. Local experts look back to the wonderful rush of the "Giants" through the closing stages of the league fight and pin their faith to McGraw's "rush them of their feet" slogan and the pitching of "Rube" and

"Matty" supported by the all round excellence of the team.

Philadelphia supporters take account of the fact that their favorites are already world champions and that they won the title by trouncing the Chicago National League club, which gave New York a close race for the year's league title. They believe that General Mack has plotted out a winning campaign and that his men with an average of 300 at the bat and with what they consider the finest infield in either league, will take world honors as handily as they captured the league pennant this year.

In battling the "Giants" lead the National League at .271, conceding 23 points to the Athletics who lead the American League with .234. In extra base hitting the margin of difference is smaller, but still slightly in favor of the Athletics. In the base running department the experts give advantage to McGraw's men, six of whom are leaders in fleet-footedness among the National League runners. Altogether the men have stolen 346 bases this season as compared with 223 to the credit of the Athletics.

So no comparisons, which made from any angle, see-saw from the "Giants" to the "Athletics" and back again, leaving both forces quite evenly balanced. If the weight of any one player can tip the scale it will be, experts agree, one of the pitching stars.

In at least one respect the series will mark a record in baseball history, for it is estimated that more than twice as many enthusiasts will seek admission to the Polo grounds daily than can be accommodated, and the accommodation will be greater than ever before provided in a baseball park in this country. John T. Brush, owner of the New York club, has replaced the old wooden amphitheatre at the Polo grounds which burned early this season with a mammoth steel and concrete structure, which, when wholly finished, is expected to be the best of the several magnificent baseball parks in the country, and by the extension of outfield bleachers he has provided room, it is estimated, for nearly 50,000 spectators tomorrow.

The number is nearly a third greater than ever witnessed a ball game. Attendance records at the world series and receipts for the past six years compare as follows:

Year	Receipts	Av. Attend. Per Game
1905	$58,436.31	13,341
1906	106,569.04	16,611
1907	101,727.60	15,613
1908	84,975.59	22,063
1909	135,602.50	32,063
1910	178,939.50	24,384

Benjamin F. Shibe, owner of the Philadelphia club, is also preparing to handle a record crowd when the playing of the big games alternates to his new park bearing the family name. The proximity of the two rival cities is expected to cause a daily flock of enthusiasts from one city to the other and by far overtax the capacity of either park.

An interesting lecture will be given this afternoon at the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. by Mrs. Charlotte Davenport, who will take as her text, "Maturity, but Not Decay."

ROBINSON MAY DIE

Brave Act May Cause Man His Life

WALTHAM, Oct. 13.—John H. Robinson, aged 39, a motorman employed by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, was perhaps fatally injured yesterday noon in his efforts to stop a pair of runaway horses attached to a loaded furniture van.

Mr. Robinson was on his way to the car barn about 11.30. When on Main street, nearly opposite 11th street, he saw a pair of horses come dashing out of Rich street. He ran into the street and grabbed the bridle of one of the horses.

The animal's legs tripped Robinson as he fell. He was kicked in the face, and the heavily loaded wagon passed over his legs, breaking both.

The horses were swerved just enough to throw them into a telephone pole and they were caught.

Robinson was picked up unconscious and hurried to the Waltham hospital.

In addition to his broken legs his nose was fractured and he sustained multiple cuts and bruises. It is also feared that he is injured internally.

On a previous occasion Robinson caught a man who had assaulted a policeman and held him until other officers arrived.

RECORD SHOOTING

Company A Made a Score of 673

WAKEFIELD, Oct. 13.—It was a record day at the Day State rifle range yesterday, both in attendance of marksmen and in scores attained. Co. A of Wakefield, which captured the state trophy in the regimental match with a score that at the time was a record for the range, added to its laurels yesterday in the competition of the regimental team winners by distancing all its rivals and setting a new high mark, not only for the range but for the state, it not the world, its total score being 673.

The remarkable nature of this attainment becomes apparent when it is remembered that under the conditions of this match, 10 men on a team, with five shots and one sighting shot, at 200, 500 and 800 yards, the possible is 750. Co. A's record thus is only 77 below possible.

At the different ranges its totals were: 200 yards 212, 500 yards 235, 800 yards 226. Private Reid of A Company, 6th, was high man with 72. The winning team by its victory yesterday receives a special trophy offered by the state.

FELL UNDER TRUCK

Man Met With Serious Injury

WORCESTER, Oct. 13.—Joseph Archambeau, 2 Sutton lane, was run over and dangerously injured yesterday by a heavily loaded motor truck in Sutton while assisting his employer, Henry J. Masse, 84 South Gate street, in moving a load of furniture.

With another helper he jumped off the car as they were climbing a steep hill. At the top of the hill he tried to jump aboard while the auto was in motion and fell under the forward wheel, which passed over him.

The left leg was broken, painful bruises and cuts were inflicted about the face and he suffered severely from shock. Neither of the physicians in West Upton could be reached and it was almost an hour before an auto could be brought to the scene.

Archambeau was brought to City hospital then in a weakened condition and his name was put on the dangerous list.

WOMAN A SUICIDE

She Was Despondent Over Ill Health

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—Despondent because of poor health, Jennie Sorota, aged 28, a lodger at 78 Lawrence avenue, committed suicide yesterday morning by inhaling illuminating gas in her room.

The young woman was a lodger in the flat of Harry Greenberg, where she had lived for seven months. Of late she had been brooding over her illness and complained to other occupants.

Yesterday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg awoke they smelled gas and traced it to the woman's room. A physician was summoned, but it was found that the young woman had been dead some time. Medical Examiner Timothy Leary was summoned and after an investigation pronounced death due to suicide. The young woman came from Russia about nine years ago and was employed as a buttonhole maker.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

WINS IN CALIFORNIA BY MARGIN OF 1678

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Woman suffrage has triumphed in California. Returns late yesterday wiped out the majority previously recorded against the amendment and since this turn the margin in favor of the amendment has increased steadily.

Totals last night were: For suffrage, 119,086; against 117,405. Majority for the amendment 1678.

These figures represent the returns from 274 precincts out of a total of 321 in the state. Virtually all of the remaining precincts are in counties which have given suffrage majorities.

So overwhelming was the vote in favor of the other important amendments, the initiative and referendum, and the recall, including the judiciary, that tabulation was suspended with nearly a third of the precincts remaining unreported. The final count taken showed the following results:

For the initiative and referendum 128,181; against 44,550.

For the recall 148,572; against 46,290.

Monster Columbus Day Parade Was Held in Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—Thirty-five thousand men marched past half a million spectators yesterday afternoon in Boston's second celebration of Columbus day. More than 300 organizations, forming five divisions of the civic parade, headed by a military escort and stepping to the strains of nearly 80 bands, participated in the demonstration to the discoverer of the western world.

At four reviewing stands leading executives of church, state and city, with Lieut. Col. John H. Dunn, chief marshal of the parade, stood while ranks of men filed past in salute for nearly four hours. The sidewalks along the route of the procession, from its beginning to its end, were packed, windows were crowded, and the very roofs were fringed with people who clapped and cheered as the ranks marched by. The weather was almost perfect for both marchers and spectators.

Many Social Features

Interesting features followed one another in quick succession. While the parade was essentially a civic one, the presence of the military escort and of uniformed semi-military bodies at frequent intervals prevented the succession of the thousands of dark clad men with their white gloves and Columbus day souvenir buttons on coat lapels from growing at any time monotonous.

A score of artistic floats, decked with flowers and ribbons and peopled by men, women and children in costumes of centuries that are past, were in line, illustrating for the most part historical incidents connected with the adventures and discoveries of Columbus. Hundreds of large American flags and ensigns waved in advance of the marching societies, and the ranks were brightened by small pennants or national flags carried by each man.

Marchers Show Rare Training

In their precision of movement the societies displayed the result of weeks of training. Praise for the alignment kept by most of the civilian bodies was voiced everywhere. The various divisions compared favorably with the first military division in this respect.

The parade started at the corner of Haverford and Beacon streets and took the following route: Beacon to Tremont, to Court, to Washington, to

Gov. Foss and his staff occupied the first reviewing stand at the state house. At the next, on Tremont, opposite West, Archbishop O'Connell and Bishop Anderson, with 50 of the monsignori and pastors of the archdiocese, greeted the paraders. Mayor Fitzgerald, members of the city council, the national officers of the Knights of Columbus and 1200 other people were in the third grandstand. Chief Marshal Dunn and his staff were at the final reviewing point.

THE LOSS IS $5000

Japannery at Mansfield Badly Damaged

MANSFIELD, Oct. 13.—The Riverside Japannery, one of Mansfield's large plants, last night was damaged nearly $5000 by fire. About 10 o'clock Watchman Leitwick discovered flames pouring from the building containing oils and varnishes.

An alarm was sounded from box 45 and the entire fire department was soon on the scene. By excellent work the blaze was confined to the oil building, though there was a high wind.

Chief Engineer King put a squad of men on the main plant and protected that and other buildings from flying sparks.

The Riverside Japannery is owned by out-of-town parties with George W. Priest of Newton as manager. The plant has been closed down of late, preparatory to moving the business to Pennsylvania.

Chief King believes last night's fire was due to spontaneous combustion.

TEXTILE BOYS WON

Lawrence Academy Eleven Defeated by Score of 6 to 0

The Lowell Textile school football team defeated the Lawrence academy eleven on the Textile school campus by a score of 6-0. The game was exciting throughout as both teams were fast and heavy and each contributed some thrilling end runs and forward passes. The Textile school team followed the ball more closely and worked the forward pass more successfully than the visitors although the academy eleven's line always managed to tighten up and present a most formidable defense whenever their goal line was threatened.

The game opened with Textile kicking to action on the five-yard line, where the ball was kicked 25 yards. The Textile line was five and Burke was forced to punt to Lamont at the center of the field. The ball alternated from one team to the other and time was called for the period after Lamont, the big Textile fullback, had worked the ball by a series of forward passes, to the visitors' 25-yard line.

In the second period Kelsey missed his try for a goal and the ball was punted to Lamont, who rushed it back to the center of the field. After an exchange of punts, Strauss recovered the ball on a forward pass and reached the opponent's 30-yard line, but the Lawrence Academy line held like a stone wall and were in possession of the ball on their own 25-yard line when time was called.

The third period was practically a duplication of the preceding two as both teams resorted to putting and to the forward pass, and the whistle was blown with the ball in Textile's possession on the opponent's 35-yard line.

After Textile had lost the ball, at the opening of the second period on a fumble, Dover blocked a kick, recovering the ball on the visitors' 12-yard line, and Lamont, in two rushes, took it across for the only touchdown of the game. Schofield kicked the goal. The remainder of the period was a punting duel between Lamont and Burke, with the former excelling.

The playing of Lamont, Hamilton and Strauss was the best for Textile, while Burke and Williams featured for Lawrence Academy.

The line-up:
Textile School Lawrence Academy
Taft (McGowan) le re Bixby
Crane (capt.) lt rt Hammond
Kelsey lf rt Wicks
Dover c Williams
Thompson rz ls Cameron
Washburn rt ls (capt.)
Strauss re ls Miller

The Police and Soldiers Hunting for Him

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—While scores of civilians and policemen, detectives, United States soldiers and police dogs are still hunting for the man who brutally beat Miss Agnes Waugh in a hotel near her home in the Fort Hamilton section of Brooklyn Wednesday evening, the 19-year-old girl victim is hovering between life and death at the Norwegian hospital.

The girl's injuries include a fractured skull, more than a hundred bruises and an injury to her eyes that may cause a loss of sight. She was delirious most of yesterday, and has been continually crying: "That club! Take away that club!"

Police Commissioner Walsh has taken personal charge of the case. The description Miss Waugh could give of her assailant was very meagre. One theory is that the man was a lunatic, previously supposed to be harmless.

STOCK MARKET

WAS STRONG AT THE CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON

Higher Prices Reached in the Final Hour—Some of the Active Stocks Took a Jump—Tobacco Bonds Showed Renewed Strength

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Unusually active trading in American Tobacco issues was the feature of the opening of the stock market today. Within five minutes the four per cent bonds to the value of $1,000,000 changed hands. The opening was a block of $350,000 at 90 1/2, the highest price of the movement. On subsequent transactions the price rose to 90 3/4. The stock market was irregular, with a tendency toward weakness, most of the active issues receding by small fractions.

The enormous absorption of American Tobacco bonds colored reports that the various committees had reached an agreement as to the plans for the disintegration of the company to be presented to court. This belief gave tone to the whole market and the list of active issues showed its hesitation and advanced briskly.

Up to 10:30 o'clock the transactions in the various tobacco bonds aggregated $2,000,000, a rise from 90 1/2 to 92 1/2 for the 4s, 88 1/2 to 91 1/2 for the certificate 1s and 113 1/2 to 114 1/2 for the 5s.

Fluctuations of stocks during the morning were governed largely by the movement of a few securities. American Tobacco bonds, in which speculation has been rampant, active for some time on account of the probability of the dissolution of the company were bought on enormous scale at rising prices. Bonds were firm, prices hardened slowly again after midday but the general inquiry was slight, traders preferring to await new developments before taking an aggressive position in the market. American Beet Sugar rose over a point, establishing a record price.

Individual stocks were marked up from time to time but these special movements were limited to issues which have little speculative following and responded easily to pool manipulation. Expectations of an early dividend attended the rise in American Beet Sugar. Railroad stocks and the more active specialties were devoid of feature during the latter part of the day.

The market closed strong. Increased activity and higher prices characterized the final hour. Some of the active stocks ruled in the neighborhood of a point yesterday's final prices. Tobacco bonds showed renewed strength after their earlier setback and their recovery strengthened the whole list.

Business Conditions

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Despatches to Dun's Review this week from leading trade centers show that there is reasonable expansion in trade in most departments and a better industrial condition. The trend toward improvement at Boston is maintained. Dry goods jobbers report steady demand and the revival in the textile situation. In wool the demand for small lots is steady and prices are firm. Footwear is in better demand for immediate delivery and there is some increase in orders for spring and summer.

Bank exchanges this week at all leading offices in the United States aggregate $2,446,234,723, a decrease compared with the same week last year of 1.6 per cent.

MAN SHOT HIMSELF

Young Lawyer Sends Bullet Into His Brain

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—True to a threat of suicide expressed in a letter written yesterday, Harold Bruff, a young lawyer, was found dead with a bullet hole in his head and a revolver beside him in an uptown hotel yesterday.

The letter was written by Bruff to his brother in Bridgeport, Ct. The brother telephoned his father in Brooklyn, and Bruff Sr., called up the hotel asking if an accident had befallen his son. Acting upon the telephone request hotel attendants forced an entrance to the young man's room and learned for the first time of the shooting. A physician who examined the dead man said he had been in ill health for a long time.

The father and Bridgeport brother later identified the body at the hotel. Harold Bruff was graduated from Yale University in 1905 and from Harvard law school in 1908. The older Bruff said that his son had been in poor health recently in Europe, but without apparent success.

COLUMBUS DAY

The memory and genius of Columbus and the incalculable value of his discovery to humanity in general were eloquently set forth at the banquet of the Knights of Columbus last night, while the celebration as a whole was in every respect creditable to the city and to those who had it in charge. The qualities which enabled Columbus to lift the veil of ocean were held up as an inspiration to all who would win success in the face of great difficulties, while the country he discovered was extolled as the home of freedom, the refuge of the oppressed and the beacon light of the world. One of the speakers at the banquet put it forcibly when he said the day would come when Columbus, Washington and Lincoln would be the trinity of great men honored in the United States.

PREDATORY INTERESTS DEMAND DEFEAT OF FOSS

The money power, the trust power and the ally of both—the republican national party, have all combined to defeat Governor Foss. This explains why the republican press is whooping it up for the republican stripping, Frothingham, and bitterly denouncing Foss without being able to tell the reason why.

The Massachusetts senators are appealed to by the republican leaders to bring this state into line by electing a republican governor. That is why Governor Foss is denounced without cause. It is why the ultra conservative republicans are out for the standpat candidate, to throttle the movement that would revise the tariff downward, and admit food stuffs and raw material free as favored by the democratic platform. Frothingham stands upon a platform of evasion, which means that the trusts and combines, the money power and the railroads will be in the saddle if he be elected. He is but the tool of the most unprogressive element in the republican party. Foss is the leader of the progressive spirit on the democratic side. He has made an excellent governor and if the people care for their own interests or the prosperity of the state they will triumphantly re-elect him in November. With democratic governors in Maine, New Jersey and Connecticut, the republicans are at their wits end to bring back old Massachusetts to the republican column before the presidential election. For this purpose Wall street will exert its influence to break the phalanx of democratic states in New England and Foss is singled out for the attack. Under such circumstances the democrats and independent voters of the Bay State should close their ranks and stand solidly by Governor Foss, who represents progress and popular rights as against the predatory interests of the state and nation.

IS THE MUNICIPAL BOARD TOO SMALL?

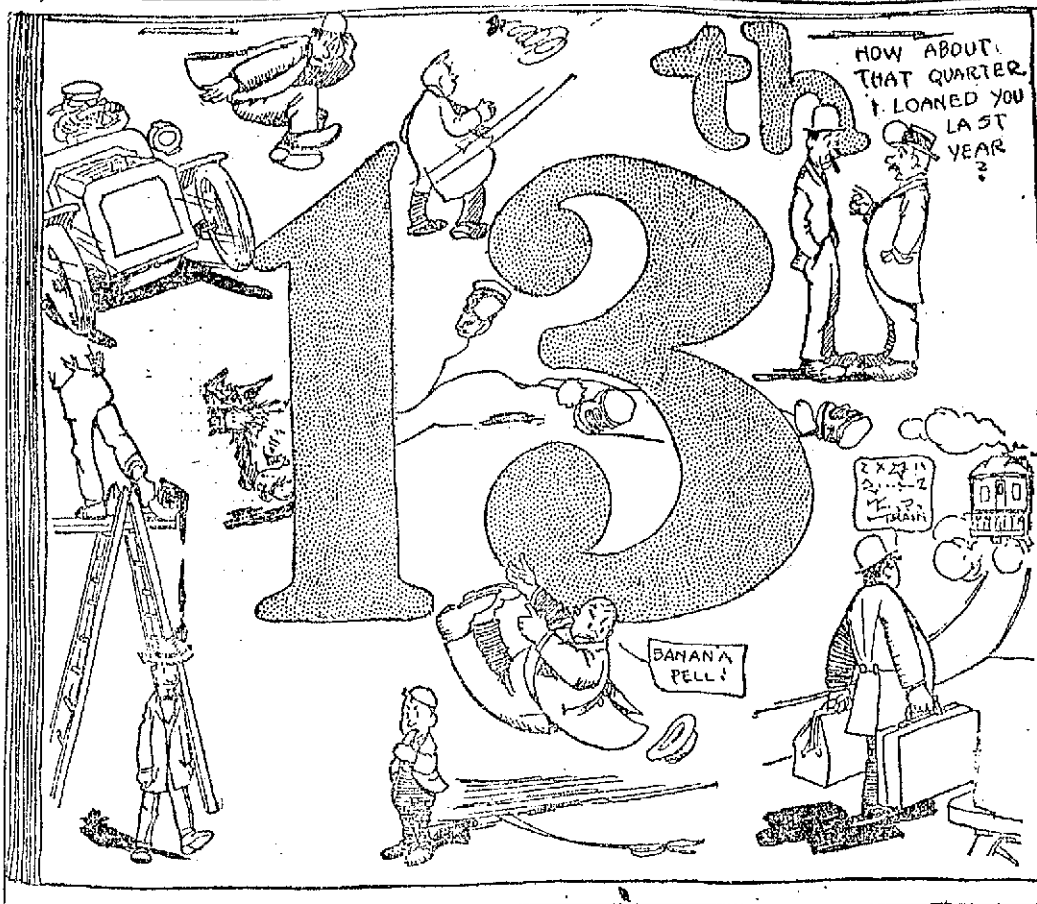

Editor Sun: Do you think it is right to turn the government of this city over to five men? What chance will the children of any poor man have under such a system? The smallness of the board is what the people dislike.

Yours truly,
Sun Reader.

This is the chord upon which the opponents of the charter are mainly harping. To turn the city government over to five men, or three men, under no greater restraint than our present city officials are under would be wrong, absurd and even criminal. But the municipal board of five members, including the mayor, are under the absolute control of the people. If any of the members do wrong one-fifth of the voters can order a special election to remove him from office; if the board refuses to pass measures demanded by the people, the latter by the initiative can force its enactment; if the municipal board passes measures that are regarded as dangerous the people can hold them up by the referendum. No measure passed by the council can take effect in less than ten days after enactment. If a franchise be granted to any company that cannot take effect for thirty days, so that the citizens have ample time to take measures to stop it if they consider it dangerous. Where then is the danger from placing five men in charge of the government, same as a board of directors are in charge of a large corporation? Members of the municipal board are required to give their time to the city's business and are paid for their services. Each member is held strictly responsible for the department specially assigned to him and all are responsible for the general results. The mayor is to have charge of the department of public safety but will have no veto upon the acts of the council. Thus will be overcome for all time the one man power and the deadlocks which caused so much delay in the past and thus the city's business will be promptly attended to and the city's best interests properly protected at all times. What will be the result? The same as in every city in which the new form of charter is adopted—and properly applied—better public service in general, but principally a better and more prompt response to the demands of public necessity in all cases. That would mean a system of public baths, a public hall, a contagious hospital and many public improvements that would never be carried out under our present system unless at the most extravagant expenditure. It would mean that if the departments exceeded their appropriations the commissioners in charge would be liable to a fine of $1000 and one year in jail. That would stop borrowing to meet current expenses and it would therefore put an end to one of the greatest irregularities in connection with our city government.

While the voters hold over the five men the recall, the initiative and referendum, and while any gross irregularity becomes a criminal offense we would like to know how or by what means the five commissioners could menace the public. Moreover the commissioners will be the men the voters want, not the men favored by any coterie. Hence it is absurd to assume that the poor boy has not fully as good a chance as the rich. Everybody who can get a petition signed by twenty-five voters may be a candidate at the preliminary election and the two candidates for any office getting the highest vote will be the nominees. Is there anything unfair in that? The fact is that a whole lot of boys are circulated about this charter and the average voter will be deceived by them unless he judges for himself and rejects the advice of politicians out to defeat the charter for their own selfish ends.

FATEFUL FRIDAY

SEEN AND HEARD

Well, Columbus discovered a great country.

And now the questions are? Who are going to run this great country discovered by Columbus and under what kind of a charter.

Here's one from Jack Chagnon, the well known actor. Jack says: "I was playing a leading part in the lurid melodrama in a New York theatre some years ago when now at the business and before an audience which from orchestra to gallery was fairly cutting up the show. We had a great climax to the third act. The villain is about to choke the heroine when I come in and go to him. We struggle against the wall on which are hanging a pair of crossed swords. The impact of our bodies against the wall aided by the faithful property man behind the scenes causes the swords to fall to the floor within our reach. Immediately we each grab a sword and begin to cut our feet start in on a duel to the end. Just as I was in the act of putting the finishing touches on the villain a kid in the gallery in a voice ringing with excitement cried out in a shrill treble: "Kill the villain!" Just then I stabbed the villain and he fell to the floor of the stage. Up jumps a woman from an orchestra seat crying at the top of her voice: "He done it!" That certain couldn't get down quick enough for that "dead" villain and his slayer."

The Champlain market in Quebec is quite an interesting place. The farmers congregate there at an early hour in the morning with their produce. Each farmer has a stand where he displays and sells his goods at retail. The people come, make their purchases and carry away their supplies in baskets.

Everything is sold at very low prices, almost given away. A pair of fresh killed chickens, for instance, for 25 cents. Judging from the present prices of farm products if we had reciprocity with Canada farming in Canada might be a profitable pursuit.

Have you ever crossed the line between the U. S. and Canada? Our train was held up there for half an hour while the Canadian customs officer passed through the train performing his duty. Most of our baggage had been bonded through but that not bonded was opened and carefully inspected. While this was being done many of our party got off the train and inspected the premises. The boundary line is marked by a stone post, and by sitting on the post you could have one foot in Canada and the other in the U. S. Nearly everybody sat on the post. Mayor Adams of Salem, one of our party, delivered a speech in the U. S. that was heard in Canada. At this point there is a so-called hotel, the "Limo House," part of which is in the U. S. and the rest in Canada. It is said that when there is no license in the Canadian town the bar is moved to the U. S. end of the house, where the business is conducted. Architect Davis of Lowell was very much interested in the plan of the house and made a sketch of it, perhaps with the intention of building a similar one between Lowell and Dracut, should Lowell ever go "No" again. But former Commissioner Beals stated that while it was a pretty good stunt, he didn't think the Lowell police would stand for it here, and he ought to know.

The numbers on the automobiles in Canada are similar to those of Massachusetts, blue background and white figures.

In Montreal the licensed liquor saloons open at 7 a. m. and close at 10 p. m. five nights a week and on Saturdays they close at 7 p. m. The department stores close at 6 p. m. Saturdays.

To those contemplating a trip to Canada the following regarding the customs laws may be interesting: Residents of the United States must declare all articles which have been obtained abroad by purchase or otherwise, whether used or unused, and whether on their persons, in their clothing, or in their baggage. The foreign value of each article, stated in United States money, must also be declared.

Articles taken from the United States and remodeled, repaired, or improved, unless they are declared and the cost of such remodeling, repairing, or improving must be separately stated.

The following articles are dutiable: Household effects, including books, pictures, furniture, table ware, table linen, bed linen and other similar articles, unless used abroad by the owner for a period of a year or more.

Goods in the piece.
Articles of any nature intended for sale, or for other persons.

Personal adornments, jewelry, etc.
Similar personal effects, which may include cameras, cameras, fishing tackle, glasses (field, opera, marine), golf sticks, guns, musical instruments, parasols, photographs, smokers' articles, steamers or rugs and shawls, toys, trunks, valises, etc.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Fall River Globe: While Senator Lodge is on the stump mourning the probable removal of the cotton industry of New England to the south, bag and baggage, in case Gov. Foss is re-elected it might be well for him to tell the voters he is trying to delude why the present tariff hasn't been able to keep the mills running half of the time for year or so, either in New England or the south.

THE HARRIMAN STRIKE

HELPING SOME AGED WORKERS
Drochters Enterprise: The plan of John Hays Hammond, who has provided a "snug harbor" for Gloucester fishermen who have become old and incapable of hard work, has appealed to a lot of people. It is far better than sending them to an almshouse, and the mass of them are good old fellows who have done a lot of hard, grinding work, have encountered danger and privation and have been but poorly paid for it all. The thought will doubtless occur to many people that it would be a fine thing if rich men in every city should provide similar for broken down and poorly paid men who have for almost a lifetime attended to the principal business of their city, whatever it may be. In good sized cities of course it would probably require a combination of a considerable number of men to take care of all the cases that would be found, but in smaller places a man of great wealth could probably handle the cases alone, and make himself a great name by so doing.

ON THE CHARTER

Editor Lowell Sun: Dear Sir—In reference to the new charter, I would like to suggest that if the sponsors of it had made the party commission and police board an issue like the other parts in the elaborate program, there would be no question but it would be voted on favorably. But these are minor details that soon disappear. All these vexed questions of municipal strife would come under the same plan and the same new rule. As it is, there might be a decided improvement on the present system. It cannot be any worse, and there is a chance that our financial condition will show up better and more free from graft and spoil. One thing also very favorable to this new plan is that neither the present city government nor any preceding one has at any time produced any results to show that we are a prosperous or progressive city. We are always borrowing money and have no great bank account for financial purposes. It seems that the city officials were only barely keeping away from the debt limit. Now this is not business, neither is it economy or prudence? The best way to leave all prejudices aside and vote for the charter, as it is, even if it is wanting in some respects. It will be a step nearer the goal of popular and direct government. Any minor defects can be changed later.
A Citizen of Ward 4.

BLAZE IN LAUNDRY

Burned Through Roof of Building

An alarm from box 154 at 5.23 o'clock Wednesday night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the Cushing laundry at 159 Cushing street.

When the firemen arrived on the scene the blaze was breaking through the roof of the wooden frame building. Several lines of hose were laid and after a sharp battle the department had the fire under control.

The blaze was in a most dangerous locality, old wooden buildings being crowded on every available foot of land, and only the prompt work by the fire department prevented a bad conflagration.

Box 5 was rung in immediately after the first box and caused some little apprehension, but the alarm was not necessary.

The laundry was owned and operated by Thomas Scapardas.
A very interesting illustrated lecture on Christopher Columbus was given on Wednesday night at St. Joseph's college. The attendance was very large and the lecture, which was given by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., was very interesting.

STEAMER DISABLED

400 Barrels of Gasoline Were Thrown Overboard

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 13.—Some-where off Portland harbor, probably disabled and at the mercy of wind and wave, the freight steamer Massasoit, bound from Boston for Portland and other Maine ports was struggling today to reach this port. The observer at Portland observatory could see 20 miles but at 10 a. m. could find no trace of the steamer. Neither had she been sighted from Cape Elizabeth life-saving station. The Massasoit's predicament was reported by the steamer Camden, bound from Boston for Portland and Bangor, when she arrived five hours late at Rockland this forenoon. The Camden at 10 o'clock last night found the Massasoit in distress off Cape Elizabeth lightship. Her engines were broken down and the Camden was asked to stand by, which she did for five hours. Failing in an attempt to secure assistance by wireless communication, the Camden decided to come in to Portland for a tug. Outside the harbor she found a tug with a tow and with the tug started back to the Massasoit. The steamer's engines had been repaired temporarily and she was found limping toward port. The Camden then proceeded to Rockland and the tug returned to her tow. The Massasoit had been rolling heavily in the trough of the sea and was helpless when a northwest gale blowing when the Camden came up with her. Her cargo consisted mainly of gasoline, shipped to Searsport. The dockload of 400 barrels of gasoline had been thrown overboard to lighten the ship. The Massasoit was due here at 7 p. m. The fact that she was not visible this forenoon indicated that she had been blown off shore by the gale and had continued northwest. She has a crew of about 20 men.

THREE MEN KILLED

Laborers Were Struck by a Train

CHESTER, Oct. 13.—Train 24 on the B. & A. R. R. struck and killed three men yesterday morning about two miles west of this town. The victims had been employed as laborers by T. J. Walsh of New Haven, who had the contract for straightening rails. They did not hear the train, which was running about 50 miles an hour and was easterly bound.

The dead are Paul Frederick of Pittsfield, aged 40; Louis Wyerous, aged 35, of New Haven, Conn.; and John Ruchels, aged 23, of New Haven. Engineer Hewitt of Pittsfield was in charge of the train, but did not see the men at work on the track, and the express struck them before he could reverse the brakes.

WON THE DECISION OVER HENRY POWERS

LAWRENCE, Oct. 13.—Kid Mercier of this city won the decision over Harry Powers of Brooklyn last night at the end of the 12th round before the members of the Unity club. Powers stalled during the last round and managed to stay.

In the semi-final Tommy Murphy of Lawrence won from Jimmy Quinlan of Danvers after six fast rounds. In the preliminaries Young Vanity of Lawrence and Johnny Cronin of Newburyport drew, and Joe McDonough of Lawrence knocked out Young Sullivan, also of Lawrence, in the third round. James Burke was referee.

SINGHI HAS BEEN FOUND

Former Lowell Man and His Wife Reported Reunited

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—"Ferdinand Singhi and wife have patched matters up. Am on my way home." This dispatch was received from Boston by Captain of Detectives Souder last night and was signed by Detective Coogan of the local detective staff, who located both the son-in-law and grandchild of Sigmund Lubin within five miles of Boston on Wednesday.

PILES DEFY THE KNIFE

THE CAUSE OF THEIR FORMATION STILL REMAINS

One place where surgery fails to bring permanent relief is in the treatment of piles, because even when the evil tumors are cut away, the cause of their formation still remains. That cause is poor circulation. Dr. Leonard's HEM-ROID is the tablet remedy that is taken inwardly and gets right to the inside cause.

HEM-ROID is sold for $1 by Carter & Sherburne Co., Lowell, Mass., and all druggists. Money back if it fails. Dr. Leonard's Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

throughout the country failed to find a trace of the father and child, the case was placed in the hands of the detective bureau.

Monday night Capt. Souder and Detective Coogan discovered the hiding place of an automobile in which Mr. Singhi and his son made a hasty flight to the railroad station. Coogan then went to Boston and learned that the father and child were staying at the home of friends near that city.

Meanwhile Mr. Lubin and Mrs. Singhi, having heard that the objects of their search were in Lowell, Mass., went there, but in vain. They then offered a liberal reward for a clue to the whereabouts of the missing relatives.

On Wednesday, when they returned to Boston, crestfallen over their unsuccessful quest, Detective Coogan met them with the announcement that he had traced the husband and child to a Boston suburb.

Visit Singhi Home

Deputy Sheriff Stiles of Lowell accompanied Sigmund Lubin and his daughter, Mrs. Ferdinand Singhi, to Selectman Singhi's house in Billerica Centre yesterday afternoon. What took place there Mr. Stiles does not know, as he remained outside.

He says no legal documents were served on anyone. Mr. Stiles says no court proceedings have been begun. He went with Mr. Lubin and his daughter at the request of counsel.

(Modes of Today)
Hair on face, neck or arms can be easily and quickly and permanently removed without resorting to the pain or expense attached to the electric needle. A simple powder, known as Delatone, is the new and harmless agent, and anyone troubled with hairy growths should get an original package of Delatone and mix enough with water to cover the hairy surface. Let the paste remain on two or three minutes, then rub it off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone.
Delatone costs a dollar an ounce, but is far cheaper and more satisfactory than anything else on the market as it actually does the work quickly and well and does not scar or mark the skin in any way.

"INARI" BRAND TEA

COFFEE

OUR phenomenal success in building up a wonderful sale for coffee has encouraged us to go into the tea business.

Inari tea is the result of many months' effort in selecting an uncommonly fine grade tea to sell at a popular price. There is character to Inari teas.

Get out of the habit of simply asking for "black" or "green" tea. Call for "Inari Ceylon," "Inari Oolong" or "Inari English Breakfast," whichever you prefer. Each blend represents the finest, most select and most carefully treated tea leaf from the greatest tea countries, India, China and Japan, packed and imported for us direct from the fields in leaden chests. From these the tea is immediately transferred to air-tight tins, in which condition it is sold to you.

Trial Can 10c 1/2 Lb. Can 27c

EVERYBODY knows that coffee prices are higher than they have been in 16 years. Most dealers have advanced their prices many months ago. Up to the present time we have not changed our price, but will be forced to advance it 4 cents beginning next Monday. These few cents do not represent the actual advance in cost to us.

We had to either advance the price or lower the quality of the blend. We built up our business on quality goods, and decided that the public was sufficiently informed regarding the coffee situation and would prefer to pay a few cents more for the same blend rather than buy a poorer coffee at the old price.

This announcement is for the purpose of giving everyone an opportunity to lay in a supply at the old price. Beginning Monday price will be 28c pound, and a further advance may become necessary later.

For Two Days Longer Friday & Saturday Only 24c lb.

THE BOY SCOUTS' WORK

Interesting Meet Was Held at The George Estate

The Boy Scouts of Lowell and Chelmsford held an interesting fair and meet at the George estate at the corner of Thorndike and Chelmsford streets yesterday afternoon and last night. Considerable enthusiasm was displayed during the event.

The meet opened at three o'clock with a flag raising, after which the different troops from the Elliot Congregational, Centralville, North Chelmsford and Chelmsford Central churches were reviewed by representatives of the Boy Scouts of Lowell and Chelmsford, who acted as judges in the selection of the best drilled and neatest appearing patrol.

Each patrol is composed of eight boys and has a leader. The leaders all carried flags on which was the insignia distinguishing them.

The three patrols chosen for the best drilled were the First North Chelmsford patrol, the First Centralville patrol and the Second Elliot patrol. The final decision of the judges gave first place to the Second Elliot patrol.

The next event was a demonstration of first aid to the injured as administered by the Boy Scouts. The North Chelmsford Scouts were chosen to give this exhibition. Small boys were laid out on the lawn for their brother scouts to demonstrate the various methods of inducing artificial respiration in cases of drowning. The Sylvester method was first enacted.

Then came a short demonstration of the system of signaling used by the scouts, the flag system being used and very similar to the system used in the United States army. The next thing in order was an exhibition of the manner in which a patrol of eight boys can encircle a 12-foot wall. The winning patrol composed of Leslie Clark, Dwight Dureth, Charles Barton, Samuel B. Higgins, Ernest Orel, Frederick Pickering, Charles Rogers, and Kenneth Howard, was given a regular scout hat as their prize.

Next came a sack race in which Nelson McChune of the Plymouth troop won first place and Henry Farrell of the same troop won second place. A jackknife was given to the victor in this contest.

A barrel-racing contest followed this. The first heat was between Armstrong of the North Chelmsford troop and Farrell of the Elliot troop, in which Armstrong stood out victorious. The second round was between Titcomb of the Pawtucketville troop and Brown of the Tyngsboro troop.

This left Armstrong and Titcomb as the contestants in the deciding rounds, two out of three being necessary to secure the decision. Armstrong won the first but Titcomb won the last two.

Next came the potato race, in which Charles Mathewson of the Pawtucketville troop and Gilbert Young of the North Chelmsford troop tied for first place. A coin was tossed and Charles Mathewson was given the first prize, a baseball.

The list of sports came to a close with a tug-of-war, the contestants being single patrols and the length of each contest to be twenty seconds. The event was won by the Centralville boys. The prize is a loving cup which can be retained until defeated by another patrol.

The Middlesex County Training School band was present and rendered various selections during the afternoon and evening.

The following was a list of the committees in charge:

Refreshment booth—Mrs. H. W. Chesley chairman, Mrs. J. W. Duncan, Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Mrs. James E. Kibb, Mrs. Cyrus Barton, Mrs. R. McGilough, Mrs. H. Merrill and Mrs. M. Whitten.

Sandwich booth—Mrs. Andrew Rogers, Mrs. Frederick Brooks, Mrs. J. Norris, Mrs. H. Hilton and Miss Armstrong.

Popcorn and peanuts were sold by Earl Leadbetter, Raymond Stevens, Samuel Brainard and Raymond Chesley and a flourishing business was done in this line.

At the supper time a handsome leather traveling bag was given to Mrs. H. D. Chesney by the leaders of the boy scouts.

A vote of thanks was also given to Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Cushing through whose courtesy the grounds were placed at the disposal of the boy scouts for the day.

After supper there was a very clever exhibition of tumbling by Charles Barton and George Teel, who took the customary clown's part in an act as good as is usually seen in the vaudeville houses. Miss Hazel Shirley furnished the piano accompaniment.

The evening came to a grand finale with a very amusing minstrel show.

DANCING PARTY

Held by Notre Dame Alumnae Association

The first social event of the season given by the Notre Dame Alumnae association was held yesterday at the Pawtucket boat house and the affair proved very successful in every detail. The attendance was as large as could be expected and the event was run off in the smoothest way, everyone present enjoying themselves to their heart's content.

From 4 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon there was a dancing party for the children, and the result was great merriment on the part of the young ones. In the evening from 8 until 12, the adults had their turn. Miners' orchestra furnished excellent music for the occasion and informal dancing followed the cards.

Mr. D. S. O'Brien presided over the game of cards and many costly prizes were awarded the winners, and let it be said that the contest was a lively one. The tickets were in charge of John P. Salmon and D. W. Kearney.

The committee in charge: Mrs. Annie T. Coffey, Mrs. William P. Barry, Mrs. Henry L. Rourke, Miss Mary Egan, Miss Marie Marren, Miss Esther Downes, Miss Elizabeth Good, Miss Julia A. Allen, Miss Mary E. Donohue, Miss Molly Sullivan.

In Wasting Diseases Your Weight Is the Index of Your Condition.

If you are suffering from lack of blood, or anemia, read this true story of the symptoms of a typical case and of its cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as related by Miss Kathleen Lee, of Jefferson, Mass.

"Some years ago," she says, "I was run down to a mere shadow through suffering from anemia. I was sick for ten years from the time I was a young girl and was often confined to bed. My lips and ears were without a particle of color and I was pale and thin. I had an awful cough, my nerves were weak and many nights I could not sleep at all. My appetite was poor, my eyes troubled me, there being black clouds before them and I grew very despondent. I had to give up work and was in this condition until about three years ago when I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"I was tested by doctors for a long time but they didn't do me a particle of good. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were recommended to me by a druggist and also by a friend who had used them with benefit. I bought three boxes and after taking them felt so much better that I kept on taking them regularly for quite a while. I couldn't be in better health than I am now and my friends often ask me what has made me look so well. I eat heartily, can do a good day's work and my nerves are strong. Since taking the pills I have increased in weight from 80 to 120 pounds."

There must be no guess work about the treatment of pale, anemic girls. Mistakes or delay in the treatment may result in such a serious impairment of their health that they will be weak and sickly during the rest of their lives. In this disease there is a loss of richness in the blood and an entire inability of the system to make good this loss without careful treatment. The most satisfactory way to give the blood the elements which it lacks is through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A thorough, persistent trial will restore the blood to its normal richness and health.

A new edition of our booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent free on request to any one interested.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

BODY OF AN INFANT

Found Between Mattresses in a House in Elm Street

The police this morning issued a warrant for the arrest of Maria Lima, aged 25 years, of 50 Elm street, it being alleged that she concealed the birth of a child. As soon as the woman's condition warrants she will be placed under arrest and after the police have made a careful investigation a more serious charge may be preferred against her.

The warrant was issued as a result of the police finding the body of an infant between two mattresses in the bed in the room occupied by the woman in Elm street.

People residing in the house knowing the woman's delicate condition notified a physician and the latter after making an investigation became suspicious and notified the police. When the police reached the house yesterday a search resulted in the finding of the body.

MAYOR A DIRECTOR

But Never Visited the Board of Trade

At the banquet of the Knights of Columbus last evening Mayor Meehan in his response to the toast, "The City of Lowell," to use the vernacular "got after the board of trade for its efforts in behalf of the new charter, stating that the board would do better to get to the hearts of the directors of the Lowell corporations, particularly, it is assumed, the Lowell Machine shop and the Merrimack mills, as he mentioned these individual corporations, and bring about living wages instead of trying to change the form of the government of the city. His Honor made the statement that men are working in the machine shop for 45 cents per day, while in the Merrimack men work with their feet in water for $4 per week.

A member of the board of trade, upon learning what His Honor had said, remarked to a reporter this morning: "I don't know how the rest of the crowd took His Honor's remarks, but to me they were a good joke and I enjoyed them. Mayor Meehan has been in office for nearly two years. Every mayor of Lowell becomes a member of the directors of the board of trade, ex-officio, upon his taking of office. The directors of the board of trade held many meetings in the course of the year. Yet in his almost two years as a member of the board of directors we have not had the honor of his presence at a single meeting. Of course I'm not a politician, just a plain business man, but it would seem to me that if such a thing had occurred to the mayor it took him an awful long time to come out with it, and it took him to a funny place to come out with it. A 32 member of the board of directors, why didn't he come to a meeting any time within the past few years and give us the suggestion and not wait until almost election time and then hand it out to the Knights of Columbus with the president of the board of trade present as only a plain, unsuspecting guest? What chance had President Greene or even Alderman Barrett, who I understand was present, to reply to His Honor, for I understand he made references to the city's financial condition that made some believe that he was hitting at the alderman from ward seven. Here's hoping that Mayor Meehan will attend the next meeting of the board of directors of the board of trade and express his views on the province and mission of the board at greater length."

work out his own salvation, enjoy the profits of his toil free from the shadow of the sword and the fear of the despoiler; and where new nations and new governments could arise, based on the liberty and dignity of the man made in the image of his God. If these things, springing from the courage and faith of a man, do not indicate greatness, I do not understand the meaning of the word.

Mr. Smith then reviewed the conditions that existed in Europe in the 16th century.

Letters and art, science and philosophy only reach down remotely and slowly into the life of the common people; the measure of a civilization must be sought in its materials as well as in its ethical expression; it is as necessary to fill the belly of humanity as it is to inspire its soul and stimulate its mind. Man does not live by bread alone, but bread is as necessary to life as less material things.

Outside of the higher life of the civilized centres the mechanic of today lives and is housed better than the noble of the 16th century. Coffee and tea were unknown in northern Europe; tobacco and potatoes were still undiscovered in America. Beef, bread, beer and wine were the staples of the table; eating and drinking were gross; Portugal was the most peaceful, united and best ruled land in Europe; she had driven out the Moor and carried the war into Africa, captured Ceuta and Tangier; and her energies were bent on exploration and discovery. Under the guidance of Henry the Navigator, son of King John and Philippa, daughter of John of Gaunt, time-honored Lancaster—a school of cartography and navigation had been established at Sines on the wild Atlantic coast, where navigators were trained and the energies of the nation directed to the peaceful work of broadening the frontiers of civilization and the extension of knowledge, and there Columbus garnered knowledge and made friends, useful to him in later years. Portugal was doing the real work of civilization in that age; modest English writers will tell you that this was due to the mother of Henry the Navigator, an English princess, who was more French and Flemish than English, and who in all probability could not converse in the tongue of Chaucer.

Navigation was slow and cautious; commerce crept from headland to headland; the Atlantic ocean was still the Sea of Darkness; the Arabs named it; the mariners' compass was unknown; only in 1484 did Martin Behem invent his rude astrolabe to aid the mariner; and only the few credited the sphericity of the earth, for the majority still believed the world was a flat plane over whose edges ships and men might tumble into chaos.

The England of that age was rude, barbarous, ignorant and illiterate; taxation introduced printing; there in 1476 the commerce was feeble; such ships and sailors as she had seldom ventured far; and only when King Henry, imitating the ruler of Portugal, called the Cabots of Venice into his service and comparative peace reigned, did the Englishman begin to learn the business of the sea.

It was a rude, rough, crude, cruel age, slowly awakening to a real knowledge of the purposes of God. War was his occupation and peace merely the price of exhaustion. The discovery of America turned the eyes of the world in a new direction, away from a past dark with bloodshed, tumult, pain and unhappiness, and toward a future whose fruition has materialized many of the fondest hopes of those who dreamed and prayed while Columbus wrought and suffered. This continent, America, is the monument of Columbus, and it is wise and just to should honor the man who gave it to the world.

Major Thomas L. Walsh

of Governor Foss' staff who had just arrived was introduced to speak for the state. On behalf of the chief executive he tendered heartiest congratulations after which he spoke eloquently on the progress of the Catholic citizen in Massachusetts.

Rev. Matthew Gleeson

Rev. Fr. Gleeson was the concluding speaker and his fame had preceded him for he received ovation as he was introduced. Fr. Gleeson was on the card for a toast on "The Church and the Navy" but owing to the lateness of the hour he stated that he would simply give a few interesting and pleasant reminiscences of his trip around the world with the fleet, during which he was chaplain on the flagship "Conestoga." In opening Fr. Gleeson said: "Your lecturer, Mr. Murphy in his invitation impressed on me the domesticity of the married members of Lowell Council, the eligibility and desirability of the bachelors and the beauty, virtue and charm of your ladies and having been here but a short time I am convinced that he has made good." Fr. Gleeson then started his audience around the world with him on the famous trip, referring particularly to the great surprise of the foreigners to find so many Catholics in the navy and to the grand reception accorded the fleet everywhere. In Rio Janeiro he said the Cardinal Archbishop sent word to the Admiral that he would have a mass of Thanksgiving sung as the result of the safe arrival of the fleet and invited the Catholics, if there were any, to attend. Fr. Gleeson said that the committee that called to extend the invitation was most demonstrative in expressing its delight upon learning that the chaplain himself was a Catholic. On the day of the mass Fr. Gleeson went ashore with 800 Catholic sailors, only a portion of the full number with the fleet to attend the mass. Upon arriving at the church they found that its seating capacity was only about 500 while benches that would accommodate about 30 had been reserved for the Catholic sailors. As the sailors marched up to the church the wonderment of the natives knew no bounds and the news spread like wild-fire that the entire American navy was composed of Catholics and was coming ashore to attend mass. Fr. Gleeson's remarks were replete with humorous stories and flashes of wit that kept the audience in roars and when at 11.30 he announced that he would stop on account of the lateness of the hour the audience in one mighty chorus cried out: "Go ahead!" One particularly good story told by Fr. Gleeson referred to a banquet given in Australia to the officers and men at which there was much oratory on the part of the hosts. The mayor of the city made a particularly forcible address in which he compared the two countries and in his final outburst he exclaimed: "We are all grafters like you and we're proud of it."

LIEUT. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL,
Marshal of Knights of Columbus Division

Gleeson, whispering to an Australian official next to him asked: "What did the gentleman mean by 'grafters'?" A "grafter" replied his informant is a man who gets up at four o'clock in the morning and works untiringly tilling the soil and improving the land and the conditions of his home and country, the pioneer and the builder up of country and home.

"I understand," replied Fr. Gleeson, "but the word has a somewhat different meaning in Pittsburgh, Pa." Fr. Gleeson was much impressed with what he saw in the city of Rio Janeiro and in China. Relative to Rio Janeiro he stated that it is a beautiful metropolis, with the finest harbor in the world, the water front of which is reserved for the people. A boulevard a mile and a half long has been cut through the centre of the city and on either side of this the government buildings stand. In regard to China

he stated that it was his belief that in 25 years China will be regarded as a great world power and will no longer fear Russia or Japan. Governmental and social conditions are now in control of honest, well meaning men, educated in Europe, and of the highest type of civilization who are working wonders in bringing China out of the darkness that has enshrouded it in the past. In closing his remarks Fr. Gleeson expressed the hope to see the day when the names of Columbus, Washington and Lincoln will be linked together as the American trinity of immortal fame.

The exercises then closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." An account of the religious services at St. Peter's church in the morning will be found on page five.

SCHOOL CHILDREN

SANG FROM THE STEPS OF CITY HALL

One of the most pleasing features connected with the Columbus day observance yesterday was the singing of national hymns by nearly 1000 school children, who occupied the front steps of city hall. The sight proved to be a wonderful one and the mounting chorus, directed by Mr. Fred O. Blunt, instructor of music, is one that will be long remembered by those who were present. A band accompanied the children. The selections given were "Columbia," Keeler's American hymn, and "The Star Spangled Banner."

GREAT CRISIS

PEKING IS NOW THREATENED BY THE REVOLUTIONISTS

PEKING, Oct. 13.—China today faces an unprecedented crisis. With the spread of revolutionary activity the opinion is gaining ground that the fate of the ruling dynasty hangs in the balance.

The revolution is no longer confined to the central provinces, a thousand miles away from the capital. Peking itself is threatened.

Members of the cabinet admitted today that the garrison here is known to be honeycombed with the revolutionary sentiment. The same condition exists in the two great military posts which guard the capital, Pao Ping Fu and Tien Tsin.

There are still official attempts to minimize the gravity of the situation, but the reports reaching the capital give little basis for hope. Today's news reports that Chou King was in danger and that T. Chang had been taken, that No Chow had fallen and that communication between Hankow and Chang-Shi, the capital of Hunan province was interrupted.

An edict published today offers pardon to all revolutionists "who were coerced into joining the rebellion." The pardon is conditional, however, on their expressing suitable repentance for their defection.

The government today followed up their act of yesterday, casting the veto of Wu Chang by extending the same treatment to General Chang Piao, the commander of the troops in the Wu Chang district, whose this week's outbreak began.

The government, in its reports on the situation, is attempting to convey the impression that the revolutionists are without trained leaders or adequate organization. But the revolutionists have a reliable chief, well versed in military affairs, in General Li Quan Kuo. Secret advice received here indicate, moreover, that Dr. Sun Yat Sen, whom the revolutionists hope to elect president of a Chinese republic, was at Shanghai last week and may be now at the scene of operations at Wu Chang or Hankow.

DARING ROBBERIES

SNEAK THIEVES ARE AT WORK IN PAWTUCKET

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Oct. 13.—A band of sneak thieves has been operating in this city recently and a number of daring robberies have been reported to the policemen at roll call every morning. Efforts are being made to apprehend the thieves.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Grand Union Lodge, I. O. O. F., was held last night in Odd Fellows hall. There was a large attendance of members and considerable routine business was transacted. During the evening degree staff for the Initiatory degree was formed, and much interest was manifested, several visiting brothers making interesting remarks for the good of the order. At the close of the meeting the degree staff had a rehearsal after which ice cream and cake were served under the direction of J. A. Weinbeck, chairman of the good of the order committee.

Rebekah Lodge

The members of Central Valley Rebekah Lodge, No. 137, I. O. O. F., celebrated the 16th anniversary of their lodge at Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street, last night. District Deputy Mrs. Salisbury of Lawrence, Mass., officiated with the following suite: Mrs. Sewell, Mrs. Somerville, Mrs. Hadley, Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Furneaux and Mrs. Longley. Past Grand Salisbury, Somerville, Hargley, Hadley, Cannon of Lawrence and Noble Grands Sisters Thompson and Whiteley and Past Grand Walker of Evening Star lodge of this city were present. An entertainment followed the lodge exercises as follows: Songs, Miss Leona M. Small; recitation, Miss Fifi.

WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP
SHORT HILLS, N. J., Oct. 13.—Three localities were represented when the women gathered for the final round of the national championship at Baltusrol Golf club today. Miss Dorothy Campbell, the wonderful player from Hamilton, Ontario, had to try conclusions with Margaret Curtis of Boston. Another Bostonian, Miss Eleanor Allen, was pitted against Miss Lillian Hyde, the Bay Shore golfer, who from beginning has been the best Metropolitan hope. All save Miss Allen have figured prominently in championship golf. The Hamilton girl is the most conspicuous, being present holder of the British American and Canadian titles, while her opponent has also won the national event.

THE LORIMER CASE
CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—With more than a dozen members and former members of the legislature waiting to go on the witness stand, the United States senate committee which is investigating the Lorimer case prepared today for hearing much testimony. Henry A. Sheppard of Jerseyville, Ill., banker and former member of the legislature, was the first witness on today's list. He was recalled for further examination.

WAS POISONED BY GAS

Lifeless Body of Charles Spencer Found in Workshop Today

A gruesome discovery was made this morning when the lifeless body of Charles A. Spencer, the well known sign painter and decorator, was found in his office. The discovery was made by the deceased's son-in-law, Mr. Earl F. Pruean, and death was caused by accidental gas poisoning.

According to Mr. Pruean's statement to a Sun reporter this morning, Mr. Spencer had sold his establishment to J. H. Martin & Co. two weeks ago, and he worked until last night to finish his many orders on hand. Later in the evening he went to a local theatre with a friend, and as was his custom in many previous occasions, when he was out late, he dropped into his office and slept there over night. When the body was found this morning gas was escaping from a gas radiator and it is presumed that the room being rather cool last night, Mr. Spencer got his radiator going and went to sleep on his couch.

The gas was not burning this morning, and the rubber tubing connecting with the gas jet was somewhat disarranged, affording a large quantity of gas to escape. It was also stated by the deceased's son-in-law that the former had purchased the Cambridge Sign Painting Co. in Cambridge, Mass., and that the deal was to be completed today.

The deceased, whose home was at 613 Westford street, leaves to mourn his loss besides a bereaved wife, two daughters, Marion S., wife of Earl F. Pruean, and Helen F. Spencer. He was 54 years of age.

GIRL KNOCKED DOWN

She Had Narrow Escape From Injury

A little girl, aged about 7 years, narrowly escaped injury this morning when she was knocked down and run over by a bicycle.

A man named Maurice Novel was riding down Tremont street on his bicycle at a moderate rate of speed, and when he reached the corner of Moody street, a little girl left the sidewalk and started off on a run across the street. A collision was unavoidable and the child was thrown to the pavement and run over by the bicycle.

Mr. Novel quickly alighted from his machine but before he reached the little one, she had got up on her feet again without the least scratch, and ran to her home before her name could be learned. The witnesses of the accident were astonished that the child was not injured, for the bi-

SWIMMING POOL

To be Built at Rogers Hall

Clark Joseph Bourke of the inspector of buildings office after a busy day yesterday as one of the Columbus day committee of the Knights of Columbus, encountered a fair sized building boom upon opening his office this morning, for several applications for building permits flooded in on him.

Rogers Hall Gym

The Rogers hall trustees took out an application to build a $25,000 building to be equipped with swimming pool, gymnasium, shower baths, etc., to be built of brick on land adjoining the school buildings. The building will be of two stories, 43 feet 4 inches by 55 feet 2 inches. The swimming pool will be on the first or basement floor and will be 20 by 40 feet. The second floor will be devoted to the gymnasium and hall, the latter to be 40 by 80 feet.

New Residences

Rose Leary took out a permit to change a one-story house in Mt. Washington street into a three flat house at a cost of $2500.

Dr. C. F. Harris will build an eight-room residence in Summit street at the corner of Belmont avenue, of two stories and 33 by 39 feet on dimensions to cost $4500.

Stephen Greene will build a two flat house, five rooms each, building to be 24 by 50 feet in Wilder street at a cost of $3000.

BEACH MURDERED

Capt. Boss Held in Connection With His Death

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 12.—Captain Boss of the coal barge M. M. Redmond of the McCaffrey line, is held by the police pending investigation into the death of Captain Beach, who was also known as Murphy, of the barge John M. Wheeler.

Beach's body was found this morning floating in the water between the barge Redmond and the wharf of a coal yard on Cedar creek. The feet were tied tightly together; a line was about the waist, with the other end tied to the rail of the barge. Over the body was the ladder used as a gangplank from the wharf to the Redmond and another ladder floated nearby. Captain Boss is 39 years old and comes from Perth Amboy, N. J.

BOSTON CONCERN

To Build the Addition to Lamson Co.

The Aberthaw Construction company of Boston has been awarded the contract for the building of a reinforced concrete addition to the plant of the Lamson Consolidated Store Service company, at Lowell. The proposed structure is to extend parallel to the tracks of the Boston and Maine railroad and is to be made absolutely fireproof.

BAG OF CLOTHES

WAS FOUND IN ROAD IN MIDDLESEX STREET

A potato bag containing men's clothing and other wearing apparel was found in the road in Middlesex street, Middlesex Village, early this morning, by a motorman on one of the electric cars of the Bay State Street Railway Co. The bag was turned over to the conductor and the latter gave it to the police upon reaching Northmarket square. The police are of the opinion that the clothes belong to some young men who were probably returning from camp.

A JAIL SENTENCE

Woman Found Guilty of Larceny

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Upon conviction of shoplifting articles to the value of more than $150, Mrs. Mar Burbank, a well known woman of Worcester, was given a sentence of six months in the house of correction by Judge Bennett in the municipal court today. Mrs. Burbank conducts a store in Worcester and for years has been a prominent worker in a Sunday school in that city.

On Tuesday she was arrested for stealing from a department store in this city. Her pastor, Rev. Mr. Ewing of Worcester, reading of the arrest, came to Boston and appeared in court when the woman was placed on trial. Wednesday Mr. Ewing claimed that a terrible mistake had been made and that it was impossible that Mrs. Burbank could be guilty of the charge. Upon being told by the court that Mrs. Burbank had been fined $100 in the same court for a similar offense last spring, a charge that the woman admitted, Mr. Ewing withdrew from the case.

Mrs. Burbank appealed from the sentence today.

TWO ALLEGED "WHITE SLAVERS" HELD FOR TRIAL IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Morris and Lena Cohen are held in $10,000 bail by the United States court on charges of operating in the so called "white slave" traffic. A woman from Hartford, Conn., said to have first hand information regarding the activities of the Cohens, is a material witness against them. The authorities state that upward of 200 girls have been sent to different parts of the country by the Cohens.

THE ITALIAN TROOPS

Have Not Yet Begun March From Tripoli Into the Interior

ROME, Oct. 13 (via frontier).—Although the government considers that the present expedition of 40,000 men will be sufficient for the complete occupation of Tripoli, the ministry of war has prepared for an additional expedition of 15,000 men in case of need. This reserve force is prepared to reach Tripoli within 48 hours.

A report from Tripoli says that Gen. Canova, commander-in-chief of the Italian forces in Tripoli, is awaiting the arrival of the final contingent of the first expedition before he begins an immediate march into the interior. Four aeroplanes have arrived here from France. They will be sent to Tripoli, where it is proposed to make experiments in the use of flying machines in actual warfare. They will be piloted by Italian officers, who will undertake to drop bombs into the enemy's camp.

GRAND RECEPTION

To Duke and Duchess of Connaught

QUEBEC, Oct. 12.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who are to preside over Rideau hall at Ottawa as representatives of King George for the next few years, arrived here last evening and landed this morning. They were accorded just such a reception as might be expected from loyal Canadians to members of the royal household. The streets were gaily decorated and everywhere was manifested the liveliest interest in the reception to the new governor general.

During a reception tendered the new governor general by the people of the city the duke addressed them in part as follows:

"From Saxony and Norman England I bring qualities of courage, perseverance and strength which raised her to her proud position among nations. Here, under the wise rule of statesmen, sometimes of British and sometimes of French descent, Canada has achieved an era of development which is the envy of the world."

"I am proud and happy to have been selected by my king to fill the high office of governor general and to thus be in a position to follow and promote the remarkable progress of your country. That this progress under Divine Providence may be continued and ever increasing is my most heartfelt wish, and I am glad to have the opportunity of expressing it to you on my arrival."

Replying to the address of citizens, the duke said:

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the cordial welcome. In the name of the duchess I also thank you for the graceful expressions with which you have greeted us on arrival on Canadian soil. I shall have pleasure in submitting to the king and queen my assurances of loyalty and attachment to the crown. Our stay in Quebec is necessarily short, but we hope to spend a portion of each year of my stay in Canada in your beautiful city. "Many years have passed since my first visit to Canada. Here long ago I came as a soldier at the outset of my military career to which I have devoted my life. It will be a great pleasure to renew associations of my youth. Although the country may have changed I know Canadian hearts have not changed and I rejoice to think that in coming here I shall find among you some of the old comrades of my time as a subaltern with whom I passed many happy hours."

Honduras and vigorously defended the policy of the administration, which he said "muck raking" journals have labeled "dollar diplomacy."

Broadly speaking, Mr. Taft said, the proposed treaties with these countries before the senate would secure for them a financial interest in the United States which would settle their existing debts on a just basis and which would point the road to peace and prosperity to two republics, rich in natural resources but torn by strife and revolution.

Mr. Taft pointed out the efficacy of a similar arrangement with Santo Domingo, where this government collects the customs and sees that foreign debts are paid, exercising a beneficent supervision that Mr. Taft said has assisted in the rebuilding of Santo Domingo.

Objection to the treaties in the senate, the president said, was based largely on the proposition that this

It is objected that this is "dollar diplomacy," said Mr. Taft, "and that we ought to have none of it. Give a dog a bad name and you know what follows. To call a piece of statecraft 'dollar diplomacy' is to invoke the condemnation of the muck raking journals, whose chief capital is the use of phrases of a lurid character."

It is never safe to bank on a sure thing and as a rule foreign cows grow long horns. National publicity imparts attractiveness to clothing made outside Massachusetts but the SHUMAN Label on a suit or top coat is like a Lowell savings bank account.

The Merrimack Clothing Co. are the local distributors for this reliable make and because of the local conditions our prices are a bit lower than in Boston.

You can deposit $20 or $25 here for a Shuman Suit or top coat and if you change your mind and want your money back next day, it is yours for the asking.

INJURIES FATAL
MAN GAVE UP HIS LIFE TO SAVE OTHERS
BOSTON, Oct. 12.—The successful attempt of John H. Robinson to save from injuries persons watching a parade in Waltham yesterday by stopping a team of runaway horses cost Robinson his life today. Yesterday while watching a parade of the New England Order of the Owls Robinson saw the horses dash through Rich street toward Main street, where there was a group of women and children. He jumped for the bridge of one of the animals, lost his hold and fell under the horse's feet. His weight on the horse's bridge caused the team to crash into a telephone pole, where it was stopped.

A tug and the Whitehead lifesaving station crew were standing by her and advices were received here that she might be floated at high tide. The crew of four men remained aboard. The schooner was loaded with spruce and bound from Bangor to the westward. She was blown ashore in the heavy gale which swept the coast throughout the night.

Eugene G. Russell's Saturday's Special Real Estate Bargains

THE VARNEY RESIDENCE, 378 PARKER STREET, COR. OF PARKER AND RHODORA STREETS WITH 9000 SQUARE FEET OF LAND.

The house is situated on a lot containing 4995 square feet, and the corner lot contains 4077 square feet. The full description of the Varney residence was in last Wednesday's Sun and priced at $6000, with three lots. Today the price with two lots is reduced to $4000.

I HAVE ONLY ONE LOT FOR SALE ON RHODORA STREET AT LESS THAN 20c PER SQUARE FOOT.

And every foot of land on Rhodora street is worth 20c per square foot, for remember that every lot has gas, city water, sewer, concrete sidewalk and edgestones, and Rhodora street has the highest elevation of any street in the city, and is in the best unrestricted residential section of the city of Lowell, without a single exception, and I was going to add (for people of moderate means) but I need not add even that last phrase, for I believe the above is true without any qualifications.

DO YOU WANT to live in the best residential part of the city?
DO YOU WANT to have a key to the finest tennis court in the city free?
DO YOU WANT the best neighbors in the city?
DO YOU WANT to live in the healthiest section of the city?
DO YOU WANT the best lot now for sale on Rhodora street?
DO YOU WANT to buy the best bargain today in real estate in Lowell?

IF YOU DO then buy today this lot on Rhodora street for 15c Per Square Foot, containing 4077 square feet of land, amounting to about $600.

Now we will throw off the odd dollars and cents, making it even money, terms $200 cash on signing of agreements, or order therefore on any savings bank in Lowell, balance $5 or $10 per month, or I will discount 5 per cent. of purchase price for cash.

If you want to make 5c per square foot, or $200 within the next year, you buy this lot on Rhodora street at 15c per square foot, and I am sure you can make a profit for yourself of at least this amount in the next twelve months.

I have seen more than one man make over $200 on a house lot at "The Lowell Highlands," and I paid one shrewd business man of this city just $1000 more than he paid for the same lots at "The Lowell Highlands," and most of these lots were situated on beautiful Rhodora street, which was named after the most beautiful wild flower which grows under God's great canopy of wonderful sky, and used to be found in the greatest abundance where Rhodora street now is.

But man has taken hold and driven out the beautiful flower, "The Rhodora," and in its place has built the most beautiful street in the city, for the homes of people of moderate means.

DO YOU LOVE THE WORD HOME?
Well, I do, and it means a whole lot to each and every one of us.
DO YOU WANT TO OWN YOUR OWN HOME?

Well, if you do, I know of no better way than to buy a house lot at "RUSSELL'S FIRST SATURDAY'S REAL ESTATE BARGAIN."

START YOUR HOME TODAY

If you never start, you will never own your home. The best illustrations I can give you are the men and women who bought a house lot at the Lowell Highlands five years ago, more or less, over 20 of them, and today are not only living in their own homes, but some of them have their own homes all paid for, while each and everyone of them have made big and substantial reductions on what they owed when they first bought their residences.

Owning a home, a man desires to save. Women, your husbands spend money foolishly; husbands, do your wives spend money which you would like to save? If they do, urge them to buy a house or house lot at the Lowell Highlands. Take the Highland car, get off at the corner of Parker and Stevens streets and look at the beautiful houses and house-lots at the LOWELL HIGHLANDS, and see the low prices, and number of feet all marked in plain figures. Think the matter over, and if there is one there that you are interested in, ask RUSSELL about it and remember you can own that lot or that house if you want to, if it is not previously sold, but if you want a lot on Rhodora street, for 15 cents per sq. foot, you will have to "ask Russell" quickly, for there are only a few more not already sold and only one lot at less than 20 cents per square foot. I own only three lots on Rhodora street, but I own a few choice corner lots on Wedge street at 15 cents per sq. foot, which is the street with the costliest house at the Lowell Highlands, and is destined to be the best street there, with the finest view without an exception in the city of Lowell.

Remember your last chance, on Saturday, at 9 a. m. to get a lot on Rhodora street for 15c per sq. foot, at my office, and if this lot is not sold before 9 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 14th, the lot will be withdrawn from sale at this place, and the price raised to 20 cents per sq. foot.

HOUSE LOTS AT THE "LOWELL HIGHLANDS" SELL THEMSELVES

Go up there and look at them. See for yourself what they are. There is a sign on every lot not already sold, giving the number of lot, also number of feet of land and price per foot.

Not a single restriction is placed on this land as the owners are all such as need no restrictions, as they restrict themselves. Look at the 20 houses already built and occupied. There is an exceptional opportunity to secure your choice, and remember I will sell these lots on
